TRI-SYNOD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CONCLAVE TO TAKE UP MONOGAMY AT SESSIONS

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—A study of monogamy as a scientific achievement in marriage will be presented to the tri-synod Presbyterian church conclave, representing 109,000 parishioners in California and Arizona, at the opening session here tonight.

Monogamy, described as the continued love of married persons throughout their lives, was outlined in a treatise introduced at a pre-synod conference by Dr. C. A. Spaulding of Santa Barbara, member of the national Presbyterian committee of marriage, divorce and re-marriage.

Dr. Spaulding's treatise contained essays by a number of scientists and church authorities.

"From these divergent opinions," he declared, "I have concluded that monogamy has a scientific basis as the highest form of evolution, and represents man's triumph over his beastial instincts.

"The main trouble with marriage is that too many self-appointed moralists have flooded the market with their personal criticisms without the facts, forgetting that scientific and spiritual achievements are the same thing."

The seven-day conclave will be attended by 858 ministers from 449 churches. Moderators of three synods, Rev. Frank Silsley of the California Presbyterians, Rev. W. H. McPeak of California United Presbyterians and Rev. C. A. Cuggar of Arizona will officiate at the opening services.. A series of laymen's meetings will begin tomorrow.

REQUESTS IN COUNTY BUDGET FAR BELOW EXPENDITURES OF THOSE OF LAST FISCAL YEAR

ALTHOUGH IN EVERY instance the requests for allowances in making the county budget for the year 1930-31 are not specifically set forth, the total requests made and the indicated needs, as based on expenditures for the year that has just closed, reach the sum of $7,754,635.41 on the budget sheets prepared by the various department heads and presented for the action of the county board of supervisors through County Auditor W. C. Jerome.

This figure, which is lower than the total asked and allowed last year—$8,466,600—is subject to increase as a group of departments, including the board of supervisors, court house and grounds, grand jury, county courts and miscellaneous, have no figures set up on the sheets for estimated requirements and the totals expended last year were used in arriving at the grand total.

Several additional items appear on the budget sheets this year, including veterans' welfare and county planning commission. Departments showing heavy increases are noted as flood control and elections. Last year $15,800 was asked for flood control, while this year the request totals $60,850. Election requests last year were $18,050, while this year that division, because of the primary and general election, has estimated requirements amounting to $52,900.

Budget Requests

The actual budget requests listed on the sheets, to which the supervisors devoting considerable thought and study, total $7,565,302.99. The actual expenses for last year of the following divisions—board of supervisors, grand jury, constables, courthouse and grounds, superior courts, justice courts, game warden, care and evamination of insane and miscellaneous—amounting to $189,332.42, were added to the above figure to get the indicated grand total of $7,754,635.41.

Additional proof of the fact that the greatest portion of county taxes are expended for education and roads is seen in the fact that the bulk of the requested amounts is included in the school and road funds. These two amount to a total of $6,183,999, of which $1,988,347 is requested by the road department, and $4,195,652 is required for county schools. The school amounts are divided as follows: elementary and kindergarten, $2,095,881; high schools, $1,809,092; junior colleges, $290,679.

Auto License Fund

Indications that the county expects to distribute a larger share of the auto license tax to cities throughout the county next year, were seen in connection with the set up of the auto license fund, which shows a tentative reserve for assistance to cities of $117,368. This fund also lists various

FLOODS IN INDIA MENACE KARACHI

KARACHI, India, July 24.—(UP)—Serious floods were spreading through the upper Sind today.

Shikapur and Larkana were evacuated Wednesday night when alarming breaks occurred in the banks of the Indus and adjoining canals.

Karachi was partly flooded.

All telegraph service to the interior has been suspended since 1 a. m. because of damage to the main cables. Crops were damaged to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Three relief trains crowded with refugess arrived here today. The flooded condition of this city makes it impossible to house many more, but they keep coming.

HOOVER-YOUNG BRIDGE GROUP RESUMES MEET

Engineering Data Submitted By Experts for Proposed Bay Structure

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—(UP)—The Hoover-Young bay bridge commission resumed its executive sessions today, when they were to hear from several professional sources more engineering data.

Most of yesterday's session was taken up with a report of borings along the various proposed routes. On the Rincon Hill-Alameda route, bedrock was found 1400 feet from the west shore at a depth of 223 feet, for the first pier. For the second, another 1400 feet out, rock was found at 50 feet. These piers would support the longest span.

Engineers drilled 300 feet from the Alameda side without reaching bedrock, the commission was told, but pilings can be used successfully. On the Rincon Hill-Goat Island route, rock was found at a depth of 150 feet between the west slope and the island.

Lester Ready, engineer for hte state railroad commission, said that a double deck bridge will be necessary to handle increased traffic. There would be six lanes above for passenger automobiles, four below for trucks and two on the lower level for electric trains.

With 4,500,000 automobiles crossing the bay during 1929, Ready said, the earnings from the bridge would more than justify its erection.

HERE IS LIST OF THOSE WHO WILL REGISTER YOU TO VOTE

With registrations being made rapidly throughout the county in the past three days, County Clerk J. M. Backs again issued another warning to those who have not registered that Saturday is the last day on which they can get their names on the great register for voting at the primaries.

The clerk will keep his office open in the afternoon and as late in the evening as interest in registering at his office justifies. He said he would stay until midnight if there was a rush.

He pointed out that in Santa Ana there are some 30 registrars who stand ready to help register those who have neglected this important act. If necessary the registrars will call at homes to make registrations.

Among those who are legally competent to represent the clerk in official registration of residents in Santa Ana are the following:

Clara E. Bullock, 515 E. Walnut, who has a stand on West Fourth street for accommodation of those who may be down town; Dollkins B. Sawdey, 1423 W. Fourth street; R. R. Smith, 120 W. Third; Clara B. GARDENER BURNED TO DEATH IN SANTA ANA CANYON BLAZE

500 Acres Of Bryant Ranch Burned Over

Charred Body Is Found By State Forest Ranger From Orange

CHARLES LIVERMORE, 34, gardener at the Bryant ranch, in the Santa Ana canyon, 20 miles from Santa Ana, was burned to death yesterday afternoon, in a range fire that swept over more than 500 acres of the ranch before it was brought under control by scores of volunteer fire fighters.

How Livermore was caught in the fire and burned before his comrades could rescue him, had not been explained here today. His charred body was found soon after the fire started.

The body was taken to the Seale funeral parlors at Fullerton, pending an inquest which may be held in San Bernardino county, according to Coroner Charles D. Brown, as the body was found lying in a charred field, just a few feet over the Orange county line.

Coroner Brown today was attempting to communicate with the coroner of San Bernardino county, in an effort to determine the time and place of the inquest.

How the fire started still is a mystery. It was suddenly seen to swoop, like a prairie fire, over the tall grass on the ranch and was completely out of control for several hours before ranch employes banded to beat it out.

The body of Livermore was found by G. A. Sherman, forest ranger of Orange, who was called to the scene soon after the fire started and who directed the men in their fight against the flames.

Livermore was an ex-Canadian soldier. He fought with the 216th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Forces and saw service in a number of important engagements. He enlisted on January 25, 1917, at Quebec.

He had been a gardener at the Bryant ranch for the past several months, going there from the employe of D. Eyman Huff, at Hewes Park, it was reported.

An uncle of the man, M. Inskeep, of San Francisco, wired Coroner Brown this morning that he was on his way to Fullerton to attend the inquest and to make arrangements for the funeral.

SUE OPERATORS OF WRECKED AIRPLANES

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—A motion picture aerial tragedy last January which claimed the lives of ten men, echoed in superior court here today when executors of Kenneth Hawks, film director, sued the Tanner Air livery for $150,000.

The air livery operated the two large airplanes which collided over Point San Vincente while Hawks and a number of employes were filming an air sequence for a motion picture.

HOOVER MEETS G. O. P. LEADERS IN WASHINGTON

Situation Revolving Around Claudius Huston Taken Up at Parley

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(UP)—President Hoover conferred today with two Republican national committee officers who have acted as his emissaries in the situation revolving about Chairman Claudius H. Huston, of the committee, after their return from a secret overnight trip to New York.

James Francis Burke, counsel of the committee, and J. R. Nutt, treasurer, declined to discuss their New York mission, but it was indicated they had met or communicated with Huston, whose resignation had been expected in accordance with a reported understanding that the chairman would resign soon after the senate adjourned. Huston was reported visiting at the home of his friend, J. Henry Rorabach, Connecticut Republican national committeeman, near New York.

The two national committee officers conferred with Mr. Hoover shortly after a breakfast conference between the president and Republican floor leader Watson, who has taken a hand in the Huston matter.

The rapid series of developments here prompted the belief that some definite action might be expected soon. President Hoover was reported by close friends as being ready to act if Huston does not retire voluntarily.

SEEK ACCOMPLICE OF FLINT SLAYER

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—The hunt for a "mystery" accomplice of Frank D. Keaton, slayer of Motley H. Flint in a courtroom here July 14, gained added impetus today when another witness in the case was found by state's attorneys.

The new witness substantiated a story of another previously interviewer, who said he saw a man conversing with Keaton shortly before the latter shot Flint. The man left the court before the shooting, it was stated.

Louis Selznick, film magnate, and Mrs. Selznick, who were involved in the court case in which Flint was testifying just before he was slain, also told of seeing the man police said they had a description of him.

JAPAN EXPECTED TO SIGN NAVAL TREATY

TOKIO, July 24.—(UP)—Emperor Hirohito of Japan had the London naval treaty before him for consideration today, and was expected to refer it to the privy council shortly.

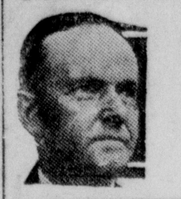

The treaty was submitted to the emperor by Premier Yuko Hamaguchi. After approval by the privy council, which is almost certain, the treaty was believed assured of passage by parliament, despite the strong opposition in naval quarters. The Japanese public heartily favors the treaty, and public opinion was expected to prevail with the members of the parliament.

Widow Sues Son In Hospital Bed

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—Mrs. Laura Jane Kirk, 80, widow of John R. Kirk, inventor of the first farm machinery, today took the first step in a legal battle with her son, Norman T. Kirk, of San Marino, by giving a deposition from a bed in a sanitarium.

Mrs. Kirk was unable to appear in court because of a broken hip which has confined her to the hospital for more than a year. She sued her son for $30,000, claiming she gave it to him to invest for her. Kirk asked for appointment of a guardian for his mother on the ground of incompetency.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 24.—Some say we cannot go on maintaining a higher standard of living for our people than that enjoyed in other nations. We have done so for generations. That is the fact. The theory that it cannot continue may be no better than the theory that it will last indefinitely. Some nation always has taken the lead.

But supposing we shall finally reach the same position as others. That is no reason why we should now relinquish our supremacy and descend to their level. It is our business to make our conditions the best as long as we can. We would not be justified in tamely surrendering our treasure now because at some time it may be exhausted.

To become equal to others we must go down or they must go up. For us to go down would not in itself raise others.

Our example of a free and prosperous people has been the sovereign remedy for world oppression. The truth is our trade regulations are more fair to others than theirs are to us. And what is of chief importance is the great service we render by giving credits and furnishing markets. The higher our stands, the greater our progress, the more we do for the world.

CAROLINA SENATOR FATALLY WOUNDED

MONCKS CORNER, S. C., July 24.—(UP)—State Senator E. J. Dennis, 53, was shot and probably fatally wounded here today in what friends said was the culmination of a political feud of long standing.

"Sporty" Thornley, young Moncks Corner man, was arrested and held on a technical charge pending outcome of Dennis' wounds. The senator was rushed to a hospital at Charleston, where surgeons said there was little hope of recovery. He was shot in the back three times with a shotgun.

CHURCH ISSUES BEING USED IN CANADA BALLOT

Conservatives Making Effort to Win Some of 61 Commons Seats

MONTREAL, Que., July 24.—(UP)—Issues of religion have entered the Canadian general election campaign particulraly in the Province of Quebec, where conservatives are making a determined effort to win some of the 61 seats in commons now held by Liberals.

Prime Minister Taschereau of Quebec, campaigning on behalf of Liberal candidates at L'Angle Gardin charged that the right honorable R. H. Bennett, Conservative leader, was "the right arm of Anderson who took the crucifixes out of our schools."

"Anderson" was the leader of the Conservative government in Saskatchewan, who, according to Taschereau, not only removed crucifixes from the French schools of that province but forbade nuns wearing their traditional religious garb in the school rooms.

Speaking at St. Anne de Beaupre Taschereau appealed to the French speaking people of Quebec to support the Liberal government of Prime Minister MacKenzie King.

P. A. Seguin, a Liberal, at St. Lin, Quebec, in a speech declared:

"Another reason which should induce you to vote in favor of the King government is that it has seven Catholic ministers and the rights of the Catholic population of the country will be well protected."

But, despite the injection of such issues, the tariff and unemployment remain the important questions in the election.

Schedule Resumed After Liner Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24. —(UP)—The around-the-world liner President Polk will sail from here on schedule for Honolulu next Friday afternoon, despite the fire on board which last night killed one man and sent passengers and crew hurrying to the dock.

The victim was A. Martinez, a member of the "black gang" working in the boiler room at the time of the fire. A smouldering rag falling into a pool of waste oil started the blaze.

BENEVENTO, ITALY, July 24.—(UP) — South Central Italy was crushed today beneath the dust and debris of cities and towns in five once flourishing provinces.

In the ruins of these towns, flattened by yesterday's earthquake, were believed to lie the bodies of more than 3700 persons, victims of what may prove to be Italy's most appalling disaster since the Messina tragedy of 1908.

No count of the dead has been bade in many towns, and in others the extent of the tragedy only can be estimated.

Towns Wiped Out

Of some of these towns it can be eruly said that nothing remains. Nothing, that is, but a comparatively few survivors, wandering aimlessly and in a daze, searching for lost families and trying to pick up the threads of existence.

Two-thirds of the population of Villanova-Albanese, two days ago a town of 300, have vanished. That is an estimate but the estimate is born out by soldier-relief workers, digging over the ruins, uncovering the crushed bodies of hundreds, and giving them hasty burial in common graves.

There is no possible method of checking the numbers of dead. Every public building, and with it every record and tally of the inhabitants, is destroyed. The work of burial is necessarily fast, and identification of the bodies almost impossible.

Entire families, asleep when the

Only Two Days Left In Which To Register

There are only two days more on which the citizens of Santa Ana and Orange county can register in order to vote on primary day, August 26th.

It is declared that the percentage of registration in Santa Ana is below that of all the rest of the county.

Whatever may be your thought in regard to candidates, you should be prepared to vote on primary day, and if you haven't registered this year, you must do so in order to be qualified to vote. It takes a little effort, but the right of citizenship is invaluable.

The obligations are great. You will want to do your part in making the selection of candidates. For some of the offices important issues are before the people, and you are needed to help in the decision.

REGISTER Friday without fail.

The Santa Ana High school band, under the direction of Prof. D. C. Cianfoni will conduct a concert at Birch Park, starting at 11 o'clock. This will continue until well into the afternoon.

At Birch Park W. C. Jerome, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will act as chairman and will introduce Mayor Frank L. Purinton, who will deliver the address of welcome. Bert Meek will respond with the dedication address to be followed by Sam Dudlext who will speak on the importance of the early completion of Manchester avenue. Visiting guests then will be introduced.

To Attend Dinner

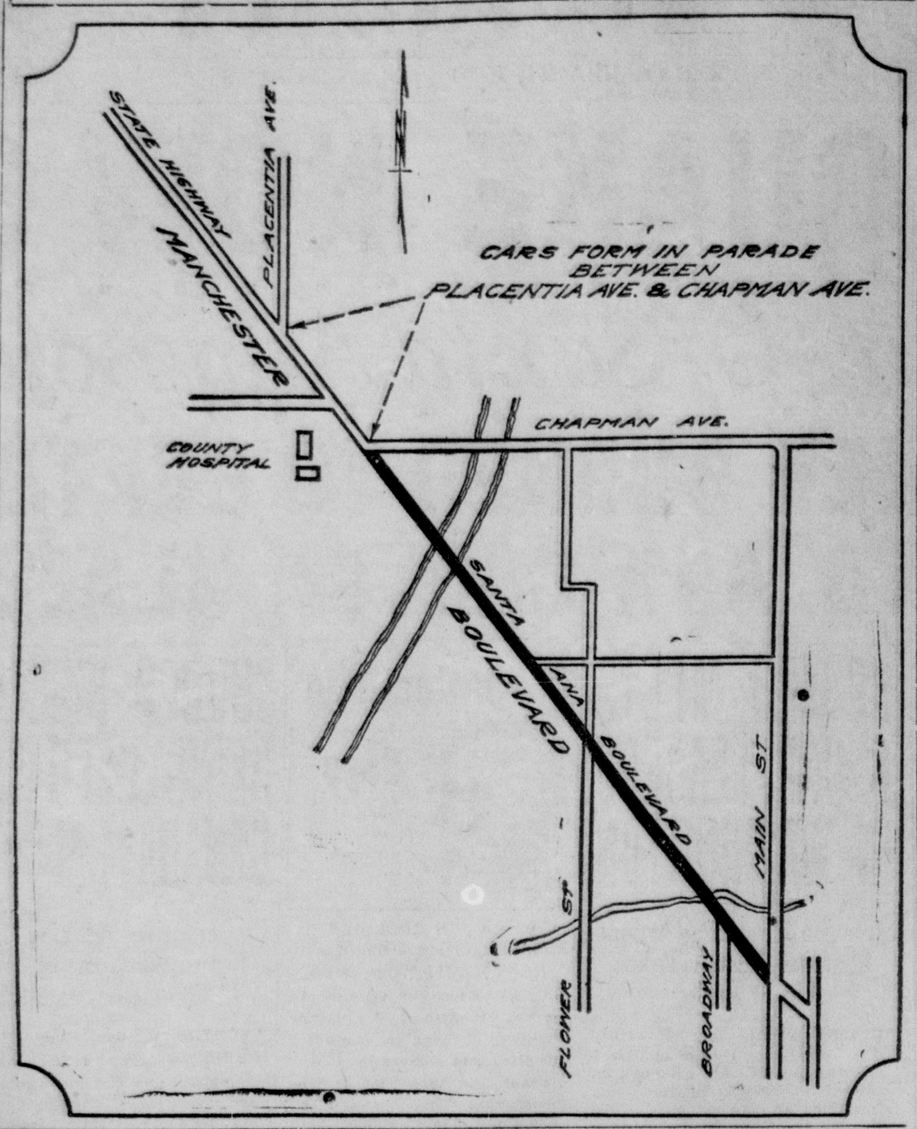

Following the meeting invited guests, city and county officials and editors of the various newspapers in Orange county will attend a dinner at 1 o'clock at St. Ann's inn. Program for the afternoon has not been announced.

Mayor Purinton today issued a proclamation calling on the citizens of the city to decorate the streets through which the parade will proceed on Saturday.

The entire new artery has been completed with the exception of the Flower street bridge which probably will be thrown open to traffic within the next week or ten days.

TESTS ON LIGHT DELAYED DUE TO TUBE ACCIDENT

That Dr. A. A. Michelson, noted Chicago scientist now in Southern California rechecking his tests on the speed of light, will have to remain in the Southland until midwinter was predicted today with the breaking of a special air pump used to draw oxygen from the mile long iron tube on the Irvine ranch south of Santa Ana.

Repairs on the pump will be difficult and further work on the vacuum tube will be delayed until fall. Michelson planned to return to Chicago before winter but announced that he will stay here and complete his experiments.

The tube, situated several miles east of the Martin airport, is the only one of its kind in the world. The method of determining the velocity of light consists of sending a light beam to a revolving mirror, from where it is reflected back and forth. The mirror turns from 500 to 1000 times a second.

First experiments were made on Mt. Wilson in the open air but with the vacuum tube varying air conditions are eliminated and experiments can be made accurately and at any time. Michelson was at the tube nearly a month ago inspecting his instruments.

FULLERTON BOARD ASKS SCHOOL SURVEY

By a vote of four to one, the Fullerton high school and junior college board has voted to ask the county board of supervisors to appoint a committee to make an educational survey looking to the establishment of one junior college in the county. J. A. Prizer, president of the board, was the only member voting against the project.

The Santa Ana board, at a joint meeting with the Fullerton group Tuesday night, voted to ask the supervisors to name such a committee.

The board of supervisors last year in making allowances for unbudgeted reserves, included a sum for possible use in erection of an addition to the court house to relieve congestion there, with the understanding that further amounts would be added in the future until sufficient funds were available to permit the work. In the meantime, however, part of the congestion has been relieved by moving the welfare department and the farm advisors office outside the court house and the immediate need had been alleviated. Members of the board state that while rents remain at the present lvels it would not be good business to consider building an addition to the court house.

The increased item for flood control this year, is due to another investigation that is being made relative to the development of a program for the county. The amount includes $15,000 for consulting engineers, $8000 for field and office expense, $3600 for an engineer, $6750 for assistants engineers, $9,000 for election and $3500 for exploration of a dam site.

The county park fund includes two items of $10,000 each for a storage building and rest rooms.

New equipment for the sheriff is to include gas apparatus, submachine gun and four riot guns.

LIONS CLUB TOLD OF EUROPEAN TRIP

Louis Danz, Anaheim music dealer, today regaled members of the Santa Ana Lions club with some ludicrous situations he observed during a recent trip abroad.

"Snapshots Abroad," is the caption under which the music dealer presents a most interesting and entertaining talk on his tour through European countries. The speaker has a fine sense of humor and the faculty for presenting his observations.

Solo numbers by James Sewell, accompanied by Miss Helen Lutz, were other features presented in a program arranged by Ray Adkinson as program chairman.

KNOWN DEAD IN EARTHQUAKE IS NOW OVER 3700

first violent shock ground their homes to powder, were entombed together. In other cases, sole survivors succeeded miraculously in crawling to safety later to wander, crazed and hysterical, through the ruins.

When I arrived at Villanova-Albanese, soldiers were bringing the dead from the upper strata of debris where they had been pinned. Scores of the victims were crushed beyond recognition. As fast as they were uncovered, the dead were borne on stretchers to the cemetery for burial.

Hundreds of Dead

Even the rapid work of the soldiers, however, could not keep pace with the discovery of more and still more bodies, and as I wandered through the desolate scene, hundreds of dead were still awaiting burial, laid out on long rows of stretchers and covered with cloth.

The suburbs of Villanova, in particular that of Villanova Del Battista, suffered even more complete devastation than the main section of the town. That suburb actually exists no more. It is gone—swallowed up or ground into bits in the jaws of the earthquake.

There was one survivor, 70-year-old Giovanni Albanesi, his entire family of six grown children gone. He has no home. There is one son yet living, but he is in America. Where? Albanesi shakes his head. He does not know, but he thinks it is somewhere in New York state.

That is typical of scores and scores of families.

Plane Passenger Starts Big Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—(UP)—An air tourist was held accountable today for one of several fires that have caused considerable damage in California national forests.

The lookout at Shasta National forest fire post saw a blaze spring up in the wake of an airliner, it was reported to federal forestry authorities. The supposition was that a careless passenger had thrown a lighted cigar or cigaret from the cabin.

Placards warning passengers against the practice have been installed in all liners entering California.

In Mono National forest, a damaging blaze swept a region hitherto thought impervious—the famed asbestos beds. Bare of brush and grass, it had not been thought the region would "feed" a fire, but W. M. Maule, supervisor, reported that it was the worst fire he had ever seen in that region.

DOCTORS SOLVE MIXUP IN BABIES

CHICAGO, July 24. — (UP)— Babies Bamberger and Watkins were roused early today from lullaby land to be nursed and bathed and freshly diapered for the big moment when eight scientists will announce which is who.

The question of "which is who?" became of dramatic importance a little more than a week ago when William Watkins proudly officiated for the first time in the ceremony of bathing the infant brought home from the hospital by his wife. He discovered the baby was labeled "Bamberger." Then Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger found the baby they had was marked "Watkins."

Girl Arrested On Check Charge Free

An 18-year-old girl arrested yesterday by city police on a charge of issuing a fictitious check to the Santa Ana Register, was released from the county jail late yesterday, when The Register decided not to push the case against her.

Police were checking the activities of a 17-year-old boy who had been arrested as an "escape" from the Preston school, and were of the opinion that the youth had cashed the check at The Register. On investigation, it was learned that a girl had appeared with the check and the girl, seen earlier in custody with the youth, was then arrested.

The boy is being held by juvenile authorities on check charges, for the alleged theft of an automobile in Arizona and also for escaping from the juvenile school at Preston.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Individuality is constituted by character. Whatever is innate develops through the experiences and relationships which make up a life. You have had your part in molding the character of the one you love, but God has done everything for that individual which he or she would respond to.

Whether or not the one you love has as yet become all that God and you have hoped, God loves that one as completely as if it were His only child, and He will never permit it to cease to exist.

The individual person persists with the character with which you have become familiar but goes on growing stronger and better. You must keep pace with your dear one by striving to be at your best.

CUNIUS—In Santa Ana, July 23, 1930, Charles H. Cunius, of Laguna Beach. Notice of funeral will be given later by Smith and Tuthill.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement, as expressed by the beautiful floral offerings contributed for the funeral of our beloved son, John Melvin Trushein.

Two new leaders were perched at the top of the two divisions of the Santa Ana Register - Fox West Coast theaters popularity contest today, with the latest counting of votes which took place last night.

Norman Paul, who has been in second place among the boys since the contest opened, went into first place over Mario Merurio, with a lead of some 40,000 votes, while Corrine Pennington went into first place among the girls, some 40,000 votes ahead of Luvina Layton Schade, who has been leading for the past several days.

Other contestants showed remarkable gains over the past several days, Everett Conkright being nearly up with the two first positions and Dorothy Reynolds, of Orange, making rapid strides in the girls' division.

There are 14 in the contest who stand out above the others, all with an equal chance to win. The contest closes exactly one month from today.

The leader will be given the leading part in a big motion picture to be made by the Fox corporation in Santa Ana and pick of the various prizes which have been offered by Santa Ana merchants.

Votes can be obtained through admission tickets to the two Fox theaters (extra ballots being given for this), through the sale of newspaper subscriptions to the Santa Ana Register and through the sale of articles at any of the stores in which merchants in the contest have entered prizes.

FEDERAL BOARD WORK OUTLINED FOR RANCHERS

J. W. James, of Washington, D. C., representative of the Federal Farm board, spoke before a large group of ranchers at a farm bureau meeting in room 11 of the junior college building here last night.

The speaker outlined in his discussion the marketing act which created the Federal Farm board, the purpose of which was to enable producers to market crops collectively. Jones declared that if agriculture was organized, production could be controlled quite easily, whereas now many of the crops are marketed by the individual who has little or no control over production. He went on to say that assistance has been given by the federal board to a number of organizations to enable them to carry out their program of expansion and credit extension.

Speaking of the California Lima Bean association, Jones said that they were in a favorable position in that the area adopted to lima bean culture is quite limited. The board representative emphasized the good results obtained in advertising citrus fruits as a corrective for many ailments.

Earl Campbell, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, acted as chairman of the meeting. J. A. Smiley, executive director of the California Farm Bureau federation, also participated in the meeting.

GORMAN FREE AFTER HEARING IN COURT

Lack of evidence against Ralph Gorman, returned here from Kansas City several days ago to face charges of conspiracy to violate the California Corporate Securities act and selling stock without a permit, caused Justice Kenneth Morrison to dismiss both charges in his court this morning.

Gorman was one of five men wanted here on the charge, but was the only one apprehended. Deputy Sheriff F. W. Howard went back to Missouri and stayed several days while extradition papers were prepared and the prisoner was returned here several days after that.

Program Change Explained At Church Mass Meeting

at a mass meeting held last night by the congregation of the First Christian church, the pastor, the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, presented the proposed "Graded-Unified Service of Worship and Instruction," which had been discussed by leaders of the Christian church for the past two nights. From all three services have come many favorable eractions to the thought of trying this service from October 12 to January 1. Final action will be taken in September. First the official board will decide whether it is favorable, then the Sunday school and congregation will vote class by class using the secret ballot.. If a large enough percentage is favorable at that time, the program will be given a trial for three months, it is said by church leaders.

A detailed statement of the proposed "Graded-Unified Service of Worship and Instruction" is given in this article. "I beg that the public shall not gain the false impression that this is just a question of a different time schedule. That is secondary and many variations of time schedules are used by different congregations. The important thing is the fundamental underlying principles of education procedure. The Santa Ana Christian church is starting a discussion of the same principles but with a different time schedule," said the pastor.

In the course of his talk the Rev. Mr. Minck said, "The important factors center in the worship service, and the united loyalties. At present we ask our people to attend two worship services, one at Sunday school and one at church. Under the new program there is only the worship service and preparation is made for that service in advance during the church school time. Under the present system we ask our pupils to be loyal to a Sunday school, a Christian Endeavor society, and a church. In the past few years the Christian Endeavor and Sunday school has consolidated the organization of the Christian Endeavor and Sunday school. Now we are proposing to eliminate the last division by having beginners church, primary church, junior church, and even cradle roll church.

"Then there will be intermediate, high school, young people's, and adult departments of the Christian church. The last named departments have their choice of coming to worship at 9 o'clock or 11 o'clock. They will not come both times for it will be the same service with the same sermon. It will be noted that the 9 o'clock service will be primarily in charge of the boys and girls and young people. They will take the offering. They will lead in the responsive reading. They will furnish the ushers. They will furnish one of the special musical numbers. Each department will sing a verse of the hymn which was studied the preceding week and which is in keeping with the theme of the worship service. The 11 o'clock service will repeat all of these parts of the worship service under the direction of the pastor.

"Of course it becomes evident at once that a person can come to church at nine and be through at 11 o'clock. But the pastor is urging that this be done only by those who find it more convenient to do so. Some will want to attend church elsewhere at 11 and will come to the Christian church at 9. Some will want to take a trip and will come at nine. Some will want to have their dinner early and will come at nine. Many will have children who are expected at nine and they will of course come with them and go home at 11. However, many will prefer coming to church at 10 and having worship at 11 and going home at 12. It it is just as convenient for a member, I urge them to do this."

When asked why he did not have just one worship service, the Rev. Mr. Minck gave several reasons. "Most churches who have the 'Graded-Unified Service of Worship and Instruction' only have the one worship service. Usually that comes at 9:30. That was not possible here because we have a community men's class that meets at that hour. Until all of the churches in town see fit to adopt this program, if they ever do, it would not be possible for the community class to change time schedule. Moreover, I feel that in all fairness to people they ought to have a chance to choose between at least two hours when they would attend worship. This plan also makes it possible for members of the Christian church to go to the morning service of other congregations at 11 after attending our service at 9 if they so desire. It is also possible for members of other congregations to attend our 9 o'clock service and still get to their Sunday school class and church service," the pastor pointed out.

"This program gives more time for Christian education with the little children. The average child has about 46 hours Sunday school under the present system. Under the proposed program helpful elements such as acting out Bible stories, using hand work, having more stories about the Bible and missions as well as the present period of worship and class instruction. Parents would not think of educating their child with only 48 hours of public school per year. We must face the fact that more time is needed to build Christian character. This longer period will not be tiresome because it is divided by a recess of play or marching and because it has so many new and interesting elements which time forbids under the old system," the speaker explained.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said, "Don't think that we have a 1912 engine under a 1930 hood. The old system of Sunday school departments was adopted in 1912 at Louisville, Key. Don't think we have that old worn out engine under the 1930 hood of a new time schedule. A careful study of the plan will convince you that we have a 1930 engine in our educational and worship program. If we didn't have, I would not spend a minute on the proposed change."

About six congregations in California, including Glendale, Watsonville, Burbank and Figeroua Christian church, Los Angeles, already have programs built on these principles. All have been very successful with no thought of going back to the old. About one hundred congregations in the United States have the program including some congregations of other communions. Most of these are very decided in their intention to continue with the new program. The oldest attempt is 11 years old and it has grown stronger every year, but it took the rest of the Christian world a long time to follow suit, it was revealed during the meeting.

The proposed program in worship and instruction which may adopted in September and May and which may be tried from October 12 to January 1, is as follows:

Proposed program for boys and girls, young people and adults (for 4th graders and older: 9:00 a. m., organ prelude (auditorium), hymns (studied the week before), responsive reading led by the various department on alternating Sundays; prayer; communion (juniors leave here); offering taken by young people; offertory, special by youth; solo or other special from some member of adult choir (which will not be present); sermon by pastor with illustrations adapted to youth.

9:55 a. m., organ recessional for those above the junior department to go to their department.

10:00 to 10:20, preparation for next Sunday's worship. This is led by the various heads of the several departments.

10:25 to 10:55, classes.

10:55, organ prelude for the second church service which is only for those who did not come to the 9:00 a. m. service. Hymns, responsive reading, prayer, communion, offering; anthem by adult choir which was not present at 9 o'clock service. Sermon, the same message as at 9:00 a. m. with older illustrations. 12 o'clock

Proposed program for younger children (for 3rd graders and younger), Cabin Mothers and Babies, mothers and babies in arms will attend either the 9:00 a. m. or the 11:00 a. m. church service. Mrs. Cole's nursery class will be in session from 9:00 a. m. to 10:55 a. m. with two recesses in the form of marches or play.

Beginners' church (4 and 5 years) 9:00 a. m. to 10:55 p. m. with two recesses in the form of marches or play; start with play, worship, new story, hand work, new songs, marching or play, simple acting out of Bible stories, class period, dismissal at 10:55 a. m.

Primary church (1st, 2nd and 3rd grades) 9:00 to 10:55 with recesses or play informal period, worship, class period for new lesson, march or game, rest, new song or scripture missionary story, hand work or simple acting out of Bible stories, room in order, 10:55 a. m. dismissal.

S. A. ATTORNEY EXPLAINS WORK TO LIONS CLUB

ORANGE, July 24.—Sidelights on the workings of the district attorney's office were given by Preston Turner, deputy district attorney at the regular meeting of the Lion's club here yesterday. The racial difference between the attitude of the people in general in this country and the people in general in France and England toward a defendant, was pointed out by the speaker.

In this country, Turner said, there is usually sympathy for the defendant while in France and England such sympathy is not shown until the defendant is proven innocent.

The jury system is the fairest known system by which a man may be tried ,the speaker declared. He gave several examples of cases when juries had returned unexpected verdicts. When one case was tried, he said, the jury was out four days and disagreed and when the same evidence was presented to another jury sitting on the same case, they returned a verdict of guilty in 40 minutes.

H. O. Wallace was program chairman and Ivan Swanger presided at the meeting in the place of the president, Dr. J. E. Riley, who is still in the east. Visiting Lions were George Ash and Ray Atkinson of Santa Ana.

Joe Woodside, club secretary gave an interesting account of his trip to the Lions International convention at Denver. Delegates from the southern part of the state traveled north to San Francisco he said, where they picked up 150 delegates at Oakland. Salt Lake City and Colorado Springs were among the cities visited en route, the Mr. Woodside said.

ROBERT J. LEE STILL MISSING AT LATE HOUR

ORANGE, July 24.—Search for Robert J. Lee, missing from his home, 343 North Olive street, since Friday night, is being continued by his friends here and by police officials of Long Beach, according to J. N. Welker, close friend of the missing man.

When last seen Lee left the office of the Garrish Realty company at Long Beach Saturday evening, after having left this city for La Vida Hot Springs in Carbon canyon Friday. The same evening he telephoned his wife that he would not be home. No one at the Hot Springs can be found who has seen him since he left that place and his movements since he left the Long Beach real estate office cannot be traced.

When last seen Lee was wearing a black suit and a straw hat. He was without a vest and had no luggage with him. He is about 55 years old and has no relatives, with the exception of his wife and a brother who lives in Kentucky.

It is known by friends here that Lee was despondent over the condition of his health, and that he talked continually of seeking relief for his condition at some hot springs resort. He was advised by a physician to walk five miles a day and avoid driving a car, Welker says, and this advice was not pleasing to him.

No reason for Lee's absence can be given by his friends, who think he is a victim of amnesia. Mrs. Lee is reported on the verge of a nervous breakdown as the result of the strain of the past few days.

PLAN EXHIBIT AT OLD STORE OF PARTS FIRM

Formal opening of the new store of Hockaday, Harlow and Phillips at 201 Spurgeon street will be featured tomorrow evening by an automotive exhibit at the old store, 108 South Main street, starting at 6:30 o'clock and continuing to 9, and an entertainment program in the Ray and Burbank building adjoining the old store, starting at 9 and continuing until 10:30 o'clock it was announced today by Harry Harlow, member of the automotive parts firm.

The "clinic" at the old headquarters will include exhibits of many types of automotive parts that will be of interest to motorists, Harlow pointed out.

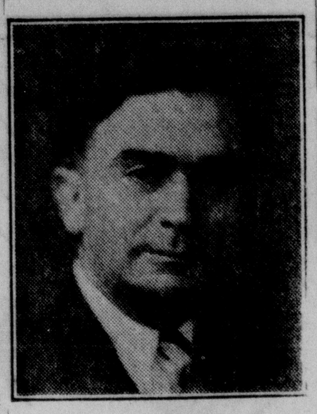

The entertainment program will feature the Haywire band, melody makers of Automotive Booster club B 20 of Southern California, and "Cecil and Sally," of radio fame in "Thirty Minutes in a Broadcast Studio."

Following the program, visitors will repair to the new headquarters at 201 Spurgeon street, where Eugene V. Biscailuz, superintendent of the California state highway patrol, will deliver an address. Refreshments will be served at conclusion.

Robert Hockaday, Harry Harlow and Earl Phillips, who compose the automotive parts firm, have made marked progress in development of their business into a chain store organization, it was pointed out today by friends. They now have stores at Santa Ana, Fullerton, Oceanside, Anaheim, Orange and Whittier. In changing to 201 Spurgeon street, the firm has moved its local store three times, each time into larger quarters. The floor space available in the new building, erected for the firm by William Rohrbacher, is 11,000 square feet.

SPEAKS HERE

Eugene V. Biscailuz, superintendent of the state highway patrol, who will speak tomorrow evening at formal dedication of the new store of Hockaday, Harlow and Phillips.

Police News

CITIZENS MAY USE Y. CABINS IN MOUNTAINS

A change in the schedule of dates for Osceola, the Y. M. C. A. summre camp, will give an opportunity for some people to enjoy a vacation at the camp wyho had not expected to be able to do so.

The shift has been made by combining two of the projected camps for younger boys, so that the "Friendly Indian" camp period will be from August 8 to August 15, instead of one week later. A number of Santa Ana boys have already made reservations for this camp, and there is still room for a few more in the Santa Ana quota. This period at comp is for boys from nine to twelve years of age.

Following the "Friendly Indians," from August 15 to August 26, there is an open period, which will be given to a "family camp" program. The announcement released by Conrad Jongewaard, "Y" secretary at Anaheim, who has the camp in charge, is to the effect that friends of the Y. M. C. A. may take their families to the camp, occupy the comfortable cabins, and make use of all the facilities, getting their meals at the dining room in Lions Lodge, and may stay for as many days as they like during this interval. The cabins will be assigned, so far as they last, one cabin to each family, or to each party. If the cabin accommodations are not sufficient, others can be cared for in tents.

With the improved roads leading to the camp, and with the improvements which have been made in camp equipment, the place has become an ideal location for an outing for people who enjoy the mountains and who like to camp out in comfort, but without all the conveniences of a resort hotel. Two cabins have already been spoken for by Santa Ana parties, and it is expected that more will be required to care for those who wish to take advantage of the opportunity.

PEACE EFFORTS ARE OUTLINED IN RADIO TALK

BY L. L. BEEMAN

We are now ready to take up the disintegration of the empires of Europe and the efforts and plans to stop the war and make peace. In order to make clear certain facts connected with these events, it is necessary to notice a few outstanding military events. In a previous talk, I stated that Germany's only hope for victory over both France and Russia was to make a sudden and ferocious attack on France, capture Paris and win a decisive victory in a very short time and then transfer her army to the east and defeat Russia. The Kaiser boasted that the German army would be in Paris within six weeks. This boast was almost made good. War was declared August 3 and on September 8, five weeks later, the German line was only about 15 miles from Paris.

Strategic Retreat

The French army had done little but make a masterly strategic retreat. France and her allies were greatly frightened. The French government offices were moved to Bordeaux and foreign officials moved out of Paris. General Galieni began preparing the capital of France for a siege. General Joffre was in command of the allied forces. He knew it would be suicidal to stand battle until his armies were well equipped and trained to the new methods of fighting and until his soldiers outnumbered the German soldiers. On September 5, 1914, the English and French lines touched each other for the first time and formed one continuous battle line from the North Sea to Switzerland, a battle line in the shape of a rainbow 600 miles long. On that day General Joffre issued that famous statement, "The hour has come to advance at all costs and to die where you stand rather than give way. My right is giving way, my left is falling back, therefore I attack on the center." Then began the great battle of the Marne. By the 14th of December, the German army had been driven back to the famous Hindenburg line, the nearest point of which was 70 miles from Paris. Losing this battle, the Germans lost the war.

French Fighters

It is interesting to note that in December, 1914, the Belgians held 18 miles, the English 31 miles and the French with two and one-half million men held the remaining 543 miles of that 600 mile battle line. The French had demonstrated their ability to fight and hurl back the most powerful army ever assembled. The battle line remained at about this same place, the Hindenburg line, for three years. Russia got into the action sooner than Germany expected and during the first year gained great victories. During 1915 Germany transferred her major activities to the east to subdue Russia, Roumania and Serbia. This gave the allies time to reorganize, reinforce, and equip their armies. This was fatal to Germany. At the beginning of 1916 the German staff decided just to hold the Russian weakened line and to strike a final irresistable and decisive blow to the Anglo-French armies before they became any stronger. On February, 21, 1916, the Germans opened a most terrific attack on the Verdun sector. On July 1st the Allies took the offensive on the Somme sector. Though they fought desperately they gained little, the Hindenbrug line held.

Little to Fear

By 1917 the Germans had little to fear on the eastern front, because the Russian revolution was beginning and Roumania and Serbia had been completely overcome, and the English-French campaign against Turkey in Gallipoli had completely collapsed. During the winter of 1917, Germany and Austria transferred troops from the eastern to the western front and in March of that year began their last great offensive which lasted till March, 1918, or a year. During this offensive the Germans drove the allied forces back all along the center from Epernay almost to the ocean, over a battle front 200 miles long.

1. Within the first five weeks of the war the German army swept ruthlessly and irresistably to the very gates of Paris at a tremendous cost to France in lives and property.

2. During the fall of 1914 the English, French and Belgians drove the Germans back about 55 miles to the famous Hindenburg line. Although both sides took the offensive at different times, this line held until late in 1917 or for three years.

Reinforce Army

3. In the meantime Russia, Serbia and Roumania in the east had collapsed and the Anglo-French offensive against Turkey in Gallipoli had failed completely. This allowed the Central powers to greatly reinforce their army in France with troops and supplies from the eastern front.

4. The Italian army was overwhelmingly defeated and England and France were compelled to weaken their lines in France to send help to Italy or run the great risk of being attacked in the rear by the victorious Austrian army coming across Italy.

5. The unrestricted submarine warfare of the Germans was playing havoc with allied shipping, sinking vessels by the hundreds, men by the thousands and supplies of inestimable value.

6. Although the United States had come into the war against Germany and it was hoped she would offset the great loss of Russia to the Allies the troops of the United States had not yet done anything, not because they were not willing and anxious, but largely because the English and French who were in superior command feared they would not stand against the tremendous onslaughts of the German army. They had been kept in camp drilling.

Ready For Peace

On December 12, 1916, Germany and Austria announced they were ready to enter into peace negotiations and suggested that delegates meet on some neutral territory for that purpose. The Allies refused because Germany was winning and wanted to dictate the terms of peace. They also felt that the Central Powers were not sincere in their asking for peace but were asking at a time when they knew the Allies would not accept in order to make it appear to the world that the war was being continued by the Allies and to cast reflections on them.

Six days later, December 18, President Wilson sent a note to the belligerent powers and a little later sent Colonel House, his most trusted advisor, to Europe to sound out the peace terms of the warring parties. In his note, President Wilson proposed "peace without victory," that is neither party should dictate the terms of peace because it had won a victory over the other. He also suggested that the nations enter into a league to prevent future wars and that each side state its war aims as a basis for negotiation. The Central Powers refused to state their war aims and refused to consider any method of preventing future wars until the present war was over. The Allies replied through Premier Asquith of England. He said his side was ready to agree to some arrangement to prevent future wars and expressed the war aims o fthe Allies in the three words "restitution, reparations and guarantees."

Explains Plans

On January 22, President Wilson went before the United States senate and explained his plan to establish peace in Europe on five conditions: (1) The peace must recognize and accept the principle governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed. (This is a quotation from Jefferson's Declaration of Independence.) This he said would apply the Monroe Doctrine to the entire world —that no nation should seek to extend its power over any other nation. (2) All nations must avoid entangling alliances with other nations which would draw them into rivalry and war. (3) Freedom of the seas. (4) Reduction of armies and navies to mere police forces. (5) A guarantee for the future peace and security of all nations, by means of some kind of a league of nations.

As soon as the United States declared war, President Wilson assumed to speak for the Allies and for the United States. He declared the United States wanted nothing for herself but would fight to the limit for her resources to destroy German militarism. On January 8, 1918, he went before the United States congress and enlarged upon his five conditions of peace just mentioned by giving his famous 14 points as the basis on which the Allies would accept peace.

REV. TINSLEY TALKS TO CLUB IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 24.—To interpret the new and changing religious thought is the objective of the present day minister in providing a foundation for thought on which the individual may base a decision, according to Rev. George W. Tinsley, pastor of the First Christian church of Fullerton, who delivered the address to the Fullerton Lions club members at their weekly meeting at McFarland's cafe yesterday noon.

"While in many respects religious thought and observance as well as the church have changed in the past 25 years, the fundamental creeds and ideals remain the same," Tinsley pointed out. "The task of a preacher is now not so much a matter of imparting information as of providing facts by which the thought of the individual may be directed."

Rev. Tinsley appealed to his hearers to base their opinions of ministers not on those reformers whose crucades and reforms find sensational publicity, but on the bulk of the profession.

"It Controls the Nerves"

"I am a saleslady in a store. My nerves got the best of me and I never had good finger nails because I could not stop biting them off. My appetite was poor and I was always tired. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I know that it controls the nerves because I have no desire to bite my nails now, and they are long and well kept. My appetite is enormous and I feel like a new person. I have recommended your medicine to many girls with the same good results."—Ethel Fleetwood, 3023 Bandin Street, New Orleans, Louisiana.

TIRE manufacturers the country over have been raising a terrific advertising ado about "Mail Order" tires, so called. "Compare! Compare! Compare!" has been their wail. They have quoted prices purporting to show they have tires that can be bought just as low as Sears, Roebuck's famous ALLSTATES which have rolled in a tidal wave of popularity from coast to coast.

The Reason for All This Is Easy to Find

Put an ALLSTATE Tire on your car and check its service against any other brand you select—at any price. The results will explain one of the greatest tire successes in the industry. It is this ALLSTATE superiority that has increased Sears, Roebuck's tire sales 871 percent during the last six years, while the tire industry as a whole was increasing 35 percent. At this moment Sears, Roebuck sells one out of every ten tires bought for replacement.

It Takes a Mighty Good Tire to Succeed Like That

All along we have told you that ALLSTATES were the greatest money's worth you could find in tires. We have proven that to ourselves by every conceivable test and analysis to which a tire can be put. Now ALLSTATES themselves have proven it to the American motorist by their superior service and unmatched success.

Like all successes ALLSTATES have thrown consternation into the camps of competing tires. Claims have been made! Prices have been quoted! Attacks have been launched! The result has been confusing to the tire buyer.

The Public Is Entitled to the Plain Facts

The reputations of both Sears, Roebuck and of ALLSTATE Tires have been built on honest statements, honest service and honest value. All this flurry by manufacturing competitors is very flattering to us—and we are human enough to love to be flattered. But we cannot enjoy it half so much if we know the public is being confused. So here are the plain facts, plainly stated.

Every major tire manufacturer produces two grades of tires, namely a "first line" and a "second line." The "second line" tires are satisfactory —but naturally the "first line" are a great deal better. Sears, Roebuck is no exception to this. We have two grades—the famous ALLSTATES are "first line"; DEARBORN SR the "second line."

When manufacturing competitors have made price comparisons with ALLSTATES, they invariably have used their "second line" tires for the purpose. It is true their prices are just about the same as ALLSTATE prices. All of which is most complimentary—for ALLSTATES' "first line" standards call for so much more in quality that you cannot help buying them; especially when, as our friendly manufacturing competitors confess, ALLSTATES cost no more than their "second line" tires. On the other hand, if price is a prime consideration, Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR is as good as any "second line" tire to be had, and costs far less.

Here's the Best Advice We Can Give Tire Buyers

All recognized brands are good. But naturally, just as human nature varies, so do tires. Consequently some are better than others. If the "second line" prices are satisfactory, the same amount of money will buy "first line" quality in ALLSTATES with all they provide in the economy of greater service. But, if "second line" serves your purpose, then by all means buy the "second line" tire that costs the least—which is Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR. Our great tire volume, combined with the most economical method of distribution yet devised, makes these savings possible.

But by all means, in comparing tires, compare "first line" with "first line"—and "second line" with "second line." To make it easy for you to do this we are listing precisely which of the best known tires come in each classification.

Best Known "First Line" Tires	Best Known "Second Line" Tires
Goodyear—All Weather	Goodyear—Pathfinder
Goodrich—Silvertown	Goodrich—Cavalier
Firestone—Gum Dipped	Firestone—Oldfield
U. S. Royal	U.S.Rubber Co's Peerless
Sears, Roebuck's ALLSTATE	Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR

ROAD WIDENED IN LIMITS OF SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, July 24.—Work has started on the widening of the state highway within the city limits of San Clemente to a width of 56 feet for a distance of a little more than two miles, and the installation of ornamental lights along this new highway and down Del Mar to the ocean. John Holstrom, vice-president of the Griffith company, Los Angeles, successful bidders on the job at $152,562.74 signed the contract for the work with the city engineer, W. A. Dyer, Tuesday.

In the afternoon C. C. Beaty, foreman for the John R. Davies company, of Los Angeles, winners of the sub-contract for the electric light work, laid pipe to carry current to the standards.

A body of 15 men began work Wednesday on this part of the job which will require the laying of 30,000 feet of pipe and the erection of 174 ornamental light standards.

Dan Mulherron, San Clemente contractor, and one of the bidders on the original contract was awarded a sub-contract on all steam shovel and roller work by the Griffith company. Mulherron's shovel will start work this mornign. The first work calls for the widening of the highway at what is now known as "death curve" and the cutting down of the curve at the north entrance of the city.

By Monday more than 50 men will be at work on the contract which will take about 90 days to finish, according to the Griffth company.

PLACENTIA SCHOOL BOARD BUYS TRUCK

PLACENTIA, July 24. — The Placentia school board gave a contract for a new school bus to the Mack Truck company, at a special board meeting Tuesday evening, ordering a ton and a half chassis.

The chassis will be delivered within ten days, and the special body will be built by the Egge Body works of Santa Ana. It will be equipped with shatterproof glass, and will be reinforced with steel braces. A new and distinctive color scheme will be chosen for the new bus and all the old busses will be painted to correspond. The price for the new bus will be $4847. The board expects to purchase a new bus each year until all the old ones are replaced.

The board also voted to buy a Kellogg compressor, with a one and one-half horsepower motor and all equipment. This will also be used with a spray gun attachment to paint the busses.

Announce Working Date Of Fulllerton Water System

WILL RECEIVE PIPE SHIPMENT ON AUGUST 2

FULLERTON, July 24.—The first unit of the $100,000 water system extension will be started within the next three weeks, with the announcement today that the shipment of pipe purchased by the city of Fullerton is due to dock in San Pedro August 2. The work is to be done under the supervision of the city water department and by local labor.

According to present plans, actual work will begin August 11. The shipment, including about 20,000 feet of 12-inch and 430 feet of 8-inch cast iron pipe, fittings and other equipment, must first be inspected at the docks and then hauled to Fullerton, it was said.

Thme new line, which will serve the western part of the city, will start with a 12-inch main joining the 16-inch main at Ash avenue on Spadra road. It will proceed west to Malden avenue and south to the alley leading west into Valencia drive.

The 12-inch line will be carried west on Valencia drive to Nicholas avenue where it wil lbe turned north to Commonwealth avenue. At this point it will proceed west to Magnolia avenue on Commonwealth avenue and south on Magnolia avenue to Valencia drive where it will terminate.

Lateral mains will connect with present lines at Highland and Walnut avenues to serve the packing house district; at Richman avenue an 8-inch main to connect nect with present 8-inch lines on Commonwealth avenue and North Richman avenue.

Two mains now exist on Commonwealth avenue west of Richman avenue, one 4-inch and one 6-inch line, which will be fed from the new lateral to increase their pressure.

The small lines, three miles in length, serving the extreme western district of the city, have been providing inadequate pressure and service, it was pointed out by City Engineer C. M. Thorpe. The placing of the first new main in this section will augment pressure and service in th eentire western section of tae city, from Highland avenue tothe boundary line.

S. M. Milovich, contractor, who is to put in the sewer and water lines in the Lansdowne No. 1 tract known as Fuller Park, recently annexed by the city, will start work about August 15, it was announced. The work, which is being done under and assesment district plan, will provide a distributing system adequate to offer service from the new mains to be installed to that point by the city, water department officials said.

In the eastern section of the city, expected to be the next unit of the expansion plan to be considered, City Engineer Thorpe has been intructed to estimate costs of a booster pump and elevated tank for North Cypress avenue district.

At present East Chapman avenue is served by a long 6-inch main east from Harvard avenue, which narrows to a four-inch line at Raymond avenue and expands to a six-inch size again at Acacia avenue. This "bottleneck" effect in the pine line cuts pressure materially, engineers declared. Eventually a feeding line east on Commonwealth avenue to connect the Chapman avenue main beyond the small four-inch line is planned in the expansion program, but for the present, the booster pump and elevated tank is expected to provide temporary relief from lack of pressure, which at times leaves some homes almost without water.

Grover L. Walters, water department superintendent, will be in charge of the maintenance of the system working with Engineer Thorpe in the extension of the new mains, which is to be done entirely with water works extension funds of the city now in the treasury accredited to the water department. Addition of 25 cents to the water rate several years ago has built up this fund to the point where expansion without a bond issue can be handled.

Repaint San Juan Capistrano School For Coming Term

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 24.—Improvements now under way on the local grammar school will make that institution one of the most attractive along the coastline. The long low building, set well back in its sweep of lawn, and shaded by aged pepper trees, has been treated to a coat of deep cream bondex; all woodwork around the doors and windows has been given a covering of rich brown and a new tile roof adds to the general effect.

A new fence will inclose the property, and new playground equipment will be added. In making the change from white to brown and tan, members of the school board were influenced after noticing that the white was hard on the eyes of the students.

Five teachers will be employed this comnig year. Miss Mabel Cooper, who has been re-engaged for principal; Mrs. Charles Crumrine, Miss Elva McHenry, Miss Elizabeth Joyce and Miss Mildred Pichard.

MOTOR TRANSIT HEAD EXPLAINS COMPANY PLANS

PLACENTIA, July 24.—Max Green of Los Angeles, manager of the Motor Transit company, was present at the meeting of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce Tuesday and told of the plans of the company in regard to new bus transportation.

He said that the Pickwick stage has made application to discontinue their line through Anaheim to Corona and Murrietta and that the Motor Transit planned to extend their line through to Corona and possibly Riverside and Redlands.

The Pickwick line will be routed through Whittier, Brea, Fullerton and Santa Ana to San Diego. The hearing will be held by the railroad commission August 2 at Los Angeles and all who are interested are asked to attend.

Operated at Loss

Green also told of the hearing of the Pacific Electric request to reduce service to Fullerton and Yorba Linda to one car each way per day, and the resolution was read by Harry May, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerc, who stated that the line had been operated at a loss of $35,000 for 15 months on the present schedule of nine cars a day to Fullerton and seven to Yorba Linda. Under the new arrangement they will run a morning and evening car as usual, with an early car at 5:24.

Wallace Suter of the Corona Chamber of Commerce was present and stated that the only thing Corona would like changed was to have direct communication with Los Angeles without having to change at Orange.

* H. McDonald, secretary of the Brea Chamber of Commerce, wished to know if passengers for the Brea station would be allowed to ride to Pomona avenue without paying extra fare.

Dale King told of the progress in moving the citrus crop. While prices are high for both lemons and oranges, the recent hot weather did not boost lemon sales, as speculators had a supply on hand.

Harbor development and the county junior college were discussed.

The resolution passed at Anaheim July 11 recommending harbor development by a county bond issue, provided an equal amount be obtained from the state, was indorsed by the Placentia chamber.

Secretary Pickerill announced that Brea Post No. 181 of the American Legion was sponsoring a souvenir booklet with a page for each Chamber of Commerce, and that cuts and a writeup were desired. This was referred to Frank Rospaw of the publicity committee.

Announcement was made of the Associated Chamber of Commerce meeting at the Woman's Improvement club, Los Alamitos, Tuesday, July 29. The secretary also announced that delegates were requested to enter the parade Saturday, celebrating the opening of the new boulevard at Santa Ana, and that he and Ralph McFadden, candidate for sheriff, planned to attend.

Through the efforts of Dr. F. J. Yerke, a musical program was presented by eleven-year-old June Bruner of Pasadena, who gave several piano solos, and a number of vocal numbers, accompanying herself at the piano. She also took part in other numbers by her parents who were with her.

JERNIGAN TALKS TO GROVE LIONS CLUB

GARDEN GROVE, July 24.—Sam Jernigan, sheriff of Orange county, spoke on law enforcement and duties of a sheriff at the Lions club luncheon Wednesday.

The regular luncheon next week will be deferred until evening when the ladies will be guests at a 6:30 o'clock dinner in the Woman's club house. Following dinner the group will adjourn to the ball grounds and attend a game of ball to be played by local boys. Warren Wheeler is chairman of the committee in charge of the game.

Mexican Fined By La Habra Judge For Setting Fire

LA HABRA, July 24.—Manuel Rodriguez, a foreman on the Bastanchury ranch, paid a $50 fine to Judge A. C. Earley of La Habra for starting a brush fire without a permit. A $75 fine was imposed by Earley but $25 was remitted afterward by the judge.

J. D. Ozanne, Los Angeles county fire warden, appeared against Rodriguez in the complaint, stating that the latter had been warned about starting brush fires without a permit and that he had started a fire last June which had gotten away from him and covered about 85 acres. His recent fire swept approximately 55 acres, it is said. The fires were set in Orange county but swept over into Los Angeles county.

ROAD WORK IN ANAHEIM GETS CITY SANCTION

ANAHEIM, July 24.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Anaheim city council Tuesday night the greater part of the time was given over to the approval and adoption of plans and specifications for street improvement drafted and recorded for adoption May 20, 1930, by E. P. Hapgood, city engineer, and approved the same date by city electrician V. W. Hannum, and approved for adoption by city manager J. W. Price, May 22.

Incorporated in the act are plans for improvement of West Center street from Los Angeles to Lemon streets, assessment district No. 219, plan for ornamental lighting installation on West Center street from Lemon to Clementine streets, assessment district No. 219; plan for improvement of West Center street from Palm to West streets, assessment district No. 219; plan for ornamental lighting installation on Chestnut street from Palm street to the Fremont school on West Center, assesment district No. 219; plan for improvement of Lincoln avenue, assessment district No. 219; specification No. 49 for ornamental light installation and specification No. 51, covering metal pipe culverts.

Midget Golf Links Opens At Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, July 24.—The opening of the San Clemente midget golf course, postponed from last week due to the inability to secure golf supplies, is scheduled for Saturday, according to Hal Warner and Ralph Young, in charge of the eighteen hole miniature links.

Ends Piles Quick

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. Cutting and external remedies can't do this—an internal medicine must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, succeeds, because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. HEM-ROD is sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success right in this city that Schramm-Johnson says to every Pile sufferer, try HEM-ROID at my risk. It must end all Pile agony or you get your money back.—Adv.

JUDGE FINES TWO BROTHERS FOR FIGHTING

LA HABRA, July 24.—David W. Mann of La Habra, candidate for constable of Brea township, and his brother, Aaron Mann of Brea, arrested Tuesday night for engaging in a fight over a woman near the Washington school grounds in La Habra, were fined yesterday in the office of Frank Halm, city judge.

It is reported that Mrs. Myrta Inman of Brea, an employe of a Santa Ana laundry, was keeping company with Aaron Mann against the wishes of the elder brother. David Mann saw the tko together at a ball game and protested to his brother, ending the affair by slapping Mrs. Inman.

A chase ensued with a spirited fight when Aaron caught up with his brother. T. J. Mellinger of Bellflower, an eye witness and a police officer, separated the brothers and Mellinger swore out a complaint. In the meantime, David Mann saw the two together Halm and asked for the arrest of his brother and Mrs. Inman. A hearing was held yesterday and David Mann was fined $10 and Aaron Mann, $5.

R. E. Haynes, candidate for district attorney, represented Aaron Mann in court, which David defended himself.

JOPLIN . . . an old Orange County name . . . tried and true . . .

For more than half a century the name has been known to citizens of Orange county, symbolic of the staunch pioneer character that moulded this land to its destiny; rooted in our early traditions. The Joplin record is carved there, indelibly, for all to read. The name has been tested in the crucible of long and exacting service . . . 30 years custody of public money . . . with every cent accounted for . . . but that is no surprise to the pioneers, who know the name Joplin.

Unswerving devotion to duty . . . safe and conservative care of a public trust . . . tried and true service . . . such virtues have a clear meaning for those who value honor and character, with efficiency, in a public officer. It has been no accident that the treasury of Orange county has been safe and sound for 30 years.

Sane business judgment will agree that his record, which has won for him a majority of the votes at every election since 1898, still is an adequate reason for re-electing

SCHOOL CUTUP IS LAUDED BY DOCTOR

DENVER, July 24.—(INS)—The small boy who brings snakes and toads into the school room has a champion.

He is Dr. Randall J. Condon, of Friendship, Me.

Dr. Condon's theory of education is a far cry from that of the school marm of year gone by who would box the ears of any boy caught smuggling a can of worms into the school house.

"The boy who has always been the terror of school teachers—bringing snakes and mice in education," said Dr. Condon. "What education needs today is more of that sort of thing.

"We should bring the life of the community into the school room. For years we thought that we would shut the school and the teachers off into a corner, where they would work out their problems in a special little nook set for them. That is not progress.

"The boy who brings the toad, the garter snake, the worm into the class room is all right. We should have more of such boys. They are displaying initiative, plenty of nerve and getting life into the school room, as, in later days, they will bring new life into the business, professional and scientific world by comparatively unorthodox and revolutionary methods."

A quality you would want if you knew all the FACTS

Look for the word "Cream of Tartar" in the list of ingredients on your baking powder tin. All baking powders were originally Cream of Tartar products. Then cheaper substitutes appeared. These substitutes make a baking powder that is quite acceptable to some women, but Cream of Tartar is almost the unanimous choice of domestic science authorities, pure food departments, government bureaus, dietitians and doctors. Such a preponderance of expert opinion is the Schilling guide. Substitutes may be alright, but why compromise with anything but the finest.

MIRACLES OF SPORT - - - BY ROBERT EDGREN

Davis Cup Pairings Favor U. S.

TILDEN DRAWS BOROTRA: LOTT MEETS COCHET

PARIS, July 24.—(INS)—America's Davis cup team was favored in the draw today when Big Bill Tilden was paired with Jean Borotra, bounding Basque, in the opening singles match tomorrow against France for the most coveted tennis trophy in the world.

Following the Tilden - Borotra clash, George Lott will face Henri Cochet, France's greatest star.

On Saturday John Van Ryan and Wilmer Allison, American doubles team, probably will clash with Cochet and Borotra, unless France should decide on the other doubles combination of Boussous and Brugdon.

On Sunday the final singles matches will be played, with Tilden meeting Cochet, his nemesis, and Lott crossing racquets with Borotra.

American Davis cup followers were more than delighted with the fortunes of the draw.

Tilden, despite his ankle injury, is favored to defeat Borotra on the opening day, and even if Lott loses to Cochet, as is expected, America will go into the doubles matches at least even with France. With Van Ryan and Allison at top form the two youngsters should repeat their sensational victory of last year.

Such a turn of fortune would throw the entire outcome of the 1930 Davis cup finals on the Sunday singles matches. A victory in either one of these for America consequently would return the big silver cup to American shores. Tilden, however, has never defeated the peerless Cochet in recent years and so the crucial match of the series, of predictions run true, will be that between Lott and Borotra.

Blue Larkspur Hurt, May Not Run Again

CHICAGO, July 24.—(INS)—Blue Larkspur's ambitious spurt to overtake Zev and become the highest money winning horse in history appeared doomed to failure today when it was learned that his breakdown may force the famous four-year-old from the turf forever.

In the last serious workout in preparation for Saturday's $35,000 handicap race the son of Black Servant and Blossom Time pulled a tendon in the weak right foreleg yesterday.

Veterinarians, after examining the leg, agreed that he would not run again this season and perhaps never again.

Blue Larkspur, the property of Col. E. R. Bradley, has won $272,000.

S. A. NET STAR ELIMINATED IN ESSEX TOURNEY

MANCHESTER - BY-THE-SEA, Mass., July 24.—East will meet west tomorrow in the final match of the annual Essex County club women's invitation singles tennis tournament when Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, seeded seventh, faces Marjorie Gladman of Santa Monica, Calif., the sixth seeded player.

This was decided today when Miss Morrill eliminated the fifth seeded player, Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento, Calif., 6-0, 6-2, and Miss Gladman defeated Josephine Cruickshank, of Santa Ana, Calif., 1-6, 6-4,6-1, in the semi-finals.

The extra set battle between Miss Gladman and Miss Cruickshank featured the semi-final play. Miss Gladman continued at the top of her game today. She was forced to a brilliant uphill struggle to conquer her fellow Californian after droppnig the first set at 1-6.

U. S. INVESTIGATES CARNERA'S CONDUCT

NEW YORK, July 24.—Primo Carnera and his retinue of managers today faced the task of convincing United States immigration authorities and the department of labor than his boxing tour was a "legitimate visit" and not a "commercial enterprise."

Primo, according to announcement by his American manager, Billy Duffy, has been granted a 20-day postponement of the deportation with which immigration authorities had threatened him.

Immigration authorities are represented as refusing to consider Carnera's extension of his visit unless he can produce evidence that his conduct in this country has been more exemplary than its public notices have implied.

STAR-ANAHEIM TILT TICKETS ON SALE HERE

A limited number of tickets for reserved seats to the fourth and last Santa Ana-Anaheim night baseball game of the 1930 season, scheduled for the Anaheim city park diamond tomorrow night, went on the market here today.

Selling at the usual rate, they were available to the first come, first served, at the El Corral service station, Third and Birch streets.

Santa Ana officials said they would be unable to honor telephone orders and that the tickets would be turned over only to fans who call for them personally.

As Santa Ana's reserved allotment is understood to be less than 300, most of the local delegation will have to take what seats it can get.

Record Crowd Expected

Temporary bleachers will be installed back of first and third base and no charge will be made for these vantage points, it is understood. Only the big grandstand back of home plate will be reserved.

The biggest crowd of the year is expected to tax the capacity of the Colonist park.

Two games ahead of La Habra and three out in front of Long Beach, Whittier and Anaheim, Manager Herb Salveson will make every effort t ocinch the chmapionship with a triumph over the disgruntled Valencias, very much nettled as a result of their 15-5 rout at Olive Tuesday.

If the Stars win, and Whittier tomorrow defeats La Habra, as many think the Quakers will, Santa Ana would enjoy a three-game lead ovre the entire field with only six more games on the schedule.

Cornelius To Pitch

Joe Cornelius, winner of 15 games for Santa Ana this summer, has definitely been assigned to work for the Stars.

Al Bushman is in line for the Anaheim assignment, it is understood.

Bushman was knocked out of the box in the second inning by Olive but he has nearly always been effective against Santa Ana and Manager George Pace is expected to nominate him rather than Joe Ochoa, who was driven to cover in two innings the last time he faced Salveson's cohorts.

Orville Schuchardt, former Santa Ana outfielder, will make his first appearance in an Anaheim uniform in this contest.

Schuchardt With Valencias

The two weeks required for his transfer from one team to another has expired and he will go to center field for the Valencias. His admitted offensive and defensive ability is sure to help the Anaheim out fit in the rest of its games.

Santa Ana also will have to face an old nemesis in "Cy" Mann, a slugger who has always been poison to Star pitchers. Mann but recently joined his old club following his return home from college. He is an outfielder.

"Doc" Blakley, shortstop, also is back with the Valencias after a tri pto Canada, so Anaheim will have its entire strength ready to shoot against Santa Ana.

BOOMS BROOKLYN

Isaac Morgan Boone, right, may be Ike to his friends but to Uncle Wilbert Robinson of the Robins, he's probably Daniel Boone or some other name, for names mean but little to Robbie. At any rate, the big bat that Ike brought from the Coast league to Brooklyn has been a boon to Robins, who continue to perch on the top bough of the National league tree. Ike is not the classiest fly-chaser in the game, but he wields such a potent stick at the plate that his fielding faults must be overlooked to a certain extent.

YOUNG RIVALS FIT: ZENAYDO NOW FAVORITE

Zenaydo Chavez and Joe Reese meet in a 10-round main event at the Orange. County. Athletic club here tonight. They are both 20, both Mexicans, both Santa Anans—but there their similarity ends.

Chavez is a terrific puncher but just an ordinary boxer. Reese is a beautiful boxer but just a fair puncher.

Chavez is cool, calm, collected. Reese is temperamental, like most brilliant youngsters.

They are both nice looking kids, but of different types. Chavez has unruly, curly hair. Reese's hair is as straight as it can be.

Critics Pick Chavez

Although most of the newspapermen and other "experts" think it is a toss-up with Chavez, the puncher, having just a shade the better of the dope, many fans are stringing along with Reese. "Fighting Joe" has been more consistent than Chavez, just another preliminary boy with his "iron mike."

Reese is fast, smart and clever. He is fully as experienced as his Santa Ana rival. In Bill Darnley, Joe probably has better management now than Chavez who is free-lancing and handling his own business affairs.

Zenaydo Chavez

Despite these requisites, Chavez looks like a good bet. He can't box but he can SOCK and one good right hand will end a fight where a hundred powder punches won't. Over the route—10 rounds—Chavez has a distinct advantage. He figures to slow Reese down to his speed with heavier punches, then beat him, perhaps knock him out.

On paper, Promoter H. T. Foust's big main event has everything—youth, speed, punch, color. Interest in the meeting of two of the best prospects developed in Orange county since the Renaissance of boxing is widespread, and the scrimmage should gross better than $1200, pretty good for a small club.

Boldt vs. Henandez

Frankie Boldt and Urban Hernandez, lightweights, collide in the six-round semi.

Boldt, crafty old-timer, looks good in this one although Hernandez has youth and ambition whereas Boldt, brutally speaking, is a "has-been." If it goes the distance, Boldt should outsmart the rugged Hernandez, however.

"Spike" Harvey and Mickey Thomas, welterweights, meet in the special event. The distance is six rounds for it, too. Harvey come to the Delhi club virtually unknown but touted as a hot number and a good bet to stop Thomas.

Packy McMullen and Cliff Burrier also will go six rounds, with Burrier the odds-on favorite. McMullen will be remembered as one of the entrants in the recent American Legion Walkathon here.

Ralph Garcia and Carl Seibel open the show. They are novice lightweights.

MOE ONE DOWN TO LEHMAN AT HALFWAY MARK

BY BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 24.—Don Moe, Portland, Ore., defending champion, was one down to Johnny Lehman, Chicago, at the halfway mark of their 36-hole quarter-final round of the Western amateur tournament today.

Moe experienced trouble with his iron shots throughout the morning 18 holes and finally wound up with a score of 79, as compared with Lehman's 77. The two play the remaining 18 holes of their match this afternoon.

Jack Westland, Chicago, turned in a surprise during the morning when he finished the first 18 holes of his quarter-final play four up over Phil Perkins, British star.

Perkins, regarded as one of the favorites to win the title, was off his driving game and hooked practically every tee shot he made.

Westland scored a 73 while Perkins could do no better than 77.

Charles Fish, Rockford, Ill., who eliminated "Chick" Evans yesterday, finished his morning round two down to Ira Couch, Chicago, Cough shot a 73 as compared with Fish's 76.

Consistent greens play allowed Gus Novotny, Chicago, to be 2 up over Bob McCrary, trans-Mississippi champion, at the end of 18 holes. Novotny's score was 74, while McCrary went around in 76. The Chicagoan was two down at the turn but a great rally put him in front at the halfway in.

Wolgast May Risk Crown With Dado

LOS ANGELES, July 24—Johnny Keys, manager of Midget Wolgast, Italian flyweight champion, today expressed his willingness to stage a title bout in Los Angeles with Speedy Dado.

Wolgast will meet Dado in a non-title bout here Tuesday. The Filipino will enter the ring overweight as Wolgast is working on a percentage, but Keys said Wolgast will put his title at stake in a later match if a suitable guarantee can be posted.

Don George Wins From Malcewicz

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Don George had climbed another step toward mat fame today by his victory over Joe Malcewicz, veteran wrestler, here last night.

George took the first and third falls of the match. Malcewicz won the second with a body slam.

Nick Lutze ended the semi-windup when he threw Lee Wykoff in the second fall with a flying tackle. Wykoff, who had won the first fall in 10 minutes, 32 seconds, broke two ribs in the encounter and was unable to continue.

PRINTERS LOSE AGAIN: LEGION ON TOP, 7 TO 6

"Fame," says the fifth grade reader, "is fickle," and Carlyle Dennis, manager of the baseball team that bears his name in the Santa Ana City league agreed with it today, just a few hours after his championship team of the first half had sustained its second straight defeat of the second half of the split schedule.

The proud Printers had their colors dipped again in the Bowl last nifht, this time by a score of 7 to 6, to the American Legion.

Paced by Shortstop Muckenthaler who bombed Bill Humphrey for four hits, the Legionnaires matched the Printers run for run until the sixth when they broke through with three runs and made their lead stand up.

Earl Jones, the Legion gunner, was hit almost as hard as Humphrey but kept his bingles just a little better scattered than the Dennis nominee.

There was plenty of free hitting, Ebersole and Mitchell collecting three blows to rival Muckenthaler.

The first half of the doubleheader witnessed the downfall of another first half contender, the Courthouse, which was overwhelmed by the Pacific Telephone company, 15-5. The Pole-Climbers scored in every inning after the first in turning in their second straight win of the new league.

A single game between the Eastern Oil company and the Orange County Builders' exchange tonight completes the weeks' schedule.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

To some people, mayhem would be too light a penalty for a Burt L. Standish imagination irritator if one of them concocted a tale wherein the hero arrives in town a total stranger and within a week makes a consistent loser a consistent winner. But that is exactly what Joe Cornelius did for the Santa Ana Stars, and with such an auspicious premier as a footing he is rapidly becoming known as the most successful pitcher in the Natinoal Night Baseball league.

Browsing through the season's records I find that Cornelius has a record for effectiveness that compares favorably with any ever made in this league.

The rugged right hander is not a strikeout pitcher. He does not wheel a terrific fast-ball at his victims, and for that reason there are carping critics in other cities who claim Cornelius is lucky and that his brilliant support is al that gets him by. I do not think so. I am willing to let the scorebook tell the story.

Since joining the Stars May 2, Cornelius has appeared in exactly 20 games. He has been declared the winning pitcher 15 times, the losing moundsman two times. Whittier is the only club in the confederacy which has taken his measure.

Cornelius has pitched 158-2/3 innings, about 17½ games.

He has allowed 37 runs, one every 4-1/3 innings—a little more than two runs a game.

He has permitted 119 hits, one for every one and one-half innings—approximately six a game.

Cornelius is not a strikeout pitcher and yet he has fanned 90 batsmen, an average of better than five a game.

He has walked only 22 men in all this time, an average of little more than one a game. That, I believe, is the secret of Cornelius' success. Control is the greatest asset of a night baseball pitcher, especially one who is not naturally endowed with tremendous speed.

Here is Cornelius' record in full:

May 2—Orange—3 runs, 6 hits in 6 innings.
May 6—La Habra—1 run, 6 hits in 9 innings.
May 9—Whittier—3 runs, 7 hits in 5 1-3 innings.
May 13—Long Beach—2 runs, 4 hits in 9 innings.
May 16—Olive—No runs, 4 hits in 5 innings.
May 23—Anaheim—4 runs, 8 hits in 9 innings.
May 27—Garden Grove—1 run, 4 hits in 9 innings.
May 30—Huntington Beach, 1 run, 4 hits in 4 1-3 innings.
June 3—Orange—No runs, 5 hits in 9 innings.
June 6—La Habra—3 runs, 5 hits in 9 innings.
June 10—Whittier—5 runs, 9 hits in 9 innings.
June 17—Olive—2 runs, 11 hits in 9 innings.
June 24—Anaheim—No runs, 3 hits in 9 innings.
June 27—Garden Grove—2 runs, 4 hits in 9 innings.
July 1—Huntington Beach — No runs, 6 hits in 9 innings.
July 8—La Habra—2 runs, 6 hits in 9 innings.
July 11—Whittier—4 runs, 9 hits in 9 innings.
July 15—Long Beach—4 runs, 8 hits in 9 innings.
July 18—Olive—No runs, 7 hits in 11 innings.

"BANTAM" GOLF POPULAR

Hard-hearted bankers tell us that business is poor and that money is tight, but they must be spoofing after all. At least folks have plenty of do-re-mi to spend on "bantam" golf.

Santa Ana's vest-pocket courses are prosperous. Warm weather has brought the whole family outdoors.

Now the "Midget" links on North Main street and the "Tom Thumb" course on South Main are going to have some competition.

Brand new "bantam" layouts are or soon will be under construction at three points about the city.

Work already has begun on a big course at Third and Bush streets. A 50-foot hole will be one of its features.

Another layout is about ready for customers at Ross and Fourth streets.

Promoters also have asked permission of the city council to build at 830-34 North Broadway.

TODAY'S BEST LETTER

Today's best letter comes from George Peterkin, president of the National Night Baseball league. I have always respected "Pete" as an able, conscientious executive. Now I admire his sense of humor.

Enclosing a clipping of a story from The Register about District Attorney Z. B. West's Scotch terriers winning new honors, the new honors won by District Attorney Z. B. West's Scotch terriers, one of which is known as Peterkin of Balibu, Peterkin writes:

"Say, since getting roped in as president of this baseball league I have been forced to bow meekly while called all sorts of things. But Ye Gods, when I pick up your paper and read where that big stiff of a brother of yours has named a flea incubator after me—I refuse to be responsible.

"The mutt's moniker is 'Peterkin of Malibu!' Well, I don't get the Malibu part but I suppose I should be glad it wasn't Delhi.

"It was a case of sour grapes with Bert because he heard of our 'District Attorney.' You see we have a cat of considerable ancestry. We call him District Attorney because he roams a considerable district and has a voice that no jury could resist."

HUNTING PROSPECTS GOOD

Deer seen everyhere: This is the substance of reports received by the Santa Ana office of the division of fish and game from all sections of the state.

Division deputies declare that all indications point to one of the greatest deer hunting seasons that California has experienced in years. Besides being plentiful, the anicals are well distributed throughout the mountains.

Due to the rigid enforcement of our game laws, deer "poachers" first ... tempt at ... nalism I tried to show the importance of not slugging the ball and advised moving the right hand over on the shaft of the club to gain this end.

In explaining how I got the idea, perhaps your own game can be helped in some particular.

I will have to confess there was a bit of jealously connected with my discovery. After I had turned professional, I soon became envious of Horton Smith's spectacular success. Last winter, you remember, he won tournament after tournament and also a lot of money with uncanny regularity.

I was older than he and way down deep inside I felt there was something I could correct that kept me from being as successful as he was.

Down south that winter I watched Smith carefully. And I found out, I think, one thing I lacked that he possessed. It was in his manner of taking the club back.

He sort of dragged the clubhead along the ground at the beginning of his backswing, having the appearance of the wrists starting the action. His clubhead remained close to the ground until the first quarter of his backswing had been completed. I decided that was worth a try. It seemed logical that that method would give one a straight shot.

And it did. At Oakmont, in the national open in 1926, I had scored 81-80-81-83—325. Five or six shots every round went off the club just a little bit wrong. That, of course, meant trouble and usually a trap at Oakmont. Naturally my scores went blooey. You've got to be stright at Oakmont.

What I needed was straightness with woods and irons. So I copied that part of Horton Smith's swing. And I've got him to thank for a great deal of my success.

CRESS, BELL TO PLAY FOR NET TITLE SUNDAY

John Cress and Randolph Bell, undefeated leaders of the Santa Ana playground round-robin tennis tournament, will play for the championship Sunday afternoon at 2:30. This match is considered a toss-up. Both men have come through their preliminary matches without losing a set.

Bell, however, has a match to play with Earl Waycott Friday. Waycott and Eddie West also have one more set to go, each winning one when they met. Waycott got the first, 8-6, West the second, 7-5.

"Toby" White, junior college star, cinched the Class D title with streight-set victories over Lecil Slaback, 6-0, 6-2, and Carroll Merrick, a southpaw, 6-0, 8-6. White's prize was a handsome billfold, a gift from the Santa Ana book store.

Class B results:

F. W. Bettis defeated B. O. Scottlock, 6-4, 612, and Ray Foster 6-1, 6-0; C. D. Hardesty beat B. O. Scottlock, 6-1, 6-1! G. G. Smith won from B. O. Scottlock, 6-0, 6-2; K. C. Coulson defeated A. Anderson, 6-4, 12-10; R. D. Crowl beat A. Anderson, 6-1, 6-1; Ray Foster defeated H. Smith, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

have been scarce in this state during the past several years and this, in a way, accounts for the numbers of fine, healthy animals on the ranges. Reports have come into the division from time to time of law violations in various, remote districts but prompt action on the part of field men quickly eliminated the nuisance.

Deer are so plentiful this season that many farmers have complained the animals are doing much damage in the orchards and hay fields. However, the division has detailed experts to go into the field for the purpose of studying this problem with the idea of discovering a suitable remedy without destroying these valuable game animals.

With reasonable, intelligent hunting during the proper season, the deer population of the state man be maintained at a suitable figure, division officials declare.

FOUST PLANNING MATCHES

The Chavez-Reese bout tonight is not to be the only attractive offering the Orange County Athletic club plans for the summer.

Promoter Henry T. Foust is looking into the coming weeks and his "future book" already shows a couple of attractive matches.

Foust intends to rematch Tony Moreno and Jess Gabucco next Thursday night. Moreno was given a questionable decision over the Hollywood brownie last week.

Rematches have not done so well at Delhi, but probably because Foust has never been able to get the principals together soon enough. Rematches must be made while discussions wax warm. The Pastor Calope-Clayton Gouyd rematch flopped because it had grown cold over a period of six weeks.

Foust also has virtually closed with Paul De Hate, celebrated welterweight, to meet "Wild Man" Macias here August 7.

He also has the verbal promise of Speedy Dado to show at Delhi before the end of the summer.

Bigger, Better Crops result when Soil Packing Is Stopped

Have you ever figured out how much it costs you to do your work with equipment that packs your soil? Have you taken into consideration the amount of moisture that is lost through evaporation from packed land? Have you estimated how much more profit you would make from the bigger, better crops that are produced on soil that is not packed? If you knew definitely the answer to these questions, you would make sure that your work is done with "Caterpillars"—the tractors that will not pack your land.

CATERPILLAR

TRACTORS

DO NOT PACK THE SOIL

Every well-informed person knows that, with the weight of a "Caterpillar" Tractor supported on its broad tracks, soil packing is impossible. And "Caterpillar" Tractors have a great many other unique advantages. They do not slip—thus saving both time and fuel. They are easy to handle and comfortable to ride.

The unequalled endurance of "Caterpillar" Tractors was demonstrated recently when a "Caterpillar" TEN broke the world's record by operating continuously, pulling normal farm loads, for 481 hours without a stop.

You can't afford to experiment. Play safe by having all your work done by World's Champion "Caterpillar" Tractors.

Gentlemen:

Our business is contracting for the care of orchards and we are now taking care of some 1800 acres. In this work it is necessary that we not only have equipment that does the best possible job so that we can hold our customers, but equipment that is fast, economical and leaves but little time for repair.

You will notice that after trying other makes we have now standardized on your "Caterpillar" tractors exclusively, and are using seven of them on our work. They have been very satisfactory - they are far more reliable than anything else we use AND THE COST OF REPAIRS HAS NOT BEEN MORE THAN ONE-THIRD AS MUCH AS THE COST OF REPAIRS ON OTHER MAKES THAT WE HAVE USED.

I also want to say a word about the new Killefer Off Set Disc that we just purchased. Killefer was a long time getting out an Off Set Disc, but they certainly have one now that performs 100%. I am going to order some more as soon as work demands them. It does wonderful work, turns to the right or left with equal ease, and is built to stand the gaff.

Yours very truly,

22,659 PUPILS IN SCHOOLS OF ORANGE COUNTY

Orange county children are going to school in greater numbers than ever before.

Last year the county recorded a total of 17,299 elementary school pupils and 5,360 high school students in average daily attendance.

This was announced in Sacramento today by Walter E. Morgan, chief of the division of research and statistics of the department of education, in explaining the method by which the state of California aids counties in financing their schools.

"The state sets aside $30 for each unit of average daily attendance in elementary schools," said Morgan. "Elementary schools receive $700 for each teaching unit, the balance of the cost being prorated on the basis of average daily attendance.

"For high schools the fixed allotment is $2,200 to each school and the balance pro-rated on average daily attendance. Counties, of course, must match the state's apportionment, dollar for dollar for elementary schools and two dollars for one in high schools."

If a school district's attendance suffers, Morgan said, by fire, flood, epidemic or other public disaster, the average daily attendance is computed by taking the average for the preceding three years and adding or subtracting this figure from the previous year's average daily attendance.

California's public schools are now attended by an army of 660,287 children in elementary schools, together with 288,975 in high schools and 8,568 in junior colleges.

Los Angeles county, as usual, has more than a third of the state's school children. It has registered 243,030 in elementary grades, 91,605 in high school, and 2,975 in junior colleges. Alameda county is second with 52,846 in elementary grades and 21,520 in high school.

Here's A Red Hot Tip For Men With Big Waistlines

NEW YORK MAN TELLS CONCISE STORY TO FAT MEN

Yes, Gentlemen: Writes W. R. Daniels, of Richmond Hill—"I have finished my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and have obtained the following results:"

1—"I have removed 3 inches from the belt line.

2—"Get up in the morning feeling 100 per cent.

3—"I am 25% more active.

4—"My mind is clearer.

5—"My wind has improved 25%.

6—"All skin eruptions have disappeared.

7—"My face and lips have color.

8—"When I go to bed I am motionless—sleep like a brick.

9—"Am 46 years old and feel 20 years younger."

Millions of men the world over are taking the little daily dose of Kruschen because they know that it keeps them everlastingly feeling fit and active—life really becomes a glorious adventure—well worth living.

Don't confuse Kruschen with the ordinary salts that are made for just one purpose (to act on the bowels).

Keep everlastingly before you the fact that Kruschen contains the six vital rejuvenating salts that nature put into the human body at the beginning of creation and these 6 minerals your body must have or you could not live.

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on sweets for a while—take the exercise which Kruschen will induce—persist in this method every morning of your life and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you can laugh at people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 vitalizing salts of Kruschen (Salts that your blood, nerves and glands must have to function properly)—have presented you with glorious health.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends—"One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money."

Leading druggists all over the world sell Kruschen Salts—you can always get it at Mateer's Drug Store, and Givens and Cannon who sell dozens of packages every week.—Adv.

Think of it!

Now you can buy this stunning new Heavy Duty GOODYEAR for only $12.00

(4.50–21 size) (formerly 30 x 4.50)

The tire shown in this advertisement is right now one of the most attractive bargains ever offered a car-owner.

It is the new and nationally popular Goodyear Heavy Duty Balloon.

Sales are rolling up on this great tire in a volume never before equaled in the rubber business on a tire of super-standard quality.

One reason is the outstanding good looks and extraordinary merit of the tire; another reason is the amazingly low price at which it can now be sold.

The tire itself, as the name Heavy Duty implies, is big, stout, massively proportioned, armored with an extra-thick and extra-safe All-Weather Tread—and around its sleek black sidewall runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

Now* is the time to get YOURS

A striking feature is the way in which the outer rows of All-Weather blocks are prismed down into the sidewalls, as fresh and smart a touch as anything in modern design.

Goodyear builds this stunning new Heavy Duty for those who want to drive fast and far without worry, and who want extra immunity against punctures, blowouts, or tire troubles of any kind.

Because crude rubber is cheap this year, you can buy this special Goodyear in the size illustrated for only about a dollar more than you had to pay last year for an ordinary tire in the same size—and other sizes are priced in proportion.

This is a real opportunity to make your tire money stretch its farthest, and keen buyers everywhere are cashing it in by changing over to Goodyear Heavy Duty Balloons.

Just look at the tire and you'll heed the suggestion: Now is the time to get yours!

City Engineer Tells Of Fight For Gasoline Tax Fund

MONEY SOUGHT FOR PAYMENT ON NEW ROAD

Opening and construction of Santa Ana boulevard may not impose a very heavy tax burden on the taxpayers of Santa Ana, according to a declaration of Clyde Jenken, city engineer, at the meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club this morning.

Explaining efforts now being made by municipalities of the state to have supervisors apportion a share of the gasoline tax monies to the cities, and commenting on the request of cities of Orange county to the board of supervisors for distribution to the cities of 40 per cent of the gas tax money received, Jenken said that if the apportionment is made the money received by Santa Ana would be applied to payment of the new boulevard costs.

The city engineer pointed out that Santa Ana last year paid in gas tax and auto license fees $294,300, of which approximately $97,000 was returned to the supervisors, without one cent coming direct to the city.

Under the program for distribution to the cities of 40 per cent of the amount collected in each city, Santa Ana would get 40 percent of $97,000. The engineer said this would be sufficient to retire the boulevard district bonds falling due each year and leave a balance for use on other street programs. The total cost of the boulevard is $348,400.

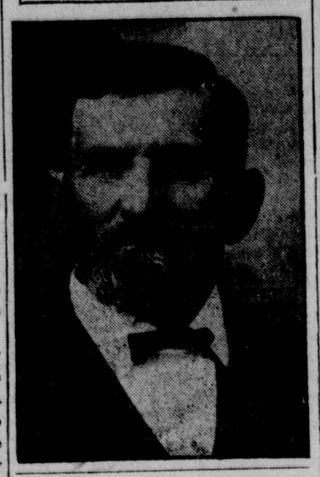

Robert Speed, who was secretary of the Greater Santa Ana association, organized to fight the recall of the city council, also spoke briefly at the meeting. Pointing out that an outstanding project in a community seldom is accomplished without some unwholesome incident, Speed commented on the fact that following the recall election, in which the council was supported in its progress for the opening of the boulevard, both factions buried all animosities, and started working together for the development of Santa Ana.

He complimented the city engineer and the five members of the city council responsible for the progressive move in opening the boulevard.

Dr. K. A. Loerch jr., presided, as program chairman and he introduced the Dayton-Alexander orchestra in a group of numbers and Master Nye Martin in vocal numbers. The lad, who has a remarkable voice for one of his age, was accompanied at the piano by his mother.

The library is to receive all valuable books from the private library and this bound volumes of "London Punch."

J. C. JOPLIN IN COUNTY OFFICE FOR 30 YEARS

J. C. Joplin, dean of the county's official family, today resumed the familiar task that he has been performing for the last 30 years—campaigning for the office of county treasurer.

First elected to the office in 1898, he served until 1902, in which campaign a court contest defeated him, though he gained a substantial majority of the votes. At the next election, in 1906, he regained the office and has held it continuously since that time, winning the elections of that year 1910, 1914, 1918, 1922 and 1926.

A pioneer settler and mountain ranchman of the county, as well as its senior officer, Joplin is regarded as probably the most colorful figure in its public life, so far as career is concerned.

His residence here since January 1, 1876, a period of 54 years, out dates the origin of the county itself. Earliest records of the county find his name associated with its development and credit him with service even before he became a public official. He is the first official booster on record, having represented the county at the Chicago World's fair in 1893, where exhibits he had prepared won more awards that were captured by any county in the state, including Los Angeles, which spent many times the sum represented in the Orange county exhibit.

Again at the St. Louis world's fair in 1904 he was sent back to reap more honors for the county in the same way.

When he first became county treasurer, Joplin was the entire staff of that office, waiting on business callers, keeping all the books—in long hand—and drawing a salary of $125 per month. Then his office balances represented thousands of dollars. Today they are mentioned in terms of millions.

Today, as Joplin enters his ninth campaign, his friends explain his strong hold on the electorate by pointing to his demonstrated reliability as "watchdog of the treasury" and the public confidence it has earned; together with respect for his personal character, known here for half a century.

NEW MID-WEEK SERVICES FOR CHURCH IN S. A.

An unusual experiment in midweek religious services for summer time is being tried out at the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, under the leadership of the pastor, the Rev. Moffett Rhodes.

The topic of studies for the entire summer is attractively worded, "How to Enjoy Your Bible," and along with it, the Rev. Mr. Rhodes appears to be trying to show how to enjoy the Wednesday evening at the church.

Last night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock with about 80 people present, there was a period of song and devotions ,followed by the pastor's lesson on enjoyment of Bible reading. He selected, as a "literary unit," the story of Joseph in Egypt. Following a brief exposition of the setting of the story, he then read from the "American Translation" of the Old Testament, by Powis-Smith, the connected account of the life and experiences of Joseph, carrying this familiar figure from boyhood into Egypt. The story was read in continuous form by eliminating the material which occurs in the order of the Bible text which do not deal with Joseph, and in this manner, the whole account was given as a unit instead of piece meal, as when read in the usual manner. Great interest was developed in the method of reading, and in the human elements of the story as brought out by the rendering in modern speech.

Music was added to the service in a duet by Mary and Margaret Fine, who sang a favorite gospel hymn.

A social hour from 8:30 to 9 o'clock followed the service. Miss Evelyn Morrison, superintendent of the recreation and culture department of the Epworth League, was in charge. She was assisted by Mary Fine, who led the community singing, with Erma Baxter at the piano, and by Mary Blakeman, who had charge of games. Lecil Slaback gave solo numbers on his accordion, and the evening was closed with a brief period of devotions.

This general plan is to be followed on Wednesday evenings throughout the month of August. Next Wednesday will bring the completion of the story of Joseph, and other familiar stories, both from the Old and the New Testaments, will be taken up in turn.

"My purpose in this program," says Mr. Rhodes, "is to demonstrate that the Bible is just as enjoyable, when real intelligently, as any other fine literature, and to bring the people of the church together for food fellowship and better acquaintance."

JOFFRE STATUE UNVEILED

Playground Groups to Entertain at Bowl in Pageant of Sports

One of the anticipated events of the summer vacation season, is the "Pageant of Sports" announced for next Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock in Olive street bowl, when young people of the Santa Ana Summer playgrounds will entertain. Each playground will offer a demonstration of the summer work indicative of the country represented by each group, with a chariot race following each demonstration and serving in the elimination contest. The final race at the close of the program, will serve to decide the championship of the playgrounds.

The international aspect which will be given by the staging of games and athletic contests representative of various nations, is believed to be of special interest in view of the fact of the Olympic games which come to California in 1932.

The entire pageant will be based on the history and origin of sport events, and each individual sport has been placed in the country which is its special sponsor. For instance both basketball and baseball originated in the United States where they maintain their popularity. Handball, which originated in the British Isles (Ireland) is now played more in Mexico.

In the parade and its following features, Fremont school will represent Greece and Rome, with dancers, discus throwers, hurdlers, shot putters, and wrestlers, ending with the first chariot race. Franklin school will follow with Japan and China portrayed by dancers, jiu jitsu wreshlers, kite carriers, battledore and shuttlecock players and tumbling events.

Germany and her sports will be portrayed by Roosevelt school beginning with dancing and followed by gymnasts, fencers, swimmers, dumbbell experts and Indian club swingers. Lowell school will offer Norway and Sweden and and their athletic events with racers, skaters, a skiing group and boatmen. Lathrop junior high school will exemplify the sports of Great Britain, cricket, croquet, curling, football, golf, handball and polo.

Edison school pupils will form the group of Indians, and will offer archery, hookey, la crosse, snowball and toboggan groups, while the pageant will close with the United States entries portraying baseball, basketball, hammer throwing, pole vaulting, quoits and tennis.

Two Hosteses Join In Entertaining at Garden Party

One of this week's most charming parties was that of Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Mary Finch and Mrs. E. M. Gardner were cohostesses, entertaining with a garden fete on the attractive grounds of the Gardner home on Orange avenue. Adding color to the plants and summer blossoms which formed the natural setting, were gladioluses and moon-faced dahlias arranged in large vases and baskets at attractive intervals. The ever-popular beach umbrella, that accessory so much in demand for such occasions, was much in evidence.

Bridge was played, and in harmony with the informality which was the keynote to the afternoon, there were no prize awards, and guests enjoyed their hours of "playing for the fun there was in the game."

During the refreshment hour, tables were spread with crisp white linens, and centered with baskets of baby zinnias, so adorable with their ruffled skirts and demure little faces. Delphinium and breath of heaven, too, added their note of delicacy to the bouquets.

Those present to share the pleasant afternoon with the hostesses, Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Gardner, were Mesdames George Kilson, John H. Rinshed, W. H. Hodgman, Lee Bryant, Margaret Church, Paul Carnahan, Fred Davis, L. C. Underwood, Albert Schultz and John Dowell.

Youthful Host Plans Birthday Dinner As Surprise

When young Carl Dodd of 606 North Garnsey street, yesterday suggested to his employer, Miss Mary Smart of the Mary Smart studio, that she and her mother, Mrs. William Smart, drop in at his home in the late afternoon, he was following a plan for staging a delightful surprise on Miss Smart in celebration of her birthday.

And it was truly a surprise when she arrived at his home, to find assembled there, a little group of her fellow photographers of the city, and everything in readiness for serving a truly delicious little supper, every detail of which had been worked out by the capable young host.

His artistic nature expressed itself in the charming arrangement of the tables, and in clever name cards by means of which the guests found the places designated for them. Even the appetizing menu had been prepared by the young man, who was warmly complimented by the guests upon the success of his scheme, especially since his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joheph A. Dodd, are absent on a summer outing.

Occasioning much interest among a wide circle of friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rees, of Ritchey street, was the birth of a son to them just two weeks ago. And since then the little lad, an eight pound and a half baby, has been the center of attraction in the Rees household, and has had numerous callers who are anxious to get a glimpse of his chubby face and determine whether he resembles his father of his mother.

Jack Fisher Post and Auxiliary Enjoy Park Party

One of the joint social affairs which members of Jack Fisher post and auxiliary, Disabled American Veterans, are substituting for their business sessions during the summer season, was held last night when members and their families to the number of 60 or more, motored to Irvine park for supper.

The picnickers discovered that hundreds of others had sought the same delightful spot, and the scene was an animated one as the gay groups mingled around the blazing fires, and gathered at the long tables for feasting on the contents of well-filled picnic baskets. The Veterans and their wives had planned their festivity as a hamburger supper and the toothsome meat was prepared by various members of the auxiliary over one of the big grates built at the park for the convenience of the public.

As a sequel to the supper, the post and auxiliary members assembled in the pavilion where dancing was a popular feature with the whole park crowd, while the children sought the joys of the playgrounds until darkness fell.

Club Meeting Honors Birthdays of Four Members

That lively group comprising the S. O. A. club held a most enjoyable meeting yesterday afternoon, when they were entertained by Mrs. Leland Eubank in her home on North Bristol street, the occasion being an observance of the birthday anniversaries of four of the members. These honored guests were Mrs. D. H. Thompson, Mrs. J. P. King, Mrs. S. A. Fisson and Mrs William Batt.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in the dining room, whose prettily appointed table was expressive of the yellow and white color scheme carried out in all of the decorations. Forming the colorful centerpiece was a bowl of white asters intermingled with delicate lemon-hued blossoms. Yellow tapers and nut-cups added their note to color harmony. A white birthday cake was a tribute to the four honorees.

Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon, and results of the enjoyable contest showed that Mrs. Daisy McGee held high score, Mrs. William Batt, second, and Mrs. F. Higgins, low.

Those enjoying the afternoon's pleasures with the hostess, Mrs. Eubank, were Mrs. D. H. Thompson, Mrs. J. P. King and Mrs. S. A. Fisson, both of Anaheim; Mrs. William Batt, Mrs. George Merriman and Mrs. F. Higgins, of Orange; Mrs. Daisy McGee and Mrs. Mary Rutherford.

Los Angeles Styles Prove Interesting To Santa Anans

Offering its lure to Santa Anans the three-days of style showings held in Los Angeles under the direction of manufacturers of that city, reached its climax yesterday at the Hotel Biltmore, and attracted among thousands of onlookers, many from this city, eager to see what Southland designers and manufacturers offered towards the style trend of the autumn season.

Among those going from here for the afternoon display were Harriet Rutherford Bonnell and Mrs. Hazel Hill of the Rutherford store on North Main street, both of whom expressed the liveliest interest in the styles and materials originated here on the coast. They were intrigued by the quaint loveliness of the models shown, declaring that the trend towards old-fashioned feminine in dress, was strikingly exemplified. Long flowing lines, graceful draperies, flowing sleeves, laces, and all the graceful details of an earlier generation seemed expressed in the gowns modeled, while materials were unusually rich and lovely.

They were especially impressed with a silk crepe and wool mixture originated by the Southland manufacturers, which seemed to lend itself equally well to the gracefully draped costumes and to the more distinctly tailored types.

The two were joined for dinner and the evening program held at the Shrine auditorium, by Miss Myrtle Rutherford, Mrs. Alice Golden, Miss Betty Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. William McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lindig and Lock McDonald. The style show of the evening was a blaze of brilliant color and design, and was accompanied by a delightful musical program. The presence of many noted film stars added interest to the affair.

Mrs. Bonnell and Mrs. Hill just recently completed additional courses in the Gossard Corset school of Los Angeles, Mrs. Bonnell taking special post-graduate work. With the addition of Mrs. Agnes Lindig, who also holds a diploma from this school, it makes three diplomas now held by saleswomen in the Rutherford store.

Mrs. Nona Lacy took first prize in the games with consolation going to Herbert A. Allen. The serving of refreshments brought the pleasant session to a close.

Informal Bridge Group Holds Last Meeting Until Autumn

Mrs. Lee Bryant was hostess at a charming little bridge party last evening when she entertained an informal club in her home at 112 East Walnut street. Deep tones of pink, graduating into shades of red was the prevailing color note of the evening, prettily expressed in the huge pom-pom dahlias and stalks of glads which were placed throughout the rooms.

When scores for the evening's diversion were added, Mrs. Faymond Underwood was awarded prize for high score, while Miss Dorothy Dresser's score entitled her to second prize.

Those present other than the hostess, Mrs. Lee Bryant, were Mesdames A. P. Dresser, Clayton Hutchins, Clyde Martin, Frank Cope, L. C. Underwood, Raymond Underwood, Agnes Montgomery and the Misses Vena Belle and Louise Bryant, Dorothy Dresser and Mayme Brightwell.

Grand Central Folk Seek Vacation Outings

That summer vacation spirit that characterizes the Southland just at present, seems to have manifested itself among the residents of the Grand Central apartments to a marked degree, and several of them are enjoying interesting outings and visits at various points.

When We Grow Old

I have always contended that an unmistakable sign of old age, mental old age I mean, is indicated when a person talks about the "good old bygone days" and seldom shows interest in the good new days to come.

A noted judge with a delicious sense of humor says that an infallible sign of senility is when people remember things that never happened—that must be where some of the famous fish stories or the my-last-operation stories originate.

This ability to plant on one's personality things that never happened brings to mind a story told me by a woman who was a pioneer in a western state.

In those days tallow candles lighted the house and the making of them was a regular semi-annual event. Mrs. Pioneer had a good set of moulds, her neighbor, an old lady, had none and depended on borrowing hers each time.

Presently, as time went on, it became increasingly hard to get her to remember to return the moulds promptly, so it was less embarrassing for Mrs. Pioneer to leave them with her and just drop over and get them when candle-making time came along.

After a few years of this way of doing the old lady wanted to make candles, found the set of moulds gone, so she posted over to her neighbor and heatedly asked her to be so kind as to return HER set of candle moulds once she was through with them and not to put her to the bother of going after them again.

To lose the ability to remember events distinctly is the final indignity age inflicts on each one of us. It is my belief that our mental muscles can be stimulated through exercise just as the muscles of the body are.

That is why I consistently preach the gospel of middle aged women having some constructive thing to do and think about outside their housework. The body and the mind should wear equally well, with courage and intelligence.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Frozen Peaches and Cream

(For Six)
6 large very ripe peaches
1 cup whipping cream
Powdered sugar

This delicious dessert can be made easily in an icless refrigerator or put in a mould and buried in rock salt and crushed ice for several hours. The latter way is really the better, for the frozen mould can be cut in slices and served at table.

Use well ripened peaches with a streak of red at the heart, peel and cut in eighths, crack the kernels and cut the nut pits in slivers—they have a flavor incomparable. Whip the cream very stiff and make very sweet with powdered sugar. Fold the sliced peaches into the cream and start the freezing operation immediately. Do not stir after the mixture has been placed in the freezing pan.

Whipped cream and fat making calories just naturally flock together. The calory total for each of the six portions is a little over 425.

SUMMER BEVERAGES AND CORDIALS offer to the woman who enjoys serving that "something different" numerous delicious new and cold drinks. Why not color the dress with crayons, too? Two more "Boots" dresses tomorrow! You might give "Boots" a cardboard foundation so she would be more substantial.

COURT FILM ENDS S. A. RUN TONIGHT

William Powell's great courtroom picture, 'For the Defense," which has been showing since Monday at the Fox Broadway theater, will complete its Santa Ana run tonight.

The film, a Paramount production, is the story of a great New York criminal lawyer, who although is the outstanding man in his profession, walks through life alone, hated by other lawyers and used by crooks to their advantage.

He frees one crook after another on some technicality. The bar association meets to try to find some way to curb him. Police believes that he bribes juries, his luck is so great in freeing his clients.

His one love is an actress. She loves him but at the same time plays around with another man. One night the other man and the actress are out riding. Their car strikes and kills a man. The other man takes the blame and is charged with manslaughter. Powell at the girl's request defends him. Suddenly the district attorney makes Powell see that the girl was present at the time. Then Powell does an extraordinary thing. He goes outside the law himself to save the girl he loves.

A Fox Movietone newsreel, together with an all-talking comedy and a color picture also are shown.

FIREMEN MEET AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 24.—The Orange County Firemen's association held a monthly meeting at the city auditorium this week. The wives of the firemen forming the Firemen's auxiliary held their meeting at the Christian church. They enjoyed a talk on life saving methods with demonstrations given by Frank McLaughlan and Wayman Johnson of the Laguna Beach fire department.

The August meeting of the firemen and the auxiliary will be held outdoors at Laguna Beach, August 25.

COURT DRAMA AT WALKER'S THEATER

The double bill closing tonight at Walker's State theater is fine entertainment.

"Guilty?"—a Columbia all-talking drama, is based on the subject of circumstantial evidence is being shown. An all-star cast headed by Virginia Valli and John Holland interpret the roles. George B. Seitz directed. The film is distinguished by a rapid moving plot and stirring climaxes.

The plot revolves around Carolyn Polk—daughter of a former United States senator—and Bob Lee. After a preliminary plot based on the enmity of Carolyn's and Bob's fathers, the film reaches the climatic point when Bob Lee is accused and convicted of the murder of Carolyn's father, who hed in reality committed suicide. Many revelations of absorbing interest are made at young Lee's trial, and the plot, continues with tenseness to a thrilling climax.

In addition to admirable performances by the principals, capable characterizations are given by the supporting cast—especially John St. Polis.

'GOOD INTENTIONS' HERE FOR 2 DAYS

Edmund Lowe, "Cock Eyed World" hero, and who also will be remembered here in "What Price Glory," comes to the Fox West Coast theater today in his latest all-talking drama, "Good Intentions." It is a crook story, well balanced and with sure-fire plot that will be remembered here for a long, long time.

Marguerite Churchill has the feminine role in the production while others in the cast include Regis Toomey, Earle Foxe, Eddie Gribbon and Hale Hamilton.

"Good Intentions" is the story of two men in one—a crook and a gentleman. Each destroys the other. It is a story of the falling out of thieves and what happens when they do and the story of a man who risks his life for the girl he loves.

In the film Lowe plays the part of a master crook who makes love to a society girl. How the girl reforms him only to make him sacrifice his all to make her happy makes the picture one of the biggest of the year from the standpoint of entertainment.

The picture will be shown at the theater Thursday and Friday only.

A Fox Movietone newsreel, an all-talking comedy and other short subjects are shown.

When BABIES are Upset

BABY ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready?

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria.

HARD-SOFT LARGE-SMALL CORNS

Out to Stay Out—Roots and All
Magic Oxygen Salts Bath Never Fails
No More Burning Aching Feet.

No matter how many corns you have or how painful they are—soak your feet for 15 minutes in a delightfully soothing and revitalizing Radox footbath for 3 or 4 nights—then lift corns and callouses right out—roots and all and they won't come back either unless you wear shoes again which aggravate your feet.

No cutting or digging is required because Radox liberates oxygen which softens hard outer layers of corns, each night penetrating the pores further and further, carrying the salts right to roots of corns which are so loosened they can be lifted out bodily.

Your feet are made strong—healthy—vigorous—hard skin on heels and toes goes also.

Mateer's Drug Store and all good drugstores are stocked with Radox—if they aren't insist upon them ordering it if you want to experience great foot-joy and comfort.—adv.

Intense Itching and Burning Disturbed Sleep. Cuticura Healed.

"My wife first noticed a sore eruption form on the back of her ear. It scaled over, then would break, and was of a wet nature. The itching and burning were so intense that they disturbed her sleep, leaving her very languid and irritable.

"She tried several remedies with no good results. I purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the first few applications gave wonderful results, and in about two weeks she was completely healed." (Signed) George Davis, 209 No. 26th St., San Jose, Calif.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The trip to Bagdad was real slow. Of course the small mules couldn't go much faster than a lazy walk, but everyone had fun. When they had been upon their way for hours, the Travel Man said, "Say! I think we'd best camp out before the sinking of the sun.

"When night time comes, we'll all turn in and then at dawn we will begin another of our long trips. Let's find a camping spot." So down the road a mile or two they found a spot that would just do. They knew it would be comfortable. It wasn't one bit hot.

Some small pup-tents the mule man had were soon unpacked. The bunch was glad to help him pitch them on the ground and set up quite a camp. When Scouty crawled right into one, wee Clowny had to have some fun. He pulled a rope and let the tent go down. My, what a scamp!

For several days they camped and slept, but all the time they slowly kept right on their way toward Bagdad. Then their journey reached its end. A hotel roof was shortly found with beds where they could all sleep sound. The Tinies thanked the Travel Man. On him they could depend.

He always worked things out just right and my, how they all slept that night. 'Twas cool away up on the roof and such a new treat, too. Said Scouty, loudly, "This is rare to snooze out in the sky-high air." And so they slept till dawn and then they wondered what they'd do.

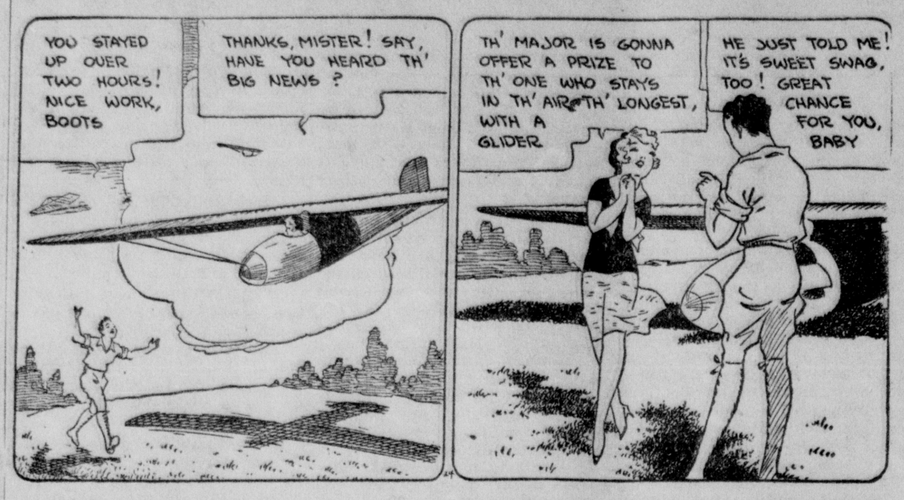

The Travel Man soon said, "Well, I will take you to a place nearby where you can eat, just like you've slept—out in the open breeze." Then to this spot they promptly went. Each one ate to his heart's content. When they had finished with their meal they loafed around at ease.

(The Tinymites take a ride in a queer boat in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

DARK to DAYS—There'll be DARK DAYS of practice ahead for you if you can't make a par three on this short hole.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 24.—(UP)—Hedging pressure and selling by locals during the latter part of the session caused wheat to ease but the market held small gains at the close of the Board of Trade today. There was some selling on reports of Russian sales though these were attributed to propaganda. Corn recovered from heavy profit taking and selling by holders of wheat around noon to close with a small gain. Oats were off slightly with wheat.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to ⅜c higher, corn was ⅝ to 1⅞c higher an doats were unchanged to ¼c lower. Provisions were firm.

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, July 24.—(UP)—Selling in various sections of the list failed to halt advancing tendencies in public utility stocks on the curb market today and, after absorbing considerable realizing in the early trading, the utility group encountered good demand and advanced to higher levels. Price movements in other sections of the list were highly irregular as a result of mixed operations.

Advances ranging from fractions to more than 2 points took place in Electric Bond & Share, American & Foreign Power Warrants and others.

Various individual issues throughout the list encountered renewed buying and scored good advances over previous closing levels. American Cyanamid B, American Tobacco new stock, Corroon & Reynolds and Ford, Lt., were prominently strong. On the other hand, Bahia Corporation ran into considerable profit taking following yesterday's advance and sold off almost 2 points.

Oils continued dull and were easier as a result of pressure on Vacuum and Humble. The former sagged a point. Investment trusts held within a narrow range, with exception of Transamerica which declined almost a point. The issue will be traded in on the Big Board tomorrow, listing having been approved and only a few minor details waiting to be cleared up.

Great Fun

The Best Yet In Gliders

The PLAYBOY FOLDING GLIDER is shot straight up 100 or 150 feet by a special rubber. This is possible because in the folded position it goes up like an arrow. The air holds the wings folded until the glider reaches the pinnacle, when they open. It will then make one loop and gradually circle and glide to the ground.

Provides Hours of Fun

As the PLAYBOY GLIDER does not depend upon a small propeller and lightness to lift it into the air, it is made very sturdy. The wooden nose protects it if shot head on into a wall. If a wing hits any obstruction, it simply folds back and after freeing itself the wing opens and continues its flight.

CRITICISM OF THE SENATE

There seems to be a great deal of uncalled for and unjustified criticism of the United States Senate these days. It has come to be our most famous indoor sport. Some of it may be justified. We have not agreed with the Senate in its handling of international matters at times, and sometimes we have been a bit impatient with its prolonged debates. In the criticism we have shared the attitude of many others better than ourselves.

But after all is said and done, something ought to be said for the Senate. It is one of the few deliberative bodies in which free debate is still permitted. The House of Representatives, by reason of its size and unwieldly condition, has almost ceased to be a deliberative body. It is a body in which committees function, but within iron-clad rules dominated by the close corporation of leaders. Intended to be the popular branch, closest to the people, it has long ago surrendered that place to the Senate, which the framers of the Constitutiton intended to be the conservative body to hold down the representatives closer to the people.

In the Senate the interests of the people have been looked after much more closely than in the House of Representatives. The people have had greater champions of their rights there than in the House. Men like Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, Nye of North Dakota, Capper of Kansas, Brookhart of Iowa, and Walsh of Montana, to mention the more outstanding of that group, have done much to conserve the rights of the people against the constant inroads of an invisible government. The contribution of Borah of Idaho—although we have found ourselves in disagreement with him at times,—has been invaluable to the people of the country as a whole. It is to the Senate that we owe the uncovering of many of the scandals which were rapidly subverting all the best phases of democratic government.

It is not necessary to agree with all that is done by the Senate, or with individual members of that body who sometimes abuse the privileges of free and extended debate, but it is something worth while to the people to have one branch of the government which is deeply concerned for political honesty and social justice and individual liberty under the law. The Senate has been much freer from partisan political domination than the House, and has acted in a friendly independent manner when questions of great public benefit were under discussion.

We are under the impression that a great deal of the criticism of the Senate has been encouraged by interests which have been frustrated in their efforts to get something out of the government which conflicted with the larger rights of the people. Many people have been misled by the subtlety and the plausibility of much of that sort of criticism. We should be grateful that there is one body in our national government organism in which members still have the opportunity to proclaim the larger interests of the people.

Quite a few students nowadays are quite good on figures, if you include co-eds.

RUDY VALLEE AT HOME

Rudy Vallee is spending a few days in his home at Westbrook, Maine, and the town has gone wild over its idol. The popular crooner who has been admired and adored by half the female population of the United States is a good deal of a man after all if the report of an interview with him in his home town is correct. The hero of "The Vagabond Lover" does not care much about "girl stuff." There is something in it that is repulsive to his "puritanical training and make-up." He hopes that when his "talkie" days are over, he may live in the minds of people as somewhat of an institution, instead of in memory as the "hot lover."

There are always two sides to a man's nature, and Rudy Vallee runs true to form. He seems to recognize that his present popularity is temporary. Not many years and his name will not be known except in the minds of those who lived in the days of his fame. The golden flow will cease. That he has thought of that day, and is preparing for it, is much to his credit. If, as he says, he has been gratified by the receipt of letters which tell of how his songs have comforted the sick and the dying, he cherishes the hope that his later years may be much more creditable to him than these years of popularity. All of which suggests that the worth of a man can be determined only as we know all sides of his nature. Alas, for some it is forever hidden; the worst is in evidence; the best never finds expression.

A PEARL OF WISDOM FROM A NEW CITIZEN

An applicant for naturalization in Oklahoma City, a Czecho-Slovakian, was asked by the judge how United States officials were elected. "By advertising," was the prompt reply.

That was not so bad. He had seen the election posters on the billboards and the long advertisements in the newspapers, and he actually jumped to the conclusion that such was the method by which candidates got their offices. The political candidate who does no advertising in these days stands about as much chance to be elected as an English Cockney has of becoming the King of England. Actually it is ballots that count; but the means that gets the right kind of ballots in the ballot box is determined by the ability of a candidate to make himself known. And advertising does that.

THE COMIC STRIP

Mr. Heywood Broun in a current number of the Nation, comes to the defense of the comics, if they need any defense. But there have been, and possibly still are those who deplore the comics and their influence upon children. Mr. Broun says that we must credit the comic strips of the newspapers with the increase in courage and gallantry of spirit among the boys and girls of this day over a former day. The body of the article is devoted to the author's own fears when a boy, fear of the circus animal, fear of this and fear of that.

"The indestructability of human fiber," says Mr. Broun, was a concept which I never achieved . . . If I had only grown up receiving the comforting intimations of the comic strips I might not have led a frightened childhood nor left at last my adolescence in exchange for timorous manhood . . .

"I would not commend the comic strip as an agency for inculcating good manners. It seems to me that the frolicsome children of these pictures sometimes go too far in their search for good clean fun. But they do set up in the impressionable a fine and simple faith in the toughness of the human carcass and the imperviousness of the human spirit. I was taught in school that there is no such word as fail, but my faith in this fact was never lively, even though I copied the maxim many times. Much more hearty would have been my belief if only I could have lived for a few passionate moments each day with the heroes of the comic page and learned to be a lot more like them."

The youngsters learn to "Dare to be a Daniel," nowadays from the comic strip rather than the Sunday school, according to this writer. The comics are too popular to need defense but these words may be solace to the mind of some parent who remembers an age that was different and more to their taste.

The Chicago judge who said that a man who would hide behind a woman's skirts must be a worm was right as to dimensions anyway.

ENGLAND STILL WEDDED TO ITS ANCIENT CUSTOMS

It is difficult for an American at times to understand English politics. Here is a labor government in power, and yet that government conserves with punctilious concern many of the ancient customs which smack of feudalism and aristocracy. When a labor member of the House of Commons recently ran away with the mace, which is the symbol of parlimentary authority, he was immediately named by the Speaker for disorderly conduct, and his suspension was moved by Premier MacDonald. Not since Cromwell ordered the mace to be thrown out of the window had this sacred symbol been treated with such indignity.

The devotion of the English people to everything that pertains to the Crown accounts for these inconsistencies. It accounts for the existence of the Established Church, the House of Lords, and the prerogatives of the Crown itself. Yet there is no government in the world in which the personal rights of the individual are so jealously conserved.

Electricity For Schoolgirls

New York Times

A study of electricity is included in the courses of many English schools. It covers only practical applications. The correct use, care and repair of modern household equipment, such as irons, grills and toasters, is taught.

The innovation has been largely due to the efforts of the Electrical Association for Women. Since its formation in 1904 the organization has held that every schoolchild—and particularly every schoolgirl—should have a practical knowledge of electricity. The blowing out of a fuse, or the burning out of an element in an iron, would not then be terrifying and mysterious to her. A wire pulled from its socket, or a bad fuse, should not hold up the toast for breakfast, or keep the day's ironing from being done. A handy girl, given the proper instruction, should be able to manage such minor repairs as well as a handy man.

The new courses are enthusiastically received. Teachers themselves were the first to ask for special instruction so that they could direct their pupils. Schools must be equipped with the latest apparatus, and the Electrical Association is working through local departments of education to see that it is provided

Such elementary instruction may set girls in the way of earning a living. Women in England serve as maintenance inspectors, seeing that household appliances in their district are kept in repair and up to date. They also do good work as designers of household appliances, and at least one woman makes a living by wiring country villages.

Exchange of Visitors

Riverside Daily Press

American motorists are expected to spend around $300,000,000 in Canada this summer. The great dominion north of the border has unrivaled attractions as a vacation land—and we're not speaking of its liquor laws now, either. Citizens of the United States are discovering the fact in increasing numbers every year.

However, Canadians do a good deal of touring, too, and a lot of them cross the border to do it. In 1929, according to dominion government figures, Canadian tourists spent more than $111,000,000 in the United States, and more than 619,000 Canadian automobiles went south over the boundary. The figures probably will be higher this year.

Here is reciprocity of the finest sort. That famous unfortified frontier is in no danger as long as the two nations exchange friendly visits on such a scale.

Liquor and Athletes

Daily Oklahoman

Writing in an American magazine, an athlete asserts that liquor is defeating our athletes. The indictment perhaps has much truth in it, but the joker in the story is the clever propaganda to the effect that the damage is due to bad booze and that prohibition is responsible.

It is not astonishing that some sporting lights lend themselves to this insidious line of stuff . . . The public, however, is not as easily duped in such matters as in former years. Time was when clever publicity work waould have convinced a gullible public that a brew of smartweed would obviate the need of a college course, but the average reader of today, made wise in many things by expensive experience, is given to careful analysis of everything he reads.

The Five O'Clock Quitter

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

COMPENSATION

Th erobin glories in the song
That while, as on a twig he perches,
Re-echoes all the morning long
Among the slender, slanting birches.
And when he wearies of his lay
And toward the distant wood goes winging,
He has a look that seems to say:
I guess that's singing!

And then the crow swells out his throat
As if it were the way of warning,
And pours forth note on raucous note,
Which desecrate the quiet morning.
And when the last harsh accents fade,
He gives a croak designed to tell us:
"Some music, folks, I think I made
That robin jealous!"

The donkey has no sort of doubt
That any creature who is near him
The while his strident bray rings out
Will thrill with eager joy to hear him.
The ugly whip-poor-will assumes,
His graceless persons contemplating,
That his poor dowdy brownish plumes
Are fascinating.

But more widespread is happiness,
Because the poorest living creature
From birth to death may never guess
His lack in voice or form or feature.
We may be quite unknown to fame,
We may be nature's clumsy blunders,
Yet we imagine, just the same,
That we are wonders!

For Middle-Sized Purses

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

The Three Bears had the true spirit of hospitality. A visitor dropping into their apartment could find, by trial and error, and at no extra cost, exactly the bed that suited her size. But the modern Goldilocks, dropping into a hospital, has not always so easily found suitable accommodations for self and pocket-book. There has been beds for short purses, and beds for long purses; but beds for middle-sized purses have, until recently, been few—but not, alas, far between.

Hospitals originally were designed with large wards, primarily for the poor. Later, single rooms were added for those who were able to pay for privacy. Later still, a middle class of patients clamored for admittance. They wanted not only the expert care freely given to the poor, but also the privacy richly paid for by the rich.

They got their privacy. But when they reflected on what it had cost them, they sometimes regretted, for a discouraged moment, that they were neither rich nor poor.

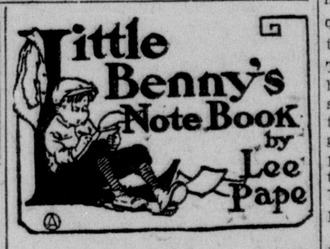

Recently, the Committee on the Cost of Medical Care undertook to find our how the hospitals of America are meeting the demands of patients with middle-sized pocket-books. The Committee found that more and more hospitals are providing middle-priced beds: more privacy at less cost. The traditional division of the hospital into large open wards and single rooms is giving place to a graduated series of accommodations, at graduated prices.

In 1908, fully 28 per cent of beds in hospitals designed by architect members of the American Hospital Association were in wards of ten beds or more. In 1908 only 7 per cent were in such wards.

The higher standard of living—summed up in a 34 per cent gain in real wages since 1914—is reflected in the care of the sick.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

STATISTICS: GOOD AND BAD

The American Medical Association and the National Education Association have issued a report of their joint committee on health problems.

The statistics of this report deserve sustained study by all Americans.

Some of them tell a good story that should make us happy.

Some of them tell a bad story that should make us hurry.

This report, as it lies on my desk, is at once a report on the past and marching orders for the future.

Here are some of the salient points of the report:

The nation's death rate has been halved since 1900—a gratifying record for little more than a quarter century fight!

Before 1900, the nation's death rate ran from 20 to 30 per thousand.

In 1928, the nation's death rate had dropped to 12 per thousand.

In 1900, sixteen of every hundred babies died before reaching one year of age.

In 1900, tuberculosis took the life of 194 out of every 100,000. Today only 79 of every 100,000 die from tuberculosis.

The death rate from typhoid and paratyphoid has dropped from 34 per 100,000 in 1900 to less than 5 per 100,000 in 1928.

But, gratifying as these figures are, there is another side to the picture.

American taxpayers today pay over $927,000,000 annually for the care of the physically handicapped and for victims of heart disease and tuberculosis.

$800,000,000 for victims of tuberculosis.

—$90,000 for victims of heart disease.

$87,000,000 for the physically handicapped.

There is still a man's sized job ahead!

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

A FINE RESERVE

Children babble secrets. Older folk listen and gossip. They have been known to ask pointed questions and to applaud the little babbler's brilliant answers. That, of course, made the little babbler very pleased with himself so he thought up more bright things to tell and the excited grown folk listened greedily and passed along the stories where they could do the most harm. You wouldn't think that grownup people would do that, would you?

By and by with much pain and trouble some of the stories are unravelled. Then the little one is blamed and punished for telling tales, for disclosing family secrets, for telling lies about his own people. That is hardly fair when everything is considered.

Little children love an audience. If they find they can interest their audience by a certain type of story they will keep telling it until they become, by practice, artists at the trick. At the same time they cultivate an utter lack of that fine reserve that marks the well-bred, intelligent man and woman.

All children, the very best of them, will make mistakes about what to tell and what not to tell until they arrive at that level of intelligence where our teaching on the subject can be made to register. It is not possible to tell a four-year-old child that it is in bad taste, it is disloyalty, it is disgraceful to break the fine reserve that forbids strangers prying into one's family affairs. But it is possible to sow the seed of that idea in the very beginning.

We can teach a child to do his talking to us. We will be his audience, and as enthusiastic as he wishes. We will praise him for his good story, laugh at his jokes, applaud his bright remarks so that he will not need any other audience. Drop a word now and then that suggests how much better it is to tell stories to the family than to other people.

When visitors come to the house keep the children out of their way. If it is necessary or pleasant to have the children greet the visitor, bring them in for that purpose and conduct them out again when the greetings are over. They should be busy with their own childish affairs. In that way you establish the fine reserve we so appreciate in young people.

When the children are old enough to come to the dinner table with the elders they are taught not to speak unless they get the signal to do so. The grownups are to lead the conversation and indicate to the children their part in it. Nothing so breaks down the reserve and good manners of children as the mistaken idea that they have the first and last word in the conversation. When dessert is brought in it is pleasant to have the children join in the conversation which is then toned to their interests.

If there is no family standard of manner and manners it is a bit difficult for a child to maintain one abroad, is it not?

ALEXANDRE DUMAS

On July 24, 1802, Alexandre Dumas, the greatest French romantic novelist and the greatest storyteller of the world, was born at Villers-Cotterets.

Dumas was the grandson of the Marquis Alexandre Davy de la Pailleterie and a negress, both of Haiti.

As a writer Dumas is remarkable for creative rather than for artistic genius.

Dumas inclined at first to law and was apprenticed to a notary of Soissons where he saw a play that determined him to seek his fortune on the stage.

He was, at one time, a secretary in the household of Louis Philippe.

Although his best work was almost all done between 1843 and 1850, in one way or another Dumas is responsible for 298 closely printed novels.

At the last came four years of somewhat senile poverty, relieved by the son whose boyhood he had neglected and whose youth he had misguided.

He died on Dec. 5, 1870.

TRI-SYNOD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CONCLAVE TO TAKE UP MONOGAMY AT SESSIONS

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—A study of monogamy as a scientific achievement in marriage will be presented to the tri-synod Presbyterian church conclave, representing 109,000 parishioners in California and Arizona, at the opening session here tonight.

Monogamy, described as the continued love of married persons throughout their lives, was outlined in a treatise introduced at a pre-synod conference by Dr. C. A. Spaulding of Santa Barbara, member of the national Presbyterian committee of marriage, divorce and re-marriage.

Dr. Spaulding's treatise contained essays by a number of scientists and church authorities.

"From these divergent opinions," he declared, "I have concluded that monogamy has a scientific basis as the highest form of evolution, and represents man's triumph over his beastial instincts.

"The main trouble with marriage is that too many self-appointed moralists have flooded the market with their personal criticisms without the facts, forgetting that scientific and spiritual achievements are the same thing."

The seven-day conclave will be attended by 858 ministers from 449 churches. Moderators of three synods, Rev. Frank Silsley of the California Presbyterians, Rev. W. H. McPeak of California United Presbyterians and Rev. C. A. Cuggar of Arizona will officiate at the opening services.. A series of laymen's meetings will begin tomorrow.

REQUESTS IN COUNTY BUDGET FAR BELOW EXPENDITURES OF THOSE OF LAST FISCAL YEAR

ALTHOUGH IN EVERY instance the requests for allowances in making the county budget for the year 1930-31 are not specifically set forth, the total requests made and the indicated needs, as based on expenditures for the year that has just closed, reach the sum of $7,754,635.41 on the budget sheets prepared by the various department heads and presented for the action of the county board of supervisors through County Auditor W. C. Jerome.

This figure, which is lower than the total asked and allowed last year—$8,466,600—is subject to increase as a group of departments, including the board of supervisors, court house and grounds, grand jury, county courts and miscellaneous, have no figures set up on the sheets for estimated requirements and the totals expended last year were used in arriving at the grand total.

Several additional items appear on the budget sheets this year, including veterans' welfare and county planning commission. Departments showing heavy increases are noted as flood control and elections. Last year $15,800 was asked for flood control, while this year the request totals $60,850. Election requests last year were $18,050, while this year that division, because of the primary and general election, has estimated requirements amounting to $52,900.

Budget Requests

The actual budget requests listed on the sheets, to which the supervisors devoting considerable thought and study, total $7,565,302.99. The actual expenses for last year of the following divisions—board of supervisors, grand jury, constables, courthouse and grounds, superior courts, justice courts, game warden, care and evamination of insane and miscellaneous—amounting to $189,332.42, were added to the above figure to get the indicated grand total of $7,754,635.41.

Additional proof of the fact that the greatest portion of county taxes are expended for education and roads is seen in the fact that the bulk of the requested amounts is included in the school and road funds. These two amount to a total of $6,183,999, of which $1,988,347 is requested by the road department, and $4,195,652 is required for county schools. The school amounts are divided as follows: elementary and kindergarten, $2,095,881; high schools, $1,809,092; junior colleges, $290,679.

Auto License Fund

Indications that the county expects to distribute a larger share of the auto license tax to cities throughout the county next year, were seen in connection with the set up of the auto license fund, which shows a tentative reserve for assistance to cities of $117,368. This fund also lists various

HOOVER-YOUNG BRIDGE GROUP RESUMES MEET

Engineering Data Submitted By Experts for Proposed Bay Structure

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—(UP)—The Hoover-Young bay bridge commission resumed its executive sessions today, when they were to hear from several professional sources more engineering data.

Most of yesterday's session was taken up with a report of borings along the various proposed routes. On the Rincon Hill-Alameda route, bedrock was found 1400 feet from the west shore at a depth of 223 feet, for the first pier. For the second, another 1400 feet out, rock was found at 50 feet. These piers would support the longest span.

Engineers drilled 300 feet from the Alameda side without reaching bedrock, the commission was told, but pilings can be used successfully. On the Rincon Hill-Goat Island route, rock was found at a depth of 150 feet between the west slope and the island.

Lester Ready, engineer for hte state railroad commission, said that a double deck bridge will be necessary to handle increased traffic. There would be six lanes above for passenger automobiles, four below for trucks and two on the lower level for electric trains.

With 4,500,000 automobiles crossing the bay during 1929, Ready said, the earnings from the bridge would more than justify its erection.

HERE IS LIST OF THOSE WHO WILL REGISTER YOU TO VOTE

With registrations being made rapidly throughout the county in the past three days, County Clerk J. M. Backs again issued another warning to those who have not registered that Saturday is the last day on which they can get their names on the great register for voting at the primaries.

The clerk will keep his office open in the afternoon and as late in the evening as interest in registering at his office justifies. He said he would stay until midnight if there was a rush.

He pointed out that in Santa Ana there are some 30 registrars who stand ready to help register those who have neglected this important act. If necessary the registrars will call at homes to make registrations.

Among those who are legally competent to represent the clerk in official registration of residents in Santa Ana are the following:

Clara E. Bullock, 515 E. Walnut, who has a stand on West Fourth street for accommodation of those who may be down town; Dollkins B. Sawdey, 1423 W. Fourth street; R. R. Smith, 120 W. Third; Clara B. FLOODS IN INDIA MENACE KARACHI

KARACHI, India, July 24.—(UP)—Serious floods were spreading through the upper Sind today.

Shikapur and Larkana were evacuated Wednesday night when alarming breaks occurred in the banks of the Indus and adjoining canals.

Karachi was partly flooded.

All telegraph service to the interior has been suspended since 1 a. m. because of damage to the main cables. Crops were damaged to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Three relief trains crowded with refugess arrived here today. The flooded condition of this city makes it impossible to house many more, but they keep coming.

GARDENER BURNED TO DEATH IN SANTA ANA CANYON BLAZE

500 Acres Of Bryant Ranch Burned Over

Charred Body Is Found By State Forest Ranger From Orange

CHARLES LIVERMORE, 34, gardener at the Bryant ranch, in the Santa Ana canyon, 20 miles from Santa Ana, was burned to death yesterday afternoon, in a range fire that swept over more than 500 acres of the ranch before it was brought under control by scores of volunteer fire fighters.

How Livermore was caught in the fire and burned before his comrades could rescue him, had not been explained here today. His charred body was found soon after the fire started.

The body was taken to the Seale funeral parlors at Fullerton, pending an inquest which may be held in San Bernardino county, according to Coroner Charles D. Brown, as the body was found lying in a charred field, just a few feet over the Orange county line.

Coroner Brown today was attempting to communicate with the coroner of San Bernardino county, in an effort to determine the time and place of the inquest.

How the fire started still is a mystery. It was suddenly seen to swoop, like a prairie fire, over the tall grass on the ranch and was completely out of control for several hours before ranch employes banded to beat it out.

The body of Livermore was found by G. A. Sherman, forest ranger of Orange, who was called to the scene soon after the fire started and who directed the men in their fight against the flames.

Livermore was an ex-Canadian soldier. He fought with the 216th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Forces and saw service in a number of important engagements. He enlisted on January 25, 1917, at Quebec.

He had been a gardener at the Bryant ranch for the past several months, going there from the employe of D. Eyman Huff, at Hewes Park, it was reported.

An uncle of the man, M. Inskeep, of San Francisco, wired Coroner Brown this morning that he was on his way to Fullerton to attend the inquest and to make arrangements for the funeral.

SUE OPERATORS OF WRECKED AIRPLANES

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—A motion picture aerial tragedy last January which claimed the lives of ten men, echoed in superior court here today when executors of Kenneth Hawks, film director, sued the Tanner Air livery for $150,000.

The air livery operated the two large airplanes which collided over Point San Vincente while Hawks and a number of employes were filming an air sequence for a motion picture.

HOOVER MEETS G. O. P. LEADERS IN WASHINGTON

Situation Revolving Around Claudius Huston Taken Up at Parley

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(UP)—President Hoover conferred today with two Republican national committee officers who have acted as his emissaries in the situation revolving about Chairman Claudius H. Huston, of the committee, after their return from a secret overnight trip to New York.

James Francis Burke, counsel of the committee, and J. R. Nutt, treasurer, declined to discuss their New York mission, but it was indicated they had met or communicated with Huston, whose resignation had been expected in accordance with a reported understanding that the chairman would resign soon after the senate adjourned. Huston was reported visiting at the home of his friend, J. Henry Rorabach, Connecticut Republican national committeeman, near New York.

The two national committee officers conferred with Mr. Hoover shortly after a breakfast conference between the president and Republican floor leader Watson, who has taken a hand in the Huston matter.

The rapid series of developments here prompted the belief that some definite action might be expected soon. President Hoover was reported by close friends as being ready to act if Huston does not retire voluntarily.

SEEK ACCOMPLICE OF FLINT SLAYER

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—The hunt for a "mystery" accomplice of Frank D. Keaton, slayer of Motley H. Flint in a courtroom here July 14, gained added impetus today when another witness in the case was found by state's attorneys.

The new witness substantiated a story of another previously interviewer, who said he saw a man conversing with Keaton shortly before the latter shot Flint. The man left the court before the shooting, it was stated.

Louis Selznick, film magnate, and Mrs. Selznick, who were involved in the court case in which Flint was testifying just before he was slain, also told of seeing the man police said they had a description of him.

JAPAN EXPECTED TO SIGN NAVAL TREATY

TOKIO, July 24.—(UP)—Emperor Hirohito of Japan had the London naval treaty before him for consideration today, and was expected to refer it to the privy council shortly.

The treaty was submitted to the emperor by Premier Yuko Hamaguchi. After approval by the privy council, which is almost certain, the treaty was believed assured of passage by parliament, despite the strong opposition in naval quarters. The Japanese public heartily favors the treaty, and public opinion was expected to prevail with the members of the parliament.

Widow Sues Son In Hospital Bed

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(UP)—Mrs. Laura Jane Kirk, 80, widow of John R. Kirk, inventor of the first farm machinery, today took the first step in a legal battle with her son, Norman T. Kirk, of San Marino, by giving a deposition from a bed in a sanitarium.

Mrs. Kirk was unable to appear in court because of a broken hip which has confined her to the hospital for more than a year. She sued her son for $30,000, claiming she gave it to him to invest for her. Kirk asked for appointment of a guardian for his mother on the ground of incompetency.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 24.—Some say we cannot go on maintaining a higher standard of living for our people than that enjoyed in other nations. We have done so for generations. That is the fact. The theory that it cannot continue may be no better than the theory that it will last indefinitely. Some nation always has taken the lead.

But supposing we shall finally reach the same position as others. That is no reason why we should now relinquish our supremacy and descend to their level. It is our business to make our conditions the best as long as we can. We would not be justified in tamely surrendering our treasure now because at some time it may be exhausted.

To become equal to others we must go down or they must go up. For us to go down would not in itself raise others.

Our example of a free and prosperous people has been the sovereign remedy for world oppression. The truth is our trade regulations are more fair to others than theirs are to us. And what is of chief importance is the great service we render by giving credits and furnishing markets. The higher our stands, the greater our progress, the more we do for the world.

CAROLINA SENATOR FATALLY WOUNDED

MONCKS CORNER, S. C., July 24.—(UP)—State Senator E. J. Dennis, 53, was shot and probably fatally wounded here today in what friends said was the culmination of a political feud of long standing.

"Sporty" Thornley, young Moncks Corner man, was arrested and held on a technical charge pending outcome of Dennis' wounds. The senator was rushed to a hospital at Charleston, where surgeons said there was little hope of recovery. He was shot in the back three times with a shotgun.

CHURCH ISSUES BEING USED IN CANADA BALLOT

Conservatives Making Effort to Win Some of 61 Commons Seats

MONTREAL, Que., July 24.—(UP)—Issues of religion have entered the Canadian general election campaign particulraly in the Province of Quebec, where conservatives are making a determined effort to win some of the 61 seats in commons now held by Liberals.

Prime Minister Taschereau of Quebec, campaigning on behalf of Liberal candidates at L'Angle Gardin charged that the right honorable R. H. Bennett, Conservative leader, was "the right arm of Anderson who took the crucifixes out of our schools."

"Anderson" was the leader of the Conservative government in Saskatchewan, who, according to Taschereau, not only removed crucifixes from the French schools of that province but forbade nuns wearing their traditional religious garb in the school rooms.

Speaking at St. Anne de Beaupre Taschereau appealed to the French speaking people of Quebec to support the Liberal government of Prime Minister MacKenzie King.

P. A. Seguin, a Liberal, at St. Lin, Quebec, in a speech declared:

"Another reason which should induce you to vote in favor of the King government is that it has seven Catholic ministers and the rights of the Catholic population of the country will be well protected."

But, despite the injection of such issues, the tariff and unemployment remain the important questions in the election.

Schedule Resumed After Liner Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24. —(UP)—The around-the-world liner President Polk will sail from here on schedule for Honolulu next Friday afternoon, despite the fire on board which last night killed one man and sent passengers and crew hurrying to the dock.

The victim was A. Martinez, a member of the "black gang" working in the boiler room at the time of the fire. A smouldering rag falling into a pool of waste oil started the blaze.

BENEVENTO, ITALY, July 24.—(UP) — South Central Italy was crushed today beneath the dust and debris of cities and towns in five once flourishing provinces.

In the ruins of these towns, flattened by yesterday's earthquake, were believed to lie the bodies of more than 3700 persons, victims of what may prove to be Italy's most appalling disaster since the Messina tragedy of 1908.

No count of the dead has been bade in many towns, and in others the extent of the tragedy only can be estimated.

Towns Wiped Out

Of some of these towns it can be eruly said that nothing remains. Nothing, that is, but a comparatively few survivors, wandering aimlessly and in a daze, searching for lost families and trying to pick up the threads of existence.

Two-thirds of the population of Villanova-Albanese, two days ago a town of 300, have vanished. That is an estimate but the estimate is born out by soldier-relief workers, digging over the ruins, uncovering the crushed bodies of hundreds, and giving them hasty burial in common graves.

There is no possible method of checking the numbers of dead. Every public building, and with it every record and tally of the inhabitants, is destroyed. The work of burial is necessarily fast, and identification of the bodies almost impossible.

Only Two Days Left In Which To Register

There are only two days more on which the citizens of Santa Ana and Orange county can register in order to vote on primary day, August 26th.

It is declared that the percentage of registration in Santa Ana is below that of all the rest of the county.

Whatever may be your thought in regard to candidates, you should be prepared to vote on primary day, and if you haven't registered this year, you must do so in order to be qualified to vote. It takes a little effort, but the right of citizenship is invaluable.

The obligations are great. You will want to do your part in making the selection of candidates. For some of the offices important issues are before the people, and you are needed to help in the decision.

REGISTER Friday without fail.

to Birch Park where the official dedication ceremonies will be held.

The Santa Ana High school band, under the direction of Prof. D. C. Cianfoni will conduct a concert at Birch Park, starting at 11 o'clock. This will continue until well into the afternoon.

At Birch Park W. C. Jerome, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will act as chairman and will introduce Mayor Frank L. Purinton, who will deliver the address of welcome. Bert Meek will respond with the dedication address to be followed by Sam Dudlext who will speak on the importance of the early completion of Manchester avenue. Visiting guests then will be introduced.

To Attend Dinner

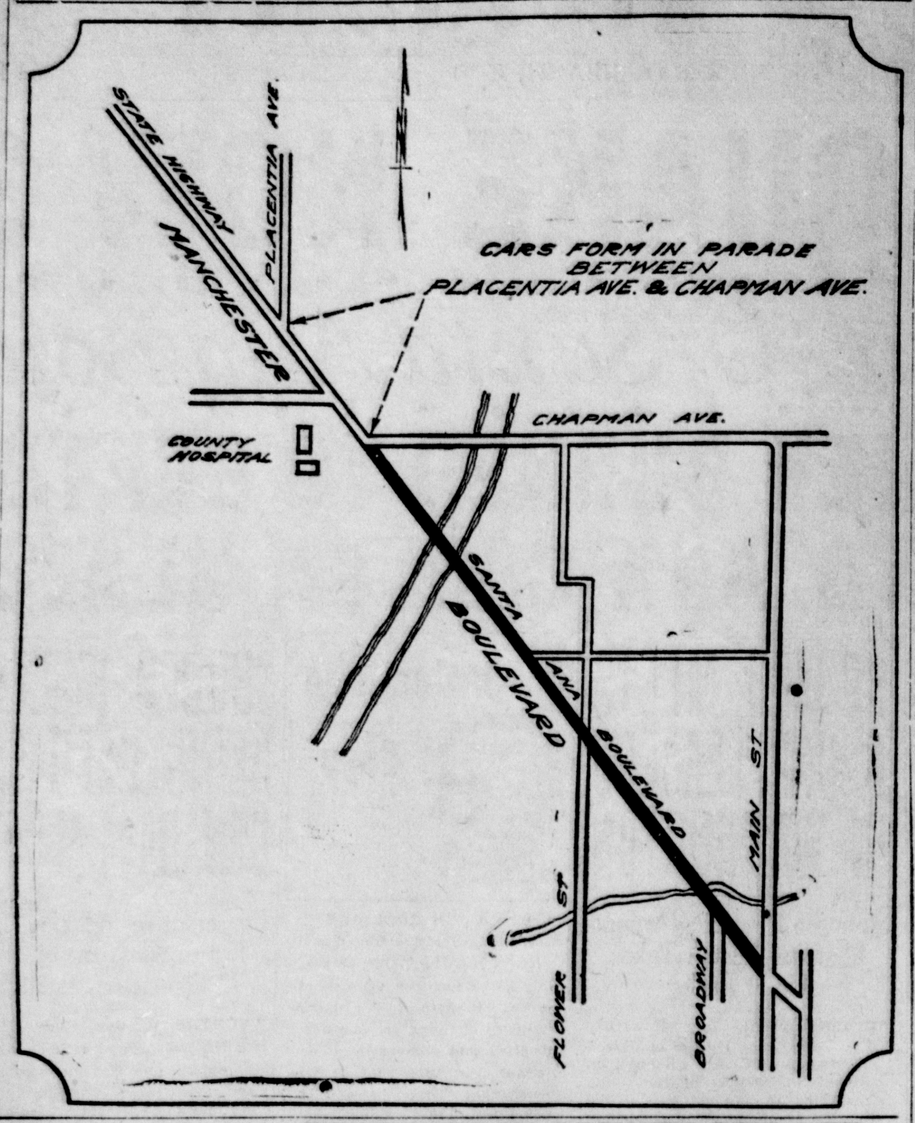

Following the meeting invited guests, city and county officials and editors of the various newspapers in Orange county will attend a dinner at 1 o'clock at St. Ann's inn. Program for the afternoon has not been announced.

Mayor Purinton today issued a proclamation calling on the citizens of the city to decorate the streets through which the parade will proceed on Saturday.

The entire new artery has been completed with the exception of the Flower street bridge which probably will be thrown open to traffic within the next week or ten days.

TESTS ON LIGHT DELAYED DUE TO TUBE ACCIDENT

That Dr. A. A. Michelson, noted Chicago scientist now in Southern California rechecking his tests on the speed of light, will have to remain in the Southland until midwinter was predicted today with the breaking of a special air pump used to draw oxygen from the mile long iron tube on the Irvine ranch south of Santa Ana.

Repairs on the pump will be difficult and further work on the vacuum tube will be delayed until fall. Michelson planned to return to Chicago before winter but announced that he will stay here and complete his experiments.

The tube, situated several miles east of the Martin airport, is the only one of its kind in the world. The method of determining the velocity of light consists of sending a light beam to a revolving mirror, from where it is reflected back and forth. The mirror turns from 500 to 1000 times a second.

First experiments were made on Mt. Wilson in the open air but with the vacuum tube varying air conditions are eliminated and experiments can be made accurately and at any time. Michelson was at the tube nearly a month ago inspecting his instruments.

FULLERTON BOARD ASKS SCHOOL SURVEY

By a vote of four to one, the Fullerton high school and junior college board has voted to ask the county board of supervisors to appoint a committee to make an educational survey looking to the establishment of one junior college in the county. J. A. Prizer, president of the board, was the only member voting against the project.

The Santa Ana board, at a joint meeting with the Fullerton group Tuesday night, voted to ask the supervisors to name such a committee.

The board of supervisors last year in making allowances for unbudgeted reserves, included a sum for possible use in erection of an addition to the court house to relieve congestion there, with the understanding that further amounts would be added in the future until sufficient funds were available to permit the work. In the meantime, however, part of the congestion has been relieved by moving the welfare department and the farm advisors office outside the court house and the immediate need had been alleviated. Members of the board state that while rents remain at the present lvels it would not be good business to consider building an addition to the court house.

The increased item for flood control this year, is due to another investigation that is being made relative to the development of a program for the county. The amount includes $15,000 for consulting engineers, $8000 for field and office expense, $3600 for an engineer, $6750 for assistants engineers, $9,000 for election and $3500 for exploration of a dam site.

The county park fund includes two items of $10,000 each for a storage building and rest rooms.

New equipment for the sheriff is to include gas apparatus, submachine gun and four riot guns.

LIONS CLUB TOLD OF EUROPEAN TRIP

Louis Danz, Anaheim music dealer, today regaled members of the Santa Ana Lions club with some ludicrous situations he observed during a recent trip abroad.

"Snapshots Abroad," is the caption under which the music dealer presents a most interesting and entertaining talk on his tour through European countries. The speaker has a fine sense of humor and the faculty for presenting his observations.

Solo numbers by James Sewell, accompanied by Miss Helen Lutz, were other features presented in a program arranged by Ray Adkinson as program chairman.

first violent shock ground their homes to powder, were entombed together. In other cases, sole survivors succeeded miraculously in crawling to safety later to wander, crazed and hysterical, through the ruins.

When I arrived at Villanova-Albanese, soldiers were bringing the dead from the upper strata of debris where they had been pinned. Scores of the victims were crushed beyond recognition. As fast as they were uncovered, the dead were borne on stretchers to the cemetery for burial.

Hundreds of Dead

Even the rapid work of the soldiers, however, could not keep pace with the discovery of more and still more bodies, and as I wandered through the desolate scene, hundreds of dead were still awaiting burial, laid out on long rows of stretchers and covered with cloth.

The suburbs of Villanova, in particular that of Villanova Del Battista, suffered even more complete devastation than the main section of the town. That suburb actually exists no more. It is gone—swallowed up or ground into bits in the jaws of the earthquake.

There was one survivor, 70-year-old Giovanni Albanesi, his entire family of six grown children gone. He has no home. There is one son yet living, but he is in America. Where? Albanesi shakes his head. He does not know, but he thinks it is somewhere in New York state.

That is typical of scores and scores of families.

Plane Passenger Starts Big Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—(UP)—An air tourist was held accountable today for one of several fires that have caused considerable damage in California national forests.

The lookout at Shasta National forest fire post saw a blaze spring up in the wake of an airliner, it was reported to federal forestry authorities. The supposition was that a careless passenger had thrown a lighted cigar or cigaret from the cabin.

Placards warning passengers against the practice have been installed in all liners entering California.

In Mono National forest, a damaging blaze swept a region hitherto thought impervious—the famed asbestos beds. Bare of brush and grass, it had not been thought the region would "feed" a fire, but W. M. Maule, supervisor, reported that it was the worst fire he had ever seen in that region.

DOCTORS SOLVE MIXUP IN BABIES

CHICAGO, July 24. — (UP)— Babies Bamberger and Watkins were roused early today from lullaby land to be nursed and bathed and freshly diapered for the big moment when eight scientists will announce which is who.

The question of "which is who?" became of dramatic importance a little more than a week ago when William Watkins proudly officiated for the first time in the ceremony of bathing the infant brought home from the hospital by his wife. He discovered the baby was labeled "Bamberger." Then Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger found the baby they had was marked "Watkins."

Girl Arrested On Check Charge Free

An 18-year-old girl arrested yesterday by city police on a charge of issuing a fictitious check to the Santa Ana Register, was released from the county jail late yesterday, when The Register decided not to push the case against her.

Police were checking the activities of a 17-year-old boy who had been arrested as an "escape" from the Preston school, and were of the opinion that the youth had cashed the check at The Register. On investigation, it was learned that a girl had appeared with the check and the girl, seen earlier in custody with the youth, was then arrested.

The boy is being held by juvenile authorities on check charges, for the alleged theft of an automobile in Arizona and also for escaping from the juvenile school at Preston.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Individuality is constituted by character. Whatever is innate develops through the experiences and relationships which make up a life. You have had your part in molding the character of the one you love, but God has done everything for that individual which he or she would respond to.

Whether or not the one you love has as yet become all that God and you have hoped, God loves that one as completely as if it were His only child, and He will never permit it to cease to exist.

The individual person persists with the character with which you have become familiar but goes on growing stronger and better. You must keep pace with your dear one by striving to be at your best.

CUNIUS—In Santa Ana, July 23, 1930, Charles H. Cunius, of Laguna Beach. Notice of funeral will be given later by Smith and Tuthill.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement, as expressed by the beautiful floral offerings contributed for the funeral of our beloved son, John Melvin Trushein.

MR. AND MRS. EARL TRUSHEIN.

Two new leaders were perched at the top of the two divisions of the Santa Ana Register - Fox West Coast theaters popularity contest today, with the latest counting of votes which took place last night.

Norman Paul, who has been in second place among the boys since the contest opened, went into first place over Mario Merurio, with a lead of some 40,000 votes, while Corrine Pennington went into first place among the girls, some 40,000 votes ahead of Luvina Layton Schade, who has been leading for the past several days.

Other contestants showed remarkable gains over the past several days, Everett Conkright being nearly up with the two first positions and Dorothy Reynolds, of Orange, making rapid strides in the girls' division.

There are 14 in the contest who stand out above the others, all with an equal chance to win. The contest closes exactly one month from today.

The leader will be given the leading part in a big motion picture to be made by the Fox corporation in Santa Ana and pick of the various prizes which have been offered by Santa Ana merchants.

Votes can be obtained through admission tickets to the two Fox theaters (extra ballots being given for this), through the sale of newspaper subscriptions to the Santa Ana Register and through the sale of articles at any of the stores in which merchants in the contest have entered prizes.

FEDERAL BOARD WORK OUTLINED FOR RANCHERS

J. W. James, of Washington, D. C., representative of the Federal Farm board, spoke before a large group of ranchers at a farm bureau meeting in room 11 of the junior college building here last night.

The speaker outlined in his discussion the marketing act which created the Federal Farm board, the purpose of which was to enable producers to market crops collectively. Jones declared that if agriculture was organized, production could be controlled quite easily, whereas now many of the crops are marketed by the individual who has little or no control over production. He went on to say that assistance has been given by the federal board to a number of organizations to enable them to carry out their program of expansion and credit extension.

Speaking of the California Lima Bean association, Jones said that they were in a favorable position in that the area adopted to lima bean culture is quite limited. The board representative emphasized the good results obtained in advertising citrus fruits as a corrective for many ailments.

Earl Campbell, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, acted as chairman of the meeting. J. A. Smiley, executive director of the California Farm Bureau federation, also participated in the meeting.

GORMAN FREE AFTER HEARING IN COURT

Lack of evidence against Ralph Gorman, returned here from Kansas City several days ago to face charges of conspiracy to violate the California Corporate Securities act and selling stock without a permit, caused Justice Kenneth Morrison to dismiss both charges in his court this morning.

Gorman was one of five men wanted here on the charge, but was the only one apprehended. Deputy Sheriff F. W. Howard went back to Missouri and stayed several days while extradition papers were prepared and the prisoner was returned here several days after that.

The defendant was represented in court by Attorney Franklin G. West.

Gorman and his four "friends" were accused of selling stock in a non existing company to a number of Orange county residents.

The purpose of the organization will be to effect better co-operation between police officers of the valley.

Program Change Explained At Church Mass Meeting

at a mass meeting held last night by the congregation of the First Christian church, the pastor, the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, presented the proposed "Graded-Unified Service of Worship and Instruction," which had been discussed by leaders of the Christian church for the past two nights. From all three services have come many favorable eractions to the thought of trying this service from October 12 to January 1. Final action will be taken in September. First the official board will decide whether it is favorable, then the Sunday school and congregation will vote class by class using the secret ballot.. If a large enough percentage is favorable at that time, the program will be given a trial for three months, it is said by church leaders.

A detailed statement of the proposed "Graded-Unified Service of Worship and Instruction" is given in this article. "I beg that the public shall not gain the false impression that this is just a question of a different time schedule. That is secondary and many variations of time schedules are used by different congregations. The important thing is the fundamental underlying principles of education procedure. The Santa Ana Christian church is starting a discussion of the same principles but with a different time schedule," said the pastor.

In the course of his talk the Rev. Mr. Minck said, "The important factors center in the worship service, and the united loyalties. At present we ask our people to attend two worship services, one at Sunday school and one at church. Under the new program there is only the worship service and preparation is made for that service in advance during the church school time. Under the present system we ask our pupils to be loyal to a Sunday school, a Christian Endeavor society, and a church. In the past few years the Christian Endeavor and Sunday school has consolidated the organization of the Christian Endeavor and Sunday school. Now we are proposing to eliminate the last division by having beginners church, primary church, junior church, and even cradle roll church.

"Then there will be intermediate, high school, young people's, and adult departments of the Christian church. The last named departments have their choice of coming to worship at 9 o'clock or 11 o'clock. They will not come both times for it will be the same service with the same sermon. It will be noted that the 9 o'clock service will be primarily in charge of the boys and girls and young people. They will take the offering. They will lead in the responsive reading. They will furnish the ushers. They will furnish one of the special musical numbers. Each department will sing a verse of the hymn which was studied the preceding week and which is in keeping with the theme of the worship service. The 11 o'clock service will repeat all of these parts of the worship service under the direction of the pastor.

"Of course it becomes evident at once that a person can come to church at nine and be through at 11 o'clock. But the pastor is urging that this be done only by those who find it more convenient to do so. Some will want to attend church elsewhere at 11 and will come to the Christian church at 9. Some will want to take a trip and will come at nine. Some will want to have their dinner early and will come at nine. Many will have children who are expected at nine and they will of course come with them and go home at 11. However, many will prefer coming to church at 10 and having worship at 11 and going home at 12. It it is just as convenient for a member, I urge them to do this."

When asked why he did not have just one worship service, the Rev. Mr. Minck gave several reasons. "Most churches who have the 'Graded-Unified Service of Worship and instruction' only have the one worship service. Usually that comes at 9:30. That was not possible here because we have a community men's class that meets at that hour. Until all of the churches in town see fit to adopt this program, if they ever do, it would not be possible for the community class to change time schedule. Moreover, I feel that in all fairness to people they ought to have a chance to choose between at least two hours when they would attend worship. This plan also makes it possible for members of the Christian church to go to the morning service of other congregations at 11 after attending our service at 9 if they so desire. It is also possible for members of other congregations to attend our 9 o'clock service and still get to their Sunday school class and church service," the pastor pointed out.

"This program gives more time for Christian education with the little children. The average child has about 46 hours Sunday school under the present system. Under the proposed program helpful elements such as acting out Bible stories, using hand work, having more stories about the Bible and missions as well as the present period of worship and class instruction. Parents would not think of educating their child with only 48 hours of public school per year. We must face the fact that more time is needed to build Christian character. This longer period will not be tiresome because it is divided by a recess of play or marching and because it has so many new and interesting elements which time forbids under the old system," the speaker explained.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said, "Don't think that we have a 1912 engine under a 1930 hood. The old system of Sunday school departments was adopted in 1912 at Louisville, Key. Don't think we have that old worn out engine under the 1930 hood of a new time schedule. A careful study of the plan will convince you that we have a 1930 engine in our educational and worship program. If we didn't have, I would not spend a minute on the proposed change."

About six congregations in California, including Glendale, Watsonville, Burbank and Figeroua Christian church, Los Angeles, already have programs built on these principles. All have been very successful with no thought of going back to the old. About one hundred congregations in the United States have the program including some congregations of other communions. Most of these are very decided in their intention to continue with the new program. The oldest attempt is 11 years old and it has grown stronger every year, but it took the rest of the Christian world a long time to follow suit, it was revealed during the meeting.

The proposed program in worship and instruction which may adopted in September and May and which may be tried from October 12 to January 1, is as follows:

Proposed program for boys and girls, young people and adults (for 4th graders and older: 9:00 a. m., organ prelude (auditorium), hymns (studied the week before), responsive reading led by the various department on alternating Sundays; prayer; communion (juniors leave here); offering taken by young people; offertory, special by youth; solo or other special from some member of adult choir (which will not be present); sermon by pastor with illustrations adapted to youth.

9:55 a. m., organ recessional for those above the junior department to go to their department.

10:00 to 10:20, preparation for next Sunday's worship. This is led by the various heads of the several departments.

10:25 to 10:55, classes.

10:55, organ prelude for the second church service which is only for those who did not come to the 9:00 a. m. service. Hymns, responsive reading, prayer, communion, offering; anthem by adult choir which was not present at 9 o'clock service. Sermon, the same message as at 9:00 a. m. with older illustrations. 12 o'clock

Proposed program for younger children (for 3rd graders and younger), Cabin Mothers and Babies, mothers and babies in arms will attend either the 9:00 a. m. or the 11:00 a. m. church service. Mrs. Cole's nursery class will be in session from 9:00 a. m. to 10:55 a. m. with two recesses in the form of marches or play.

Beginners' church (4 and 5 years) 9:00 a. m. to 10:55 p. m. with two recesses in the form of marches or play; start with play, worship, new story, hand work, new songs, marching or play, simple acting out of Bible stories, class period, dismissal at 10:55 a. m.

Primary church (1st, 2nd and 3rd grades) 9:00 to 10:55 with recesses or play informal period, worship, class period for new lesson, march or game, rest, new song or scripture missionary story, hand work or simple acting out of Bible stories, room in order, 10:55 a. m. dismissal.

Junior church (4th and 5th grades) 9:00 a. m. to about 9:30 a. m., church auditorium for worship and communion. Leave during offering and come to department room for preparation for next Sunday's worship and missionary story, hand work, class period, 10:55 a. m. dismissal.

S. A. ATTORNEY EXPLAINS WORK TO LIONS CLUB

ORANGE, July 24.—Sidelights on the workings of the district attorney's office were given by Preston Turner, deputy district attorney at the regular meeting of the Lion's club here yesterday. The racial difference between the attitude of the people in general in this country and the people in general in France and England toward a defendant, was pointed out by the speaker.

In this country, Turner said, there is usually sympathy for the defendant while in France and England such sympathy is not shown until the defendant is proven innocent.

The jury system is the fairest known system by which a man may be tried ,the speaker declared. He gave several examples of cases when juries had returned unexpected verdicts. When one case was tried, he said, the jury was out four days and disagreed and when the same evidence was presented to another jury sitting on the same case, they returned a verdict .of guilty in 40 minutes.

H. O. Wallace was program chairman and Ivan Swanger presided at the meeting in the place of the president, Dr. J. E. Riley, who is still in the east. Visiting Lions were George Ash and Ray Atkinson of Santa Ana.

ROBERT J. LEE STILL MISSING AT LATE HOUR

ORANGE, July 24.—Search for Robert J. Lee, missing from his home, 343 North Olive street, since Friday night, is being continued by his friends here and by police officials of Long Beach, according to J. N. Welker, close friend of the missing man.

When last seen Lee left the office of the Garrish Realty company at Long Beach Saturday evening, after having left this city for La Vida Hot Springs in Carbon canyon Friday. The same evening he telephoned his wife that he would not be home. No one at the Hot Springs can be found who has seen him since he left that place and his movements since he left the Long Beach real estate office cannot be traced.

When last seen Lee was wearing a black suit and a straw hat. He was without a vest and had no luggage with him. He is about 55 years told and has no relatives, with the exception of his wife and a brother who lives in Kentucky.

It is known by friends here that Lee was despondent over the condition of his health, and that he talked continually of seeking relief for his condition at some hot springs resort. He was advised by a physician to walk five miles a day and avoid driving a car, Welker says, and this advice was not pleasing to him.

No reason for Lee's absence can be given by his friends, who think he is a victim of amnesia. Mrs. Lee is reported on the verge of a nervous breakdown as the result of the strain of the past few days.

The "clinic" at the old headquarters will include exhibits of many types of automotive parts that will be of interest to motorists, Harlow pointed out.

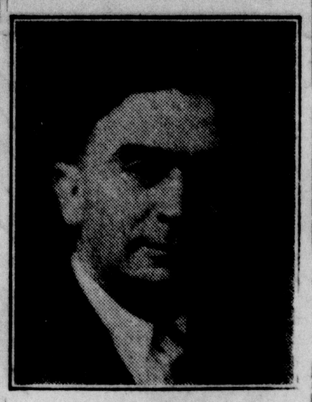

The entertainment program will feature the Haywire band, melody makers of Automotive Booster club B 20 of Southern California, and "Cecil and Sally," of radio fame in "Thirty Minutes in a Broadcast Studio."

Following the program, visitors will repair to the new headquarters at 201 Spurgeon street, where Eugene V. Biscailuz, superintendent of the California state highway patrol, will deliver an address. Refreshments will be served at conclusion.

Robert Hockaday, Harry Harlow and Earl Phillips, who compose the automotive parts firm, have made marked progress in development of their business into a chain store organization, it was pointed out today by friends. They now have stores at Santa Ana, Fullerton, Oceanside, Anaheim, Orange and Whittier. In changing to 201 Spurgeon street, the firm has moved its local store three times, each time into larger quarters. CITIZENS MAY USE Y. CABINS IN MOUNTAINS

A change in the schedule of dates for Osceola, the Y. M. C. A. summre camp, will give an opportunity for some people to enjoy a vacation at the camp wyho had not expected to be able to do so.

The shift has been made by combining two of the projected camps for younger boys, so that the "Friendly Indian" camp period will be from August 8 to August 15, instead of one week later. A number of Santa Ana boys have already made reservations for this camp, and there is still room for a few more in the Santa Ana quota. This period at comp is for boys from nine to twelve years of age.

Following the "Friendly Indians," from August 15 to August 26, there is an open period, which will be given to a "family camp" program. The announcement released by Conrad Jongewaard, "Y" secretary at Anaheim, who has the camp in charge, is to the effect that friends of the Y. M. C. A. may take their families to the camp, occupy the comfortable cabins, and make use of all the facilities, getting their meals at the dining room in Lions Lodge, and may stay for as many days as they like during this interval. The cabins will be assigned, so far as they last, one cabin to each family, or to each party. If the cabin accommodations are not sufficient, others can be cared for in tents.

With the improved roads leading to the camp, and with the improvements which have been made in camp equipment, the place has become an ideal location for an outing for people who enjoy the mountains and who like to camp out in comfort, but without all the conveniences of a resort hotel. Two cabins have already been spoken for by Santa Ana parties, and it is expected that more will be required to care for those who wish to take advantage of the opportunity.

PEACE EFFORTS ARE OUTLINED IN RADIO TALK

BY L. L. BEEMAN

We are now ready to take up the disintegration of the empires of Europe and the efforts and plans to stop the war and make peace. In order to make clear certain facts connected with these events, it is necessary to notice a few outstanding military events. In a previous talk, I stated that Germany's only hope for victory over both France and Russia was to make a sudden and ferocious attack on France, capture Paris and win a decisive victory in a very short time and then transfer her army to the east and defeat Russia. The Kaiser boasted that the German army would be in Paris within six weeks. This boast was almost made good. War was declared August 3 and on September 5, five weeks later, the German line was only about 15 miles from Paris.

Strategic Retreat

The French army had done little but make a masterly strategic retreat. France and her allies were greatly frightened. The French government offices were moved to Bordeaux and foreign officials moved out of Paris. General Galieni began preparing the capital of France for a siege. General Joffre was in command of the allied forces. He knew it would be suicidal to stand battle until his armies were well equipped and trained to the new methods of fighting and until his soldiers outnumbered the German soldiers. On September 5, 1914, the English and French lines touched each other for the first time and formed one continuous battle line from the North Sea to Switzerland, a battle line in the shape of a rainbow 600 miles long. On that day General Joffre issued that famous statement, "The hour has come to advance at all costs and to die where you stand rather than give way. My right is giving way, my left is falling back, therefore I attack on the center." Then began the great battle of the Marne. By the 14th of December, the German army had been driven back to the famous Hindenburg line, the nearest point of which was 70 miles from Paris. Losing this battle, the Germans lost the war.

French Fighters

It is interesting to note that in December, 1914, the Belgians held 18 miles, the English 31 miles and the French with two and one-half million men held the remaining 543 miles of that 600 mile battle line. The French had demonstrated their ability to fight and hurl back the most powerful army ever assembled. The battle line remained at about this same place, the Hindenburg line, for three years. Russia got into the action sooner than Germany expected and during the first year gained great victories. During 1915 Germany transferred her major activities to the east to subdue Russia, Roumania and Serbia. This gave the allies time to reorganize, reinforce, and equip their armies. This was fatal to Germany. At the beginning of 1916 the German staff decided just to hold the Russian weakened line and to strike a final irresistable and decisive blow to the Anglo-French armies before they became any stronger. On February, 21, 1916, the Germans opened a most terrific attack on the Verdun sector. On July 1st the Allies took the offensive on the Somme sector. Though they fought desperately they gained little, the Hindenbrug line held.

Little to Fear

By 1917 the Germans had little to fear on the eastern front, because the Russian revolution was beginning and Roumania and Serbia had been completely overcome, and the English-French campaign against Turkey in Gallipoli had completely collapsed. During the winter of 1917, Germany and Austria transferred troops from the eastern to the western front and in March of that year began their last great offensive which lasted till March, 1918, or a year. During this offensive the Germans drove the allied forces back all along the center from Epernay almost to the ocean, over a battle front 200 miles long.

1. Within the first five weeks of the war the German army swept ruthlessly and irresistably to the very gates of Paris at a tremendous cost to France in lives and property.

2. During the fall of 1914 the English, French and Belgians drove the Germans back about 55 miles to the famous Hindenburg line. Although both sides took the offensive at different times, this line held until late in 1917 or for three years.

Reinforce Army

3. In the meantime Russia, Serbia and Roumania in the east had collapsed and the Anglo-French offensive against Turkey in Gallipoli had failed completely. This allowed the Central powers to greatly reinforce their army in France with troops and supplies from the eastern front.

4. The Italian army was overwhelmingly defeated and England and France were compelled to weaken their lines in France to send help to Italy or run the great risk of being attacked in the rear by the victorious Austrian army coming across Italy.

5. The unrestricted submarine warfare of the Germans was playing havoc with allied shipping, sinking vessels by the hundreds, men by the thousands and supplies of inestimable value.

6. Although the United States had come into the war against Germany and it was hoped she would offset the great loss of Russia to the Allies the troops of the United States had not yet done anything, not because they were not willing and anxious, but largely because the English and French who were in superior command feared they would not stand against the tremendous onslaughts of the German army. They had been kept in camp drilling.

Ready For Peace

On December 12, 1916, Germany and Austria announced they were ready to enter into peace negotiations and suggested that delegates meet on some neutral territory for that purpose. The Allies refused because Germany was winning and wanted to dictate the terms of peace. They also felt that the Central Powers were not sincere in their asking for peace but were asking at a time when they knew the Allies would not accept in order to make it appear to the world that the war was being continued by the Allies and to cast reflections on them.

Six days later, December 18, President Wilson sent a note to the belligerent powers and a little later sent Colonel House, his most trusted advisor, to Europe to sound out the peace terms of the warring parties. In his note, President Wilson proposed "peace without victory," that is neither party should dictate the terms of peace because it had won a victory over the other. He also suggested that the nations enter into a league to prevent future wars and that each side state its war aims as a basis for negotiation. The Central Powers refused to state their war aims and refused to consider any method of preventing future wars until the present war was over. The Allies replied through Premier Asquith of England. He said his side was ready to agree to some arrangement to prevent future wars and expressed the war aims o fthe Allies in the three words "restitution, reparations and guarantees."

Explains Plans

On January 22, President Wilson went before the United States senate and explained his plan to establish peace in Europe on five conditions: (1) The peace must recognize and accept the principle governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed. (This is a quotation from Jefferson's Declaration of Independence.) This he said would apply the Monroe Dcotrine to the entire world—that no nation should seek to extend its power over any other nation. (2) All nations must avoid entangling alliances with other nations which would draw them into rivalry and war. (3) Freedom of the seas. (4) Reduction of armies and navies to mere police forces. (5) A guarantee for the future peace and security of all nations, by means of some kind of a league of nations.

As soon as the United States declared war, President Wilson assumed to speak for the Allies and for the United States. He declared the United States wanted nothing for herself but would fight to the limit for her resources to destroy German militarism. On January 8, 1918, he went before the United States congress and enlarged upon his five conditions of peace just mentioned by giving his famous 14 points as the basis on which the Allies would accept peace.

REV. TINSLEY TALKS TO CLUB IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 24.—To interpret the new and changing religious thought is the objective of the present day minister in providing a foundation for thought on which the individual may base a decision, according to Rev. George W. Tinsley, pastor of the First Christian church of Fullerton, who delivered the address to the Fullerton Lions club members at their weekly meeting at McFarland's cafe yesterday noon.

"While in many respects religious thought and observance as well as the church have changed in the past 25 years, the fundamental creeds and ideals remain the same," Tinsley pointed out. "The task of a preacher is now not so much a matter of imparting information as of providing facts by which the thought of the individual may be directed."

Rev. Tinsley appealed to his hearers to base their opinions of ministers not on those reformers whose crucades and reforms find sensational publicity, but on the bulk of the profession.

"It Controls the Nerves"

"I am a saleslady in a store. My nerves got the best of me and I never had good finger nails because I could not stop biting them off. My appetite was poor and I was always tired. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I know that it controls the nerves because I have no desire to bite my nails now, and they are long and well kept. My appetite is enormous and I feel like a new person. I have recommended your medicine to many girls with the same good results."—Ethel Fleetwood, 3023 Bandin Street, New Orleans, Louisiana.

TIRE manufacturers the country over have been raising a terrific advertising ado about "Mail Order" tires, so called. "Compare! Compare! Compare!" has been their wail. They have quoted prices purporting to show they have tires that can be bought just as low as Sears, Roebuck's famous ALLSTATES which have rolled in a tidal wave of popularity from coast to coast.

The Reason for All This Is Easy to Find

Put an ALLSTATE Tire on your car and check its service against any other brand you select—at any price. The results will explain one of the greatest tire successes in the industry. It is this ALLSTATE superiority that has increased Sears, Roebuck's tire sales 871 percent during the last six years, while the tire industry as a whole was increasing 35 percent. At this moment Sears, Roebuck sells one out of every ten tires bought for replacement.

It Takes a Mighty Good Tire to Succeed Like That

All along we have told you that ALLSTATES were the greatest money's worth you could find in tires. We have proven that to ourselves by every conceivable test and analysis to which a tire can be put. Now ALLSTATES themselves have proven it to the American motorist by their superior service and unmatched success.

Like all successes ALLSTATES have thrown consternation into the camps of competing tires. Claims have been made! Prices have been quoted! Attacks have been launched! The result has been confusing to the tire buyer.

The Public Is Entitled to the Plain Facts

The reputations of both Sears, Roebuck and of ALLSTATE Tires have been built on honest statements, honest service and honest value. All this flurry by manufacturing competitors is very flattering to us—and we are human enough to love to be flattered. But we cannot enjoy it half so much if we know the public is being confused. So here are the plain facts, plainly stated.

Every major tire manufacturer produces two grades of tires, namely a "first line" and a "second line." The "second line" tires are satisfactory—but naturally the "first line" are a great deal better. Sears, Roebuck is no exception to this. We have two grades—the famous ALLSTATES are "first line"; DEARBORN SR the "second line."

When manufacturing competitors have made price comparisons with ALLSTATES, they invariably have used their "second line" tires for the purpose. It is true their prices are just about the same as ALLSTATE prices. All of which is most complimentary—for ALLSTATES' "first line" standards call for so much more in quality that you cannot help buying them; especially when, as our friendly manufacturing competitors confess, ALLSTATES cost no more than their "second line" tires. On the other hand, if price is a prime consideration, Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR is as good as any "second line" tire to be had, and costs far less.

Here's the Best Advice We Can Give Tire Buyers

All recognized brands are good. But naturally, just as human nature varies, so do tires. Consequently some are better than others. If the "second line" prices are satisfactory, the same amount of money will buy "first line" quality in ALLSTATES with all they provide in the economy of greater service. But, if "second line" serves your purpose, then by all means buy the "second line" tire that costs the least—which is Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR. Our great tire volume, combined with the most economical method of distribution yet devised, makes these savings possible.

But by all means, in comparing tires, compare "first line" with "first line"—and "second line" with "second line." To make it easy for you to do this we are listing precisely which of the best known tires come in each classification.

Best Known "First Line" Tires	Best Known "Second Line" Tires
Goodyear—All Weather	Goodyear—Pathfinder
Goodrich—Silvertown	Goodrich—Cavalier
Firestone—Gum Dipped	Firestone—Oldfield
U. S. Royal	U.S.Rubber Co's Peerless
Sears, Roebuck's ALLSTATE	Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR

ROAD WIDENED IN LIMITS OF SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, July 24.—Work has started on the widening of the state highway within the city limits of San Clemente to a width of 56 feet for a distance of a little more than two miles, and the installation of ornamental lights along this new highway and down Del Mar to the ocean. John Holstrom, vice-president of the Griffith company, Los Angeles, successful bidders on the job at $152,562.74 signed the contract for the work with the city engineer, W. A. Dyer, Tuesday.

In the afternoon C. C. Beaty, foreman for the John R. Davies company, of Los Angeles, winners of the sub-contract for the electric light work, laid pipe to carry current to the standards.

A body of 15 men began work Wednesday on this part of the job which will require the laying of 30,000 feet of pipe and the erection of 174 ornamental light standards.

Dan Mulherron, San Clemente contractor, and one of the bidders on the original contract was awarded a sub-contract on all steam shovel and roller work by the Griffith company. Mulherron's shovel will start work this mornign. The first work calls for the widening of the highway at what is now known as "death curve" and the cutting down of the curve at the north entrance of the city.

By Monday more than 50 men will be at work on the contract which will take about 90 days to finish, according to the Griffith company.

PLACENTIA SCHOOL BOARD BUYS TRUCK

PLACENTIA, July 24. — The Placentia school board gave a contract for a new school bus to the Mack Truck company, at a special board meeting Tuesday evening, ordering a ton and a half chassis.

The chassis will be delivered within ten days, and the special body will be built by the Egge Body works of Santa Ana. It will be equipped with shatterproof glass, and will be reinforced with steel braces. A new and distinctive color scheme will be chosen for the new bus and all the old busses will be painted to correspond. The price for the new bus will be $4847. The board expects to purchase a new bus each year until all the old ones are replaced.

The board also voted to buy a Kellogg compressor, with a one and one-half horsepower motor and all equipment. This will also be used with a spray gun attachment to paint the busses.

Announce Working Date Of Fulllerton Water System

WILL RECEIVE PIPE SHIPMENT ON AUGUST 2

FULLERTON, July 24.—The first unit of the $100,000 water system extension will be started within the next three weeks, with the announcement today that the shipment of pipe purchased by the city of Fullerton is due to dock in San Pedro August 2. The work is to be done under the supervision of the city water department and by local labor.

According to present plans, actual work will begin August 11. The shipment, including about 20,000 feet of 12-inch and 430 feet of 8-inch cast iron pipe, fittings and other equipment, must first be inspected at the docks and then hauled to Fullerton, it was said.

Thme new line, which will serve the western part of the city, will start with a 12-inch main joining the 16-inch main at Ash avenue on Spadra road. It will proceed west to Malden avenue and south to the alley leading west into Valencia drive.

The 12-inch line will be carried west on Valencia drive to Nicholas avenue where it wil lbe turned north to Commonwealth avenue. At this point it will proceed west to Magnolia avenue on Commonwealth avenue and south on Magnolia avenue to Valencia drive where it will terminate.

Lateral mains will connect with present lines at Highland and Walnut avenues to serve the packing house district; at Richman avenue an 8-inch main to connect nect with present 8-inch lines on Commonwealth avenue and North Richman avenue.

Two mains now exist on Commonwealth avenue west of Richman avenue, one 4-inch and one 6-inch line, which will be fed from the new lateral to increase their pressure.

The small lines, three miles in length, serving the extreme western district of the city, have been providing inadequate pressure and service, it was pointed out by City Engineer C. M. Thorpe. The placing of the first new main in this section will augment pressure and service in th eentire western section of the city, from Highland avenue tothe boundary line.

S. M. Milovich, contractor, who is to put in the sewer and water lines in the Lansdowne No. 1 tract known as Fuller Park, recently annexed by the city, will start work about August 15, it was announced. The work, which is being done under and assesment district plan, will provide a distributing system adequate to offer service from the new mains to be installed to that point by the city, water department officials said.

In the eastern section of the city, expected to be the next unit of the expansion plan to be considered, City Engineer Thorpe has been instructed to estimate costs of a booster pump and elevated tank for North Cypress avenue district.

At present East Chapman avenue is served by a long 6-inch main east from Harvard avenue, which narrows to a four-inch line at Raymond avenue and expands to a six-inch size again at Acacia avenue. This "bottleneck" effect in the pine line cuts pressure materially, engineers declared. Eventually a feeding line east on Commonwealth avenue to connect the Chapman avenue main beyond the small four-inch line is planned in the expansion program, but for the present, the booster pump and elevated tank is expected to provide temporary relief from lack of pressure, which at times leaves some homes almost without water.

Grover L. Walters, water department superintendent, will be in charge of the maintenance of the system working with Engineer Thorpe in the extension of the new mains, which is to be done entirely with water works extension funds of the city now in the treasury accredited to the water department. Addition of 25 cents to the water rate several years ago has built up this fund to the point where expansion without a bond issue can be handled.

Repaint San Juan Capistrano School For Coming Term

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 24.—Improvements now under way on the local grammar school will make that institution one of the most attractive along the coastline. The long low building, set well back in its sweep of lawn, and shaded by aged pepper trees, has been treated to a coat of deep cream bondex; all woodwork around the doors and windows has been given a covering of rich brown and a new tile roof adds to the general effect.

A new fence will inclose the property, and new playground equipment will be added. In making the change from white to brown and tan, members of the school board were influenced after noticing that the white was hard on the eyes of the students.

Five teachers will be employed this comnig year. Miss Mabel Cooper, who has been re-engaged for principal; Mrs. Charles Crumrine, Miss Elva McHenry, Miss Elizabeth Joyce and Miss Mildred Pichard.

Ends Piles Quick

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. Cutting and external remedies can't do this—an internal medicine must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, succeeds, because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. HEM-ROD is sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success right in this city that Schramm-Johnson says to every Pile sufferer, try HEM-ROID at my risk. It must end all Pile agony or you get your money back.—Adv.

JUDGE FINES TWO BROTHERS FOR FIGHTING

LA HABRA, July 24.—David W. Mann of La Habra, candidate for constable of Brea township, and his brother, Aaron Mann of Brea, arrested Tuesday night for engaging in a fight over a woman near the Washington school grounds in La Habra, were fined yesterday in the office of Frank Halm, city judge.

It is reported that Mrs. Myrta Inman of Brea, an employe of a Santa Ana laundry, was keeping company with Aaron Mann against the wishes of the elder brother. David Mann saw the tko together at a ball game and protested to his brother, ending the affair by slapping Mrs. Inman.

A chase ensued with a spirited fight when Aaron caught up with his brother. T. J. Mellinger of Bellflower, an eye witness and a police officer, separated the brothers and Mellinger swore out a complaint. In the meantime, David Mann saw the two together Halm and asked for the arrest of his brother and Mrs. Inman. A hearing was held yesterday and David Mann was fined $10 and Aaron Mann, $5.

R. E. Haynes, candidate for district attorney, represented Aaron Mann in court, which David defended himself.

JOPLIN . . . an old Orange County name . . . tried and true . . .

For more than half a century the name has been known to citizens of Orange county, symbolic of the staunch pioneer character that moulded this land to its destiny; rooted in our early traditions. The Joplin record is carved there, indelibly, for all to read. The name has been tested in the crucible of long and exacting service . . . 30 years custody of public money . . . with every cent accounted for . . . but that is no surprise to the pioneers, who know the name Joplin.

Unswerving devotion to duty . . . safe and conservative care of a public trust . . . tried and true service . . . such virtues have a clear meaning for those who value honor and character, with efficiency, in a public officer. It has been no accident that the treasury of Orange county has been safe and sound for 30 years.

Sane business judgment will agree that his record, which has won for him a majority of the votes at every election since 1898, still is an adequate reason for re-electing

SCHOOL CUTUP IS LAUDED BY DOCTOR

DENVER, July 24.—(INS)—The small boy who brings snakes and toads into the school room has a champion.

He is Dr. Randall J. Condon, of Friendship, Me.

Dr. Condon's theory of education is a far cry from that of the school marm of year gone by who would box the ears of any boy caught smuggling a can of worms into the school house.

"The boy who has always been the terror of school teachers—bringing snakes and mice in education," said Dr. Condon. "What education needs today is more of that sort of thing.

"We should bring the life of the community into the school room. For years we thought that we would shut the school and the teachers off into a corner, where they would work out their problems in a special little nook set for them. That is not progress.

"The boy who brings the toad, the garter snake, the worm into the class room is all right. We should have more of such boys. They are displaying initiative, plenty of nerve and getting life into the school room, as, in later days, they will bring new life into the business, professional and scientific world by comparatively unorthodox and revolutionary methods."

Look for the word "Cream of Tartar" in the list of ingredients on your baking powder tin. All baking powders were originally Cream of Tartar products. Then cheaper substitutes appeared. These substitutes make a baking powder that is quite acceptable to some women, but Cream of Tartar is almost the unanimous choice of domestic science authorities, pure food departments, government bureaus, dietitians and doctors. Such a preponderance of expert opinion is the Schilling guide. Substitutes may be alright, but why compromise with anything but the finest.

CHAVEZ, REESE IN 10-ROUND GO TONIGHT

MIRACLES OF SPORT - - - BY ROBERT EDGREN

Davis Cup Pairings Favor U. S.

TILDEN DRAWS BOROTRA: LOTT MEETS COCHET

PARIS, July 24.—(INS)—America's Davis cup team was favored in the draw today when Big Bill Tilden was paired with Jean Borotra, bounding Basque, in the opening singles match tomorrow against France for the most coveted tennis trophy in the world.

Following the Tilden - Borotra clash, George Lott will face Henri Cochet, France's greatest star.

On Saturday John Van Ryan and Wilmer Allison, American doubles team, probably will clash with Cochet and Borotra, unless France should decide on the other doubles combination of Boussous and Brugdon.

On Sunday the final singles matches will be played, with Tilden meeting Cochet, his nemesis, and Lott crossing racquets with Borotra.

American Davis cup followers were more than delighted with the fortunes of the draw.

Tilden, despite his ankle injury, is favored to defeat Borotra on the opening day, and even if Lott loses to Cochet, as is expected, America will go into the doubles matches at least even with France. With Van Ryan and Allison at top form the two youngsters should repeat their sensational victory of last year.

Such a turn of fortune would throw the entire outcome of the 1930 Davis cup finals on the Sunday singles matches. A victory in either one of these for America consequently would return the big silver cup to American shores. Tilden, however, has never defeated the peerless Cochet in recent years and so the crucial match of the series, of predictions run true, will be that between Lott and Borotra.

Blue Larkspur Hurt, May Not Run Again

CHICAGO, July 24.—(INS)—Blue Larkspur's ambitious spurt to overtake Zev and become the highest money winning horse in history appeared doomed to failure today when it was learned that his breakdown may force the famous four-year-old from the turf forever.

In the last serious workout in preparation for Saturday's $35,000 handicap race the son of Black Servant and Blossom Time pulled a tendon in the weak right foreleg yesterday.

Veterinarians, after examining the leg, agreed that he would not run again this season and perhaps never again.

Blue Larkspur, the property of Col. E. R. Bradley, has won $272,000.

S. A. NET STAR ELIMINATED IN ESSEX TOURNEY

MANCHESTER - BY-THE-SEA, Mass., July 24.—East will meet west tomorrow in the final match of the annual Essex County club women's invitation singles tennis tournament when Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, seeded seventh, faces Marjorie Gladman of Santa Monica, Calif., the sixth seeded player.

This was decided today when Miss Morrill eliminated the fifth seeded player, Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento, Calif., 6-0, 6-2, and Miss Gladman defeated Josephine Cruickshank, of Santa Ana, Calif., 1-6, 6-4,6-1, in the semi-finals.

The extra set battle between Miss Gladman and Miss Cruickshank featured the semi-final play. Miss Gladman continued at the top of her game today. She was forced to a brilliant uphill struggle to conquer her fellow Californian after droppnig the first set at 1-6.

U. S. INVESTIGATES CARNERA'S CONDUCT

NEW YORK, July 24.—Primo Carnera and his retinue of managers today faced the task of convincing United States immigration authorities and the department of labor than his boxing tour was a "legitimate visit" and not a "commercial enterprise."

Primo, according to announcement by his American manager, Billy Duffy, has been granted a 20-day postponement of the deportation with which immigration authorities had threatened him.

Immigration authorities are represented as refusing to consider Carnera's extension of his visit unless he can produce evidence that his conduct in this country has been more exemplary than its public notices have implied.

STAR-ANAHEIM TILT TICKETS ON SALE HERE

A limited number of tickets for reserved seats to the fourth and last Santa Ana-Anaheim night baseball game of the 1930 season, scheduled for the Anaheim city park diamond tomorrow night, went on the market here today.

Selling at the usual rate, they were available to the first come, first served, at the El Corral service station, Third and Birch streets.

Santa Ana officials said they would be unable to honor telephone orders and that the tickets would be turned over only to fans who call for them personally.

As Santa Ana's reserved allotment is understood to be less than 300, most of the local delegation will have to take what seats it can get.

Record Crowd Expected

Temporary bleachers will be installed back of first and third base and no charge will be made for these vantage points, it is understood. Only the big grandstand back of home plate will be reserved.

The biggest crowd of the year is expected to tax the capacity of the Colonist park.

Two games ahead of La Habra and three out in front of Long Beach, Whittier and Anaheim, Manager Herb Salveson will make every effort t ocinch the chmapionship with a triumph over the disgruntled Valencias, very much nettled as a result of their 15-5 rout at Olive Tuesday.

If the Stars win, and Whittier tomorrow defeats La Habra, as many think the Quakers will, Santa Ana would enjoy a three-game lead ovre the entire field with only six more games on the schedule.

Cornelius To Pitch

Joe Cornelius, winner of 15 games for Santa Ana this summer, has definitely been assigned to work for the Stars.

Al Bushman is in line for the Anaheim assignment, it is understood.

Bushman was knocked out of the box in the second inning by Olive but he has nearly always been effective against Santa Ana and Manager George Pace is expected to nominate him rather than Joe Ochoa, who was driven to cover in two innings the last time he faced Salveson's cohorts.

Orville Schuchardt, former Santa Ana outfielder, will make his first appearance in an Anaheim uniform in this contest.

Schuchardt With Valencias

The two weeks required for his transfer from one team to another has expired and he will go to center field for the Valencias. His admitted offensive and defensive ability is sure to help the Anaheim out fit in the rest of its games.

Santa Ana also will have to face an old nemesis in "Cy" Mann, a slugger who has always been poison to Star pitchers. Mann but recently joined his old club following his return home from college. He is an outfielder.

"Doc" Blakley, shortstop, also is back with the Valencias after a tri pto Canada, so Anaheim will have its entire strength ready to shoot against Santa Ana.

BOOMS BROOKLYN

Isaac Morgan Boone, right, may be Ike to his friends but to Uncle Wilbert Robinson of the Robins, he's probably Daniel Boone or some other name, for names mean but little to Robbie. At any rate, the big bat that Ike brought from the Coast league to Brooklyn has been a boon to Robins, who continue to perch on the top bough of the National league tree. Ike is not the classiest fly-chaser in the game, but he wields such a potent stick at the plate that his fielding faults must be overlooked to a certain extent.

YOUNG RIVALS FIT: ZENAYDO NOW FAVORITE

Zenaydo Chavez and Joe Reese meet in a 10-round main event at the Orange. County. Athletic club here tonight. They are both 20, both Mexicans, both Santa Anans—but there their similarity ends.

Chavez is a terrific puncher but just an ordinary boxer. Reese is a beautiful boxer but just a fair puncher.

Chavez is cool, calm, collected. Reese is temperamental, like most brilliant youngsters.

They are both nice looking kids, but of different types. Chavez has unruly, curly hair. Reese's hair is as straight as it can be.

Critics Pick Chavez

Although most of the newspapermen and other "experts" think it is a toss-up with Chavez, the puncher, having just a shade the better of the dope, many fans are stringing along with Reese. "Fighting Joe" has been more consistent than Chavez, just another preliminary boy with his "iron mike."

Reese is fast, smart and clever. He is fully as experienced as his Santa Ana rival. In Bill Darnley, Joe probably has better management now than Chavez who is free-lancing and handling his own business affairs.

Zenaydo Chavez

Despite these requisites, Chavez looks like a good bet. He can't box but he can SOCK and one good right hand will end a fight where a hundred powder punches won't. Over the route—10 rounds—Chavez has a distinct advantage. He figures to slow Reese down to his speed with heavier punches, then beat him, perhaps knock him out.

On paper, Promoter H. T. Foust's big main event has everything—youth, speed, punch, color. Interest in the meeting of two of the best prospects developed in Orange county since the Renaissance of boxing is widespread, and the scrimmage should gross better than $1200, pretty good for a small club.

Boldt vs. Henandez

Frankie Boldt and Urban Hernandez, lightweights, collide in the six-round semi.

Boldt, crafty old-timer, looks good in this one although Hernandez has youth and ambition whereas Boldt, brutally speaking, is a "has-been." If it goes the distance, Boldt should outsmart the rugged Hernandez, however.

"Spike" Harvey and Mickey Thomas, welterweights, meet in the special event. The distance is six rounds for it, too. Harvey come to the Delhi club virtually unknown but touted as a hot number and a good bet to stop Thomas.

Packy McMullen and Cliff Burrier also will go six rounds, with Burrier the odds-on favorite. McMullen will be remembered as one of the entrants in the recent American Legion Walkathon here.

Ralph Garcia and Carl Seibel open the show. They are novice lightweights.

BY BERT DEMBY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 24.—Don Moe, Portland, Ore., defending champion, was one down to Johnny Lehman, Chicago, at the halfway mark of their 36-hole quarter-final round of the Western amateur tournament today.

Moe experienced trouble with his iron shots throughout the morning 18 holes and finally wound up with a score of 79, as compared with Lehman's 77. The two play the remaining 18 holes of their match this afternoon.

Jack Westland, Chicago, turned in a surprise during the morning when he finished the first 18 holes of his quarter-final play four up over Phil Perkins, British star.

Westland scored a 73 while Perkins could do no better than 77.

Charles Fish, Rockford, Ill., who eliminated "Chick" Evans yesterday, finished his morning round two down to Ira Couch, Chicago, Cough shot a 73 as compared with Fish's 76.

Consistent greens play allowed Gus Novotny, Chicago, to be 2 up over Bob McCrary, trans-Mississippi champion, at the end of 18 holes. Novotny's score was 74, while McCrary went around in 76. The Chicagoan was two down at the turn but a great rally put him in front at the halfway in.

Wolgast May Risk Crown With Dado

LOS ANGELES, July 24—Johnny Keys, manager of Midget Wolgast, Italian flyweight champion, today expressed his willingness to stage a title bout in Los Angeles with Speedy Dado.

Wolgast will meet Dado in a non-title bout here Tuesday. The Filipino will enter the ring overweight as Wolgast is working on a percentage, but Keys said Wolgast will put his title at stake in a later match if a suitable guarantee can be posted.

Don George Wins From Malcewicz

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Don George had climbed another step toward mat fame today by his victory over Joe Malcewicz, veteran wrestler, here last night.

George took the first and third falls of the match. Malcewicz won the second with a body slam.

Nick Lutze ended the semi-windup when he threw Lee Wykoff in the second fall with a flying tackle. Wykoff, who had won the first fall in 10 minutes, 32 seconds, broke two ribs in the encounter and was unable to continue.

PRINTERS LOSE AGAIN: LEGION ON TOP, 7 TO 6

"Fame," says the fifth grade reader, "is fickle," and Carlyle Dennis, manager of the baseball team that bears his name in the Santa Ana City league agreed with it today, just a few hours after his championship team of the first half had sustained its second straight defeat of the second half of the split schedule.

The proud Printers had their colors dipped again in the Bowl last nifht, this time by a score of 7 to 6, to the American Legion.

Paced by Shortstop Muckenthaler who bombed Bill Humphrey for four hits, the Legionnaires matched the Printers run for run until the sixth when they broke through with three runs and made their lead stand up.

Earl Jones, the Legion gunner, was hit almost as hard as Humphrey but kept his bingles just a little better scattered than the Dennis nominee.

There was plenty of free hitting, Ebersole and Mitchell collecting three blows to rival Muckenthaler.

The first half of the doubleheader witnessed the downfall of another first half contender, the Courthouse, which was overwhelmed by the Pacific Telephone company, 15-5. The Pole-Climbers scored in every inning after the first in turning in their second straight win of the new league.

A single game between the Eastern Oil company and the Orange County Builders' exchange tonight completes the weeks' schedule.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

To some people, mayhem would be too light a penalty for a Burt L. Standish imagination irritator if one of them concocted a tale wherein the hero arrives in town a total stranger and within a week makes a consistent loser a consistent winner. But that is exactly what Joe Cornelius did for the Santa Ana Stars, and with such an auspicious premier as a footing he is rapidly becoming known as the most successful pitcher in the Natinoal Night Baseball league.

Browsing through the season's records I find that Cornelius has a record for effectiveness that compares favorably with any ever made in this league.

The rugged right hander is not a strikeout pitcher. He does not wheel a terrific fast-ball at his victims, and for that reason there are carping critics in other cities who claim Cornelius is lucky and that his brilliant support is al that gets him by. I do not think so. I am willing to let the scorebook tell the story.

Since joining the Stars May 2, Cornelius has appeared in exactly 20 games. He has been declared the winning pitcher 15 times, the losing moundsman two times. Whittier is the only club in the confederacy which has taken his measure.

Cornelius has pitched 158-2/3 innings, about 17½ games.

He has allowed 37 runs, one every 4-1/3 innings—a little more than two runs a game.

He has permitted 119 hits, one for every one and one-half innings—approximately six a game.

Cornelius is not a strikeout pitcher and yet he has fanned 90 batsmen, an average of better than five a game.

He has walked only 22 men in all this time, an average of little more than one a game. That, I believe, is the secret of Cornelius' success. Control is the greatest asset of a night baseball pitcher, especially one who is not naturally endowed with tremendous speed.

Here is Cornelius' record in full:

May 2—Orange—8 runs, 6 hits in 6 innings.
May 6—La Habra—1 run, 6 hits in 9 innings.

"BANTAM" GOLF POPULAR

Hard-hearted bankers tell us that business is poor and that money is tight, but they must be spoofing after all. At least folks have plenty of do-re-mi to spend on "bantam" golf.

Santa Ana's vest-pocket courses are prosperous. Warm weather has brought the whole family outdoors.

Now the "Midget" links on North Main street and the "Tom Thumb" course on South Main are going to have some competition.

Brand new "bantam" layouts are or soon will be under construction at three points about the city.

Work already has begun on a big course at Third and Bush streets. A 50-foot hole will be one of its features.

Another layout is about ready for customers at Ross and Fourth streets.

Promoters also have asked permission of the city council to build at 830-34 North Broadway.

TODAY'S BEST LETTER

Today's best letter comes from George Peterkin, president of the National Night Baseball league. I have always respected "Pete" as an able, conscientious executive. Now I admire his sense of humor.

Enclosing a clipping of a story from The Register about District Attorney Z. B. West's Scotch terriers winning new honors, the new honors won by District Attorney Z. B. West's Scotch terriers, one of which is known as Peterkin of Balibu, Peterkin writes:

"Say, since getting roped in as president of this baseball league I have been forced to bow meekly while called all sorts of things. But Ye Gods, when I pick up your paper and read where that big stiff of a brother of yours has named a flea incubator after me—I refuse to be responsible.

"The mutt's moniker is 'Peterkin of Malibu!' Well, I don't get the Malibu part but I suppose I should be glad it wasn't Delhi.

"It was a case of sour grapes with Bert because he heard of our 'District Attorney.' You see we have a cat of considerable ancestry. We call him District Attorney because he roams a considerable district and has a voice that no jury could resist."

Division deputies declare that all indications point to one of the greatest deer hunting seasons that California has experienced in years. Besides being plentiful, the anicals are well distributed throughout the mountains.

Due to the rigid enforcement of our game laws, deer "poachers"

SHOOTING with SHUTE

by DENNY SHUTE

nalism I tried to show the importance of not slugging the ball and advised moving the right hand over on the shaft of the club to gain this end.

In explaining how I got the idea, perhaps your own game can be helped in some particular.

I will have to confess there was a bit of jealously connected with my discovery. After I had turned professional, I soon became envious of Horton Smith's spectacular success. Last winter, you remember, he won tournament after tournament and also a lot of money with uncanny regularity.

I was older than he and way down deep inside I felt there was something I could correct that kept me from being as successful as he was.

Down south that winter I watched Smith carefully. And I found out, I think, one thing I lacked that he possessed. It was in his manner of taking the club back.

He sort of dragged the clubhead along the ground at the beginning of his backswing, having the appearance of the wrists starting the action. His clubhead remained close to the ground until the first quarter of his backswing had been completed. I decided that was worth a try. It seemed logical that that method would give one a straight shot.

And it did. At Oakmont, in the national open in 1926, I had scored 81-80-81-83—325. Five or six shots every round went off the club just a little bit wrong. That, of course, meant trouble and usually a trap at Oakmont. Naturally my scores went blooey. You've got to be stright at Oakmont.

What I needed was straightness with woods and irons. So I copied that part of Horton Smith's swing. And I've got him to thank for a great deal of my success.

CRESS, BELL TO PLAY FOR NET TITLE SUNDAY

John Cress and Randolph Bell, undefeated leaders of the Santa Ana playground round-robin tennis tournament, will play for the championship Sunday afternoon at 2:30. This match is considered a toss-up. Both men have come through their preliminary matches without losing a set.

Bell, however, has a match to play with Earl Waycott Friday. Waycott and Eddie West also have one more set to go, each winning one when they met. Waycott got the first, 8-6, West the second, 7-5.

"Toby" White, junior college star, cinched the Class D title with streight-set victories over Lecil Slaback, 6-0, 6-2, and Carroll Merrick, a southpaw, 6-0, 8-6. White's prize was a handsome billfold, a gift from the Santa Ana book store.

Class B results:

F. W. Bettis defeated B. O. Scottlock, 6-4, 612, and Ray Foster 6-1, 6-0; C. D. Hardesty beat B. O. Scottlock, 6-1, 6-1; G. G. Smith won from B. O. Scottlock, 6-0, 6-2. K. C. Coulson defeated A. Anderson, 6-4, 12-10; R. D. Crowl beat A. Anderson, 6-1, 6-1; Ray Foster defeated H. Smith, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

have been scarce in this state during the past several years and this, in a way, accounts for the numbers of fine, healthy animals on the ranges. Reports have come into the division from time to time of law violations in various, remote districts but prompt action on the part of field men quickly eliminated the nuisance.

Deer are so plentiful this season that many farmers have complained the animals are doing much damage in the orchards and hay fields. However, the division has detailed experts to go into the field for the purpose of studying this problem with the idea of discovering a suitable remedy without destroying these valuable game animals.

With reasonable, intelligent hunting during the proper season, the deer population of the state man be maintained at a suitable figure, division officials declare.

FOUST PLANNING MATCHES

The Chavez-Reese bout tonight is not to be the only attractive offering the Orange County Athletic club plans for the summer.

Promoter Henry T. Foust is looking into the coming weeks and his "future book" already shows a couple of attractive matches.

Foust intends to rematch Tony Moreno and Jess Gabucco next Thursday night. Moreno was given a questionable decision over the Hollywood brownie last week.

Rematches have not done so well at Delhi, but probably because Foust has never been able to get the principals together soon enough. Rematches must be made while discussions wax warm. The Pastor Calope-Clayton Gouyd rematch flopped because it had grown cold over a period of six weeks.

Foust also has virtually closed with Paul De Hate, celebrated welterweight, to meet "Wild Man" Macias here August 7.

He also has the verbal promise of Speedy Dado to show at Delhi before the end of the summer.

Soil Packing Is Stopped

Have you ever figured out how much it costs you to do your work with equipment that packs your soil? Have you taken into consideration the amount of moisture that is lost through evaporation from packed land? Have you estimated how much more profit you would make from the bigger, better crops that are produced on soil that is not packed? If you knew definitely the answer to these questions, you would make sure that your work is done with "Caterpillars"—the tractors that will not pack your land.

DO NOT PACK THE SOIL

Every well-informed person knows that, with the weight of a "Caterpillar" Tractor supported on its broad tracks, soil packing is impossible. And "Caterpillar" Tractors have a great many other unique advantages. They do not slip—thus saving both time and fuel. They are easy to handle and comfortable to ride.

The unequalled endurance of "Caterpillar" Tractors was demonstrated recently when a "Caterpillar" TEN broke the world's record by operating continuously, pulling normal farm loads, for 481 hours without a stop.

You can't afford to experiment. Play safe by having all your work done by World's Champion "Caterpillar" Tractors.

Gentlemen:

Our business is contracting for the care of orchards and we are now taking care of some 1800 acres. In this work it is necessary that we not only have equipment that does the best possible job so that we can hold our customers, but equipment that is fast, economical and leaves but little time for repair.

You will notice that after trying other makes we have now standardized on your "Caterpillar" tractors exclusively, and are using seven of them on our work. They have been very satisfactory - they are far more reliable than anything else we use AND THE COST OF REPAIRS HAS NOT BEEN HALF THAT ONE-THIRD AS MUCH AS THE COST OF REPAIRS ON OTHER MAKES THAT WE HAVE USED.

I also want to say a word about the new Killefer Off Set Disc that we just purchased. Killefer was a long time getting out an Off Set Disc, but they certainly have one now that performs 100%. I am going to order some more as soon as work demands them. It does wonderful work, turns to the right or left with equal ease, and is built to stand the gaff.

Yours very truly,

22,659 PUPILS IN SCHOOLS OF ORANGE COUNTY

Orange county children are going to school in greater numbers than ever before.

Last year the county recorded a total of 17,299 elementary school pupils and 5,360 high school students in average daily attendance.

This was announced in Sacramento today by Walter E. Morgan, chief of the division of research and statistics of the department of education, in explaining the method by which the state of California aids counties in financing their schools.

"The state sets aside $30 for each unit of average daily attendance in elementary schools," said Morgan. "Elementary schools receive $700 for each teaching unit, the balance of the cost being prorated on the basis of average daily attendance.

"For high schools the fixed allotment is $2,200 to each school and the balance pro-rated on average daily attendance. Counties, of course, must match the state's apportionment, dollar for dollar for elementary schools and two dollars for one in high schools."

If a school district's attendance suffers, Morgan said, by fire, flood, epidemic or other public disaster, the average daily attendance is computed by taking the average for the preceding three years and adding or subtracting this figure from the previous year's average daily attendance.

California's public schools are now attended by an army of 660,297 children in elementary schools, together with 288,975 in high schools and 8,568 in junior colleges.

Los Angeles county, as usual, has more than a third of the state's school children. It has registered 243,030 in elementary grades, 91,605 in high school, and 2,975 in junior colleges. Alameda county is second with 52,846 in elementary grades and 21,520 in high school.

Youth Jailed On Car Theft Charge

Said to be wanted in Phoenix, Ariz., on a charge of grand theft in connection with the asserted theft of an automobile, a 17-year-old Santa Ana boy was arrested here this morning and will be held for juvenile authorities.

The youth, according to juvenile authorities, also is wanted in Santa Ana on a charge of forging several checks, these crimes alleged to have been committed within the past several days.

The youth also is an "escape" from the Preston school, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are owners of a tract of land in the city of Huntington Beach and claim the sole title to the property. The plaintiffs are asking that all claim to the property by the defendant be released.

ANAHEIM MAN HELD ON CHECK CHARGES

Felix Lugo, 21, of 1126 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, charged with issuing fictitious checks, was lodged in the county jail last night by Deputy Sheriffs Buckles and Thornhill. Today in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court he waived preliminary examination and was held to answer to the superior court in bail of $1000.

Lugo is said by deputy sheriffs to have been the partner of Ned Herman, Anaheim prize fighter, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of issuing fictitious checks. The two men are asserted to have issued one in several different towns in the county, including Anaheim, Olive, Orange and Richfield.

Lugo was picked up by local officers at El Monte after a search of several days.

Here's A Red Hot Tip For Men With Big Waistlines

NEW YORK MAN TELLS CONCISE STORY TO FAT MEN

Yes, Gentlemen: Writes W. R. Daniels, of Richmond Hill—"I have finished my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and have obtained the following results:"

1—"I have removed 3 inches from the belt line.

2—"Get up in the morning feeling 100 per cent.

3—"I am 25% more active.

4—"My mind is clearer.

5—"My wind has improved 25%.

6—"All skin eruptions have disappeared.

7—"My face and lips have color.

8—"When I go to bed I am motionless—sleep like a brick.

9—"Am 46 years old and feel 20 years younger."

Millions of men the world over are taking the little daily dose of Kruschen because they know that it keeps them everlastingly feeling fit and active—life really becomes a glorious adventure—well worth living.

Don't confuse Kruschen with the ordinary salts that are made for just one purpose (to act on the bowels).

Keep everlastingly before you the fact that Kruschen contains the six vital rejuvenating salts that nature put into the human body at the beginning of creation and these 6 minerals your body must have or you could not live.

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on sweets for a while—take the exercise which Kruschen will induce—persist in this method every morning of your life and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you can laugh at people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 vitalizing salts of Kruschen (Salts that your blood, nerves and glands must have to function properly)—have presented you with glorious health.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends—"One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money."

Leading druggists all over the world sell Kruschen Salts—you can always get it at Mateer's Drug Store, and Givens and Cannon who sell dozens of packages every week.—Adv.

The tire pictured is the handsome new Goodyear Heavy Duty in the 4.50–21 size (formerly 30 x 4.50)

Think of it!

Now you can buy this stunning new Heavy Duty GOODYEAR for only $12.00

(4.50–21 size) (formerly 30 x 4.50)

The tire shown in this advertisement is right now one of the most attractive bargains ever offered a car-owner.

It is the new and nationally popular Goodyear Heavy Duty Balloon.

One reason is the outstanding good looks and extraordinary merit of the tire; another reason is the amazingly low price at which it can now be sold.

The tire itself, as the name Heavy Duty implies, is big, stout, massively proportioned, armored with an extra-thick and extra-safe All-Weather Tread—and around its sleek black sidewall runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

Now* is the time to get YOURS

A striking feature is the way in which the outer rows of All-Weather blocks are prismed down into the sidewalls, as fresh and smart a touch as anything in modern design.

Goodyear builds this stunning new Heavy Duty for those who want to drive fast and far without worry, and who want extra immunity against punctures, blowouts, or tire troubles of any kind.

Because crude rubber is cheap this year, you can buy this special Goodyear in the size illustrated for only about a dollar more than you had to pay last year for an ordinary tire in the same size—and other sizes are priced in proportion.

This is a real opportunity to make your tire money stretch its farthest, and keen buyers everywhere are cashing it in by changing over to Goodyear Heavy Duty Balloons.

Just look at the tire and you'll heed the suggestion: Now is the time to get yours!

City Engineer Tells Of Fight For Gasoline Tax Fund

MONEY SOUGHT FOR PAYMENT ON NEW ROAD

Opening and construction of Santa Ana boulevard may not impose a very heavy tax burden on the taxpayers of Santa Ana, according to a declaration of Clyde Jenken, city engineer, at the meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club this morning.

Explaining efforts now being made by municipalities of the state to have supervisors apportion a share of the gasoline tax monies to the cities, and commenting on the request of cities of Orange county to the board of supervisors for distribution to the cities of 40 per cent of the gas tax money received, Jenken said that if the apportionment is made the money received by Santa Ana would be applied to payment of the new boulevard costs.

The city engineer pointed out that Santa Ana last year paid in gas tax and auto license fees $294,300, of which approximately $97,000 was returned to the supervisors, without one cent coming direct to the city.

Under the program for distribution to the cities of 40 per cent of the amount collected in each city, Santa Ana would get 40 percent of $97,000. The engineer said this would be sufficient to retire the boulevard district bonds falling due each year and leave a balance for use on other street programs. The total cost of the boulevard is $348,400.

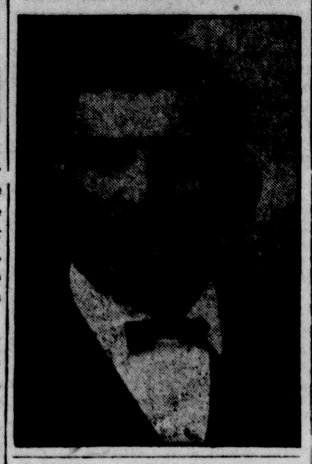

Robert Speed, who was secretary of the Greater Santa Ana association, organized to fight the recall of the city council, also spoke briefly at the meeting. Pointing out that an outstanding project in a community seldom is accomplished without some unwholesome incident, Speed commented on the fact that following the recall election, in which the council was supported in its progress for the opening of the boulevard, both factions buried all animosities, and started working together for the development of Santa Ana.

He complimented the city engineer and the five members of the city council responsible for the progressive move in opening the boulevard.

Dr. K. A. Loerch jr., presided, as program chairman and he introduced the Dayton-Alexander orchestra in a group of numbers and Master Nye Martin in vocal numbers. The lad, who has a remarkable voice for one of his age, was accompanied at the piano by his mother.

J. C. JOPLIN IN COUNTY OFFICE FOR 30 YEARS

J. C. Joplin, dean of the county's official family, today resumed the familiar task that he has been performing for the last 30 years—campaigning for the office of county treasurer.

First elected to the office in 1898, he served until 1902, in which campaign a court contest defeated him, though he gained a substantial majority of the votes. At the next election, in 1906, he regained the office and has held it continuously since that time, winning the elections of that year 1910, 1914, 1918, 1922 and 192[illegible].

A pioneer settler and mountain ranchman of the county, as well as its senior officer, Joplin is regarded as probably the most colorful figure in its public life, so far as career is concerned.

His residence here since January 1, 1876, a period of 54 years, out dates the origin of the county itself. Earliest records of the county find his name associated with its development and credit him with service even before he became a public official. He is the first official booster on record, having represented the county at the Chicago World's fair in 1893, where exhibits he had prepared won more awards that were captured by any county in the state, including Los Angeles, which spent many times the sum represented in the Orange county exhibit.

Again at the St. Louis world's fair in 1904 he was sent back to reap more honors for the county in the same way.

When he first became county treasurer, Joplin was the entire staff of that office, waiting on business callers, keeping all the books—in long hand—and drawing a salary of $125 per month. Then his office balances represented thousands of dollars. Today they are mentioned in terms of millions.

Today, as Joplin enters his ninth campaign, his friends explain his strong hold on the electorate by pointing to his demonstrated reliability as "watchdog of the treasury" and the public confidence it has earned; together with respect for his personal character, known here for half a century.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 24.—Twenty-two members of the Woman's club, escorted by the club president ,Mrs. C. Russell Cook, made a visit Monday afternoon to the Mission Farms Dairy, on invitation of A. H. Hultgren, owner of the dairy. Multgren, who is a scientific dairyman with years of experience, gave the club an instructive talk on the handling of milk, its food value and contents and the relative values of its elements.

Following the inspection of the dairy, the ladies were taken for a trip along the coast, and a tour of some of the fine gardens of the nearby locality. The tour ended at the clubhouse, in San Clemente, where tea was served.

The trip to the dairy was sponsored by the garden section of the club, as its regular monthly meeting. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Cook and Mrs. W. H. Barnes, chairman of the section.

NEW MID-WEEK SERVICES FOR CHURCH IN S. A.

An unusual experiment in mid-week religious services for summer time is being tried out at the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, under the leadership of the pastor, the Rev. Moffett Rhodes.

The topic of studies for the entire summer is attractively worded, "How to Enjoy Your Bible," and along with it, the Rev. Mr. Rhodes appears to be trying to show how to enjoy the Wednesday evening at the church.

Last night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock with about 80 people present, there was a period of song and devotions ,followed by the pastor's lesson on enjoyment of Bible reading. He selected, as a "literary unit," the story of Joseph in Egypt. Following a brief exposition of the setting of the story, he then read from the "American Translation" of the Old Testament, by Powis-Smith, the connected account of the life and experiences of Joseph, carrying this familiar figure from boyhood into Egypt. The story was read in continuous form by eliminating the material which occurs in the order of the Bible text which do not deal with Joseph, and in this manner, the whole account was given as a unit instead of piece meal, as when read in the usual manner. Great interest was developed in the method of reading, and in the human elements of the story as brought out by the rendering in modern speech.

Music was added to the service in a duet by Mary and Margaret Fine, who sang a favorite gospel hymn.

A social hour from 8:30 to 9 o'clock followed the service. Miss Evelyn Morrison, superintendent of the recreation and culture department of the Epworth League, was in charge. She was assisted by Mary Fine, who led the community singing, with Erma Baxter at the piano, and by Mary Blakeman, who had charge of games. Lecil Slaback gave solo numbers on his accordion, and the evening was closed with a brief period of devotions.

This general plan is to be followed on Wednesday evenings throughout the month of August. Next Wednesday will bring the completion of the story of Joseph, and other familiar stories, both from the Old and the New Testaments, will be taken up in turn.

"My purpose in this program," says Mr. Rhodes, "is to demonstrate that the Bible is just as enjoyable, when real intelligently, as any other fine literature, and to bring the people of the church together for food fellowship and better acquaintance."

JOFFRE STATUE UNVEILED

Two Hosteses Join In Entertaining at Garden Party

One of this week's most charming parties was that of Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Mary Finch and Mrs. E. M. Gardner were cohostesses, entertaining with a garden fete on the attractive grounds of the Gardner home on Orange avenue. Adding color to the plants and summer blossoms which formed the natural setting, were gladioluses and moon-faced dahlias arranged in large vases and baskets at attractive intervals. The ever-popular beach umbrella, that accessory so much in demand for such occasions, was much in evidence.

Bridge was played, and in harmony with the informality which was the keynote to the afternoon, there were no prize awards, and guests enjoyed their hours of "playing for the fun there was in the game."

During the refreshment hour, tables were spread with crisp white linens, and centered with baskets of baby zinnias, so adorable with their ruffled skirts and demure little faces. Delphinium and breath of heaven, too, added their note of delicacy to the bouquets.

Those present to share the pleasant afternoon with the hostesses, Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Gardner, were Mesdames George Kilson, John H. Rinshed, W. H. Hodgman, Lee Bryant, Margaret Church, Paul Carnahan, Fred Davis, L. C. Underwood, Albert Schultz and John Dowell.

Youthful Host Plans Birthday Dinner As Surprise

When young Carl Dodd of 606 North Garnsey street, yesterday suggested to his employer, Miss Mary Smart of the Mary Smart studio, that she and her mother, Mrs. William Smart, drop in at his home in the late afternoon, he was following a plan for staging a delightful surprise on Miss Smart in celebration of her birthday.

And it was truly a surprise when she arrived at his home, to find assembled there, a little group of her fellow photographers of the city, and everything in readiness for serving a truly delicious little supper, every detail of which had been worked out by the capable young host.

His artistic nature expressed itself in the charming arrangement of the tables, and in clever name cards by means of which the guests found the places designated for them. Even the appetizing menu had been prepared by the young man, who was warmly complimented by the guests upon the success of his scheme, especially since his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joheph A. Dodd, are absent on a summer outing.

Sharing his friendly plans, were the honoree, Miss Smart, her mother, Mrs. William Smart, Mrs. Helen Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Cochems.

Mr. and Mrs. Rees Welcome Infant Son

Occasioning much interest among a wide circle of friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rees, of Ritchey street, was the birth of a son to them just two weeks ago. And since then the little lad, an eight pound and a half baby, has been the center of attraction in the Rees household, and has had numerous callers who are anxious to get a glimpse of his chubby face and determine whether he resembles his father of his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Rees are already anticipating the pleasures of the future years when the little lad, christened Ronald Cleon, will pass as the twin of his brother, Donald Leon, just a little over one year his senior.

Jack Fisher Post and Auxiliary Enjoy Park Party

One of the joint social affairs which members of Jack Fisher post and auxiliary, Disabled American Veterans, are substituting for their business sessions during the summer season, was held last night when members and their families to the number of 60 or more, motored to Irvine park for supper.

The picnickers discovered that hundreds of others had sought the same delightful spot, and the scene was an animated one as the gay groups mingled around the blazing fires, and gathered at the long tables for feasting on the contents of well-filled picnic baskets. The Veterans and their wives had planned their festivity as a hamburger supper and the toothsome meat was prepared by various members of the auxiliary over one of the big grates built at the park for the convenience of the public.

As a sequel to the supper, the post and auxiliary members assembled in the pavilion where dancing was a popular feature with the whole park crowd, while the children sought the joys of the playgrounds until darkness fell.

Club Meeting Honors Birthdays of Four Members

That lively group comprising the S. O. A. club held a most enjoyable meeting yesterday afternoon, when they were entertained by Mrs. Leland Eubank in her home on North Bristol street, the occasion being an observance of the birthday anniversaries of four of the members. These honored guests were Mrs. D. H. Thompson, Mrs. J. P. King, Mrs. S. A. Fisson and Mrs William Batt.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in the dining room, whose prettily appointed table was expressive of the yellow and white color scheme carried out in all of the decorations. Forming the colorful centerpiece was a bowl of white asters intermingled with delicate lemon-hued blossoms. Yellow tapers and nut-cups added their note to color harmony. A white birthday cake was a tribute to the four honorees.

Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon, and results of the enjoyable contest showed that Mrs. Daisy McGee held high score, Mrs. William Batt, second, and Mrs. F. Higgins, low.

Those enjoying the afternoon's pleasures with the hostess, Mrs. Eubank, were Mrs. D. H. Thompson, Mrs. J. P. King and Mrs. S. A. Fisson, both of Anaheim; Mrs. William Batt, Mrs. George Merriman and Mrs. F. Higgins, of Orange; Mrs. Daisy McGee and Mrs. Mary Rutherford.

Dr. and Mrs. Paterson Present Al Fresco Dinner

Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Paterson of 2415 Heliotrope Drive were hosts at a delightfully informal party recently, when they entertained their guests with an al fresco dinner early in the evening. The grounds of the Paterson home are especially fitting for such an occasion, and the attractive patio, which forms the setting for the fireplace, was very popular with the merry group.

Those sharing in the evening's pleasures with their hosts, Dr. and Mrs. Paterson, were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Paterson of Modesto, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Seaman of Whittier, Mrs. L. Hiatt, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore and their daughter, Helen, of San Pedro, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Paterson.

The committee in charge of the successful evening included Mrs. Jack Shaw, Mrs. C. I. Reagan, Mrs. Rena Wheeler, of Anaheim, Mrs. Zelpha Pierson of Fullerton, Mrs. Lena Markwalder, and Miss Louise Markwalder.

A variety of diversion awaited the guests following the dinner hour, and included card games, dancing and boating.

During the short business session of the finance committee, it was decided to hold a public card party Tuesday evening, July 29, at 8 o'clock in the Knights of Columbus hall. Mrs. Adolph Erickson is in charge of the arrangement for the bunko group, while Mrs. John H. Shaw has been appointed as head of the bridge committee.

Los Angeles Styles Prove Interesting To Santa Anans

Offering its lure to Santa Anans the three-days of style showings held in Los Angeles under the direction of manufacturers of that city, reached its climax yesterday at the Hotel Biltmore, and attracted among thousands of onlookers, many from this city, eager to see what Southland designers and manufacturers offered towards the style trend of the autumn season.

Among those going from here for the afternoon display were Harriet Rutherford Bonnell and Mrs. Hazel Hill of the Rutherford store on North Main street, both of whom expressed the liveliest interest in the styles and materials originated here on the coast. They were intrigued by the quaint loveliness of the models shown, declaring that the trend towards old-fashioned feminine in dress, was strikingly exemplified. Long flowing lines, graceful draperies, flowing sleeves, laces, and all the graceful details of an earlier generation seemed expressed in the gowns modeled, while materials were unusually rich and lovely.

They were especially impressed with a silk crepe and wool mixture originated by the Southland manufacturers, which seemed to lend itself equally well to the gracefully draped costumes and to the more distinctly tailored types.

The two were joined for dinner and the evening program held at the Shrine auditorium, by Miss Myrtle Rutherford, Mrs. Alice Golden, Miss Betty Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. William McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lindig and Lock McDonald. The style show of the evening was a blaze of brilliant color and design, and was accompanied by a delightful musical program. The presence of many noted film stars added interest to the affair.

Mrs. Bonnell and Mrs. Hill just recently completed additional courses in the Gossard Corset school of Los Angeles, Mrs. Bonnell taking special post-graduate work. With the addition of Mrs. Agnes Lindig, who also holds a diploma from this school, it makes three diplomas now held by saleswomen in the Rutherford store.

Rebekahs

Torosa Lodge

Wednesday night's meeting of the Torosa Rebekah lodge in I. O. O. F. hall was conducted very successfully by the newly installed officers headed by Miss Muriel Kuhl, noble grand. During the business sessions plans were discussed for the entertainment of Mrs. Fannie L. Barker at the next meeting, when she will make her official visit as district deputy president.

Business then yielded to the entertainment features of the evening and a series of enjoyable games was presented under the direction of Miss Kuhl, chairman in charge of the program. Mrs. Nona Lacy took first prize in the games with consolation going to Herbert A. Allen. The serving of refreshments brought the pleasant session to a close.

Informal Bridge Group Holds Last Meeting Until Autumn

Mrs. Lee Bryant was hostess at a charming little bridge party last evening when she entertained an informal club in her home at 112 East Walnut street. Deep tones of pink, graduating into shades of red was the prevailing color note of the evening, prettily expressed in the huge pom-pom dahlias and stalks of glads which were placed throughout the rooms.

When scores for the evening's diversion were added, Mrs. Faymond Underwood was awarded prize for high score, while Miss Dorothy Dresser's score entitled her to second prize.

Those present other than the hostess, Mrs. Lee Bryant, were Mesdames A. P. Dresser, Clayton Hutchins, Clyde Martin, Frank Cope, L. C. Underwood, Raymond Underwood, Agnes Montgomery and the Misses Vena Belle and Louise Bryant, Dorothy Dresser and Mayme Brightwell.

The group will not meet again until later in the season.

Grand Central Folk Seek Vacation Outings

That summer vacation spirit that characterizes the Southland just at present, seems to have manifested itself among the residents of the Grand Central apartments to a marked degree, and several of them are enjoying interesting outings and visits at various points.

Miss Marie Jacobson, who is teacher of hygiene on the junior college and high school staff, left a few days ago for Los Angeles where she is spending the week as the guest of friends. Lake Norconian club exerted its charms over Miss Florence Whistler and Miss Martha Howard and they are enjoying the varied attractions offered by that popular inland resort.

Mrs. Mae Barker and her young daughter Thelma, agreed with the popular Catalina Island saying, "In all the world, no trip like this," and sailed for that delightful spot several days ago, where they are guests at the St. Catherine, while Mrs. Volney S. Rowley chose Hollywood and a delightful stay there as guest in the home of her daughter.

WESTMINSTER

Joe Brannon, nephew of Mr. Little, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Little, has friends from Hollywood with him Sunday, Clifford Bryan and Charles Jeffries.

Frank Johnson, who has been on vacation from the Santa Fe oil fields, has returned to work, his vacation having expired.

Mr. and Mrs. William Little were recent visitors in Laguna Beach with Mrs. Little's mother.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The trip to Bagdad was real slow. Of course the small mules couldn't go much faster than a lazy walk, but everyone had fun. When they had been upon their way for hours, the Travel Man said, "Say! I think we'd best camp out before the sinking of the sun.

"When night time comes, we'll all turn in and then at dawn we will begin another of our long trips. Let's find a camping spot." So down the road a mile or two they found a spot that would just do. They knew it would be comfortable. It wasn't one bit hot.

Some small pup-tents the mule man had were soon unpacked. The bunch was glad to help him pitch them on the ground and set up quite a camp. When Scouty crawled right into one, wee Clowny had to have some fun. He pulled a rope and let the tent go down. My, what a scamp!

For several days they camped and slept, but all the time they slowly kept right on their way toward Bagdad. Then their journey reached its end. A hotel roof was shortly found with beds where they could all sleep sound. The Tinies thanked the Travel Man. On him they could depend.

He always worked things out just right and my, how they all slept that night. 'Twas cool away up on the roof and such a new treat, too. Said Scouty, loudly, "This is rare to snooze out in the sky-high air." And so they slept till dawn and then they wondered what they'd do.

The Travel Man soon said, "Well, I will take you to a place nearby where you can eat, just like you've slept—out in the open breeze." Then to this spot they promptly went. Each one ate to his heart's content. When they had finished with their meal they loafed around at ease.

(The Tinymites take a ride in a queer boat in the next story.)

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

DARK to DAYS—There'll be DARK DAYS of practice ahead for you if you can't make a par three on this short hole.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 24.—(UP)—Hedging pressure and selling by locals during the latter part of the session caused wheat to ease but the market held small gains at the close of the Board of Trade today. There was some selling on reports of Russian sales though these were attributed to propaganda. Corn recovered from heavy profit taking and selling by holders of wheat around noon to close with a small gain. Oats were off slightly with wheat.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to ⅝c higher, corn was ⅝ to 1⅞c higher an doats were unchanged to ¼c lower. Provisions were firm.

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, July 24.—(UP)—Selling in various sections of the list failed to halt advancing tendencies in public utility stocks on the curb market today and, after absorbing considerable realizing in the early trading, the utility group encountered good demand and advanced to higher levels. Price movements in other sections of the list were highly irregular as a result of mixed operations.

Advances ranging from fractions to more than 2 points took place in Electric Bond & Share, American & Foreign Power Warrants and others.

Various individual issues throughout the list encountered renewed buying and scored good advances over previous closing levels. American Cyanamid B, American Tobacco new stock, Corroon & Reynolds and Ford, Lt., were prominently strong. On the other hand, Bahia Corporation ran into considerable profit taking following yesterday's advance and sold off almost 2 points.

Oils continued dull and were easier as a result of pressure on Vacuum and Humble. The former sagged a point. Investment trusts held within a narrow range, with exception of Transamerica which declined almost a point. The issue will be traded in on the Big Board tomorrow, listing having been approved and only a few minor details waiting to be cleared up.

Great Fun

The Best Yet In Gliders

The PLAYBOY FOLDING GLIDER is shot straight up 100 or 150 feet by a special rubber. This is possible because in the folded position it goes up like an arrow. The air holds the wings folded until the glider reaches the pinnacle, when they open. It will then make one loop and gradually circle and glide to the ground.

Provides Hours of Fun

As the PLAYBOY GLIDER does not depend upon a small propeller and lightness to lift it into the air, it is made very sturdy. The wooden nose protects it if shot head on into a wall. If a wing hits any obstruction, it simply folds back and after freeing itself the wing opens and continues its flight.

MY FIVE ACRES
Can you say with pride, "My Five Acres?" You can if you have a little foresight and appreciate the value of owning a real good young grove at a fair cost. This one in mind has the best of soils, healthy young trees, a windless and frostless district. It's good to look at, profitable to own, a substantial investment, something to be proud of. Let us prove it to you.

EVENING SALUTATION

"It takes a whole lifetime to build the character of a noble man."—Prof. Arthur Compton, scientist.

CRITICISM OF THE SENATE

There seems to be a great deal of uncalled for and unjustified criticism of the United States Senate these days. It has come to be our most famous indoor sport. Some of it may be justified. We have not agreed with the Senate in its handling of international matters at times, and sometimes we have been a bit impatient with its prolonged debates. In the criticism we have shared the attitude of many others better than ourselves.

But after all is said and done, something ought to be said for the Senate. It is one of the few deliberative bodies in which free debate is still permitted. The House of Representatives, by reason of its size and unwieldly condition, has almost ceased to be a deliberative body. It is a body in which committees function, but within iron-clad rules dominated by the close corporation of leaders. Intended to be the popular branch, closest to the people, it has long ago surrendered that place to the Senate, which the framers of the Constitutiton intended to be the conservative body to hold down the representatives closer to the people.

In the Senate the interests of the people have been looked after much more closely than in the House of Representatives. The people have had greater champions of their rights there than in the House. Men like Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, Nye of North Dakota, Capper of Kansas, Brookhart of Iowa, and Walsh of Montana, to mention the more outstanding of that group, have done much to conserve the rights of the people against the constant inroads of an invisible government. The contribution of Borah of Idaho—although we have found ourselves in disagreement with him at times,—has been invaluable to the people of the country as a whole. It is to the Senate that we owe the uncovering of many of the scandals which were rapidly subverting all the best phases of democratic government.

It is not necessary to agree with all that is done by the Senate, or with individual members of that body who sometimes abuse the privileges of free and extended debate, but it is something worth while to the people to have one branch of the government which is deeply concerned for political honesty and social justice and individual liberty under the law. The Senate has been much freer from partisan political domination than the House, and has acted in a friendly independent manner when questions of great public benefit were under discussion.

We are under the impression that a great deal of the criticism of the Senate has been encouraged by interests which have been frustrated in their efforts to get something out of the government which conflicted with the larger rights of the people. Many people have been misled by the subtlety and the plausibility of much of that sort of criticism. We should be grateful that there is one body in our national government organism in which members still have the opportunity to proclaim the larger interests of the people.

Quite a few students nowadays are quite good on figures, if you include co-eds.

RUDY VALLEE AT HOME

Rudy Vallee is spending a few days in his home at Westbrook, Maine, and the town has gone wild over its idol. The popular crooner who has been admired and adored by half the female population of the United States is a good deal of a man after all if the report of an interview with him in his home town is correct. The hero of "The Vagabond Lover" does not care much about "girl stuff." There is something in it that is repulsive to his "puritanical training and make-up." He hopes that when his "talkie" days are over, he may live in the minds of people as somewhat of an institution, instead of in memory as the "hot lover."

There are always two sides to a man's nature, and Rudy Vallee runs true to form. He seems to recognize that his present popularity is temporary. Not many years and his name will not be known except in the minds of those who lived in the days of his fame. The golden flow will cease. That he has thought of that day, and is preparing for it, is much to his credit. If, as he says, he has been gratified by the receipt of letters which tell of how his songs have comforted the sick and the dying, he cherishes the hope that his later years may be much more creditable to him than these years of popularity. All of which suggests that the worth of a man can be determined only as we know all sides of his nature. Alas, for some it is forever hidden; the worst is in evidence; the best never finds expression.

A PEARL OF WISDOM FROM A NEW CITIZEN

An applicant for naturalization in Oklahoma City, a Czecho-Slovakian, was asked by the judge how United States officials were elected. "By advertising," was the prompt reply.

That was not so bad. He had seen the election posters on the billboards and the long advertisements in the newspapers, and he actually jumped to the conclusion that such was the method by which candidates got their offices. The political candidate who does no advertising in these days stands about as much chance to be elected as an English Cockney has of becoming the King of England. Actually it is ballots that count; but the means that gets the right kind of ballots in the ballot box is determined by the ability of a candidate to make himself known. And advertising does that.

THE COMIC STRIP

Mr. Heywood Broun in a current number of the Nation, comes to the defense of the comics, if they need any defense. But there have been, and possibly still are those who deplore the comics and their influence upon children. Mr. Broun says that we must credit the comic strips of the newspapers with the increase in courage and gallantry of spirit among the boys and girls of this day over a former day. The body of the article is devoted to the author's own fears when a boy, fear of the circus animal, fear of this and fear of that.

"The indestructability of human fiber," says Mr. Broun, was a concept which I never achieved . . . If I had only grown up receiving the comforting intimations of the comic strips I might not have led a frightened childhood nor left at last my adolescence in exchange for timorous manhood . . .

"I would not commend the comic strip as an agency for inculcating good manners. It seems to me that the frolicsome children of these pictures sometimes go too far in their search for good clean fun. But they do set up in the impressionable a fine and simple faith in the toughness of the human carcass and the imperviousness of the human spirit. I was taught in school that there is no such word as fail, but my faith in this fact was never lively, even though I copied the maxim many times. Much more hearty would have been my belief if only I could have lived for a few passionate moments each day with the heroes of the comic page and learned to be a lot more like them."

The youngsters learn to "Dare to be a Daniel," nowadays from the comic strip rather than the Sunday school, according to this writer. The comics are too popular to need defense but these words may be solace to the mind of some parent who remembers an age that was different and more to their taste.

The Chicago judge who said that a man who would hide behind a woman's skirts must be a worm was right as to dimensions anyway.

ENGLAND STILL WEDDED TO ITS ANCIENT CUSTOMS

It is difficult for an American at times to understand English politics. Here is a labor government in power, and yet that government conserves with punctilious concern many of the ancient customs which smack of feudalism and aristocracy. When a labor member of the House of Commons recently ran away with the mace, which is the symbol of parlimentary authority, he was immediately named by the Speaker for disorderly conduct, and his suspension was moved by Premier MacDonald. Not since Cromwell ordered the mace to be thrown out of the window had this sacred symbol been treated with such indignity.

The devotion of the English people to everything that pertains to the Crown accounts for these inconsistencies. It accounts for the existence of the Established Church, the House of Lords, and the prerogatives of the Crown itself. Yet there is no government in the world in which the personal rights of the individual are so jealously conserved.

Electricity For Schoolgirls

New York Times

A study of electricity is included in the courses of many English schools. It covers only practical applications. The correct use, care and repair of modern household equipment, such as irons, grills and toasters, is taught.

The innovation has been largely due to the efforts of the Electrical Association for Women. Since its formation in 1904 the organization has held that every schoolchild—and particularly every schoolgirl—should have a practical knowledge of electricity. The blowing out of a fuse, or the burning out of an element in an iron, would not then be terrifying and mysterious to her. A wire pulled from its socket, or a bad fuse, should not hold up the toast for breakfast, or keep the day's ironing from being done. A handy girl, given the proper instruction, should be able to manage such minor repairs as well as a handy man.

The new courses are enthusiastically received. Teachers themselves were the first to ask for special instruction so that they could direct their pupils. Schools must be equipped with the latest apparatus, and the Electrical Association is working through local departments of education to see that it is provided

Such elementary instruction may set girls in the way of earning a living. Women in England serve as maintenance inspectors, seeing that household appliances in their district are kept in repair and up to date. They also do good work as designers of household appliances, and at least one woman makes a living by wiring country villages.

Exchange of Visitors

Riverside Daily Press

American motorists are expected to spend around $300,000,000 in Canada this summer. The great dominion north of the border has unrivaled attractions as a vacation land—and we're not speaking of its liquor laws now, either. Citizens of the United States are discovering the fact in increasing numbers every year.

However, Canadians do a good deal of touring, too, and a lot of them cross the border to do it. In 1929, according to dominion government figures, Canadian tourists spent more than $111,000,000 in the United States, and more than 619,000 Canadian automobiles went south over the boundary. The figures probably will be higher this year.

Here is reciprocity of the finest sort. That famous unfortified frontier is in no danger as long as the two nations exchange friendly visits on such a scale.

Liquor and Athletes

Daily Oklahoman

Writing in an American magazine, an athlete asserts that liquor is defeating our athletes. The indictment perhaps has much truth in it, but the joker in the story is the clever propaganda to the effect that the damage is due to bad booze and that prohibition is responsible.

It is not astonishing that some sporting lights lend themselves to this insidious line of stuff . . . The public, however, is not as easily duped in such matters as in former years. Time was when clever publicity work waould have convinced a gullible public that a brew of smartweed would obviate the need of a college course, but the average reader of today, made wise in many things by expensive experience, is given to careful analysis of everything he reads.

The Five O'Clock Quitter

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

COMPENSATION

Th erobin glories in the song
That while, as on a twig he perches,
Re-echoes all the morning long
Among the slender, slanting birches.
And when he wearies of his lay
And toward the distant wood goes winging,
He has a look that seems to say:
I guess that's singing!

And then the crow swells out his throat
As if it were the way of warning,
And pours forth note on raucous note,
Which desecrate the quiet morning.
And when the last harsh accents fade,
He gives a croak designed to tell us:
"Some music, folks, I think I made
That robin jealous!"

The donkey has no sort of doubt
That any creature who is near him
The while his strident bray rings out
Will thrill with eager joy to hear him.
The ugly whip-poor-will assumes,
His graceless persons contemplating,
That his poor dowdy brownish plumes
Are fascinating.

But more widespread is happiness,
Because the poorest living creature
From birth to death may never guess
His lack in voice or form or feature.
We may be quite unknown to fame,
We may be nature's clumsy blunders,
Yet we imagine, just the same,
That we are wonders!

NO EXPERIENCE

Dr. Wiley says that the automobile affords no exercise. But he probably has a chauffeur to change his tires for him.

TOO WISE

Our recent fishing experiences convince us that even the trout seem to be familiar with the theory of self-preservation.

For Middle-Sized Purses

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

The Three Bears had the true spirit of hospitality. A visitor dropping into their apartment could find, by trial and error, and at no extra cost, exactly the bed that suited her size. But the modern Goldilocks, dropping into a hospital, has not always so easily found suitable accommodations for self and pocket-book. There has been beds for short purses, and beds for long purses; but beds for middle-sized purses have, until recently, been few—but not, alas, far between.

Hospitals originally were designed with large wards, primarily for the poor. Later, single rooms were added for those who were able to pay for privacy. Later still, a middle class of patients clamored for admittance. They wanted not only the expert care freely given to the poor, but also the privacy richly paid for by the rich.

They got their privacy. But when they reflected on what it had cost them, they sometimes regretted, for a discouraged moment, that they were neither rich nor poor.

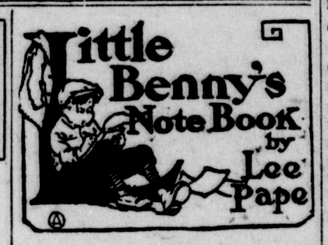

Recently, the Committee on the Cost of Medical Care undertook to find our how the hospitals of America are meeting the demands of patients with middle-sized pocket-books. The Committee found that more and more hospitals are providing middle-priced beds: more privacy at less cost. The traditional division of the hospital into large open wards and single rooms is giving place to a graduated series of accommodations, at graduated prices.

In 1908, fully 28 per cent of beds in hospitals designed by architect members of the American Hospital Association were in wards of ten beds or more. In 1908 only 7 per cent were in such wards.

The higher standard of living—summed up in a 34 per cent gain in real wages since 1914—is reflected in the care of the sick.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

STATISTICS: GOOD AND BAD

The American Medical Association and the National Education Association have issued a report of their joint committee on health problems.

The statistics of this report deserve sustained study by all Americans.

Some of them tell a good story that should make us happy.

Some of them tell a bad story that should make us hurry.

This report, as it lies on my desk, is at once a report on the past and marching orders for the future.

Here are some of the salient points of the report:

The nation's death rate has been halved since 1900—a gratifying record for little more than a quarter century fight!

Before 1900, the nation's death rate ran from 20 to 30 per thousand.

In 1928, the nation's death rate had dropped to 12 per thousand.

In 1900, sixteen of every hundred babies died before reaching one year of age.

Today, only seven of every hundred die before reaching their first birthday.

In 1900, tuberculosis took the life of 194 out of every 100,000. Today only 79 of every 100,000 die from tuberculosis.

The death rate from typhoid and paratyphoid has dropped from 34 per 100,000 in 1900 to less than 5 per 100,000 in 1928.

But, gratifying as these figures are, there is another side to the picture.

American taxpayers today pay over $927,000,000 annually for the care of the physically handicapped and for victims of heart disease and tuberculosis.

$800,000,000 for victims of tuberculosis.

—$90,000 for victims of heart disease.

$87,000,000 for the physically handicapped.

There is still a man's sized job ahead!

OUR CHILDREN

A FINE RESERVE

Children babble secrets. Older folk listen and gossip. They have been known to ask pointed questions and to applaud the little babbler's brilliant answers. That, of course, made the little babbler very pleased with himself so he thought up more bright things to tell and the excited grown folk listened greedily and passed along the stories where they could do the most harm. You wouldn't think that grownup people would do that, would you?

By and by with much pain and trouble some of the stories are unravelled. Then the little one is blamed and punished for telling tales, for disclosing family secrets, for telling lies about his own people. That is hardly fair when everything is considered.

Little children love an audience. If they find they can interest their audience by a certain type of story they will keep telling it until they become, by practice, artists at the trick. At the same time they cultivate an utter lack of that fine reserve that marks the well-bred, intelligent man and woman.

All children, the very best of them, will make mistakes about what to tell and what not to tell until they arrive at that level of intelligence where our teaching on the subject can be made to register. It is not possible to tell a four-year-old child that it is in bad taste, it is disloyalty, it is disgraceful to break the fine reserve that forbids strangers prying into one's family affairs. But it is possible to sow the seed of that idea in the very beginning.

We can teach a child to do his talking to us. We will be his audience, and as enthusiastic as he wishes. We will praise him for his good story, laugh at his jokes, applaud his bright remarks so that he will not need any other audience. Drop a word now and then that suggests how much better it is to tell stories to the family than to other people.

When visitors come to the house keep the children out of their way. If it is necessary or pleasant to have the children greet the visitor, bring them in for that purpose and conduct them out again when the greetings are over. They should be busy with their own childish affairs. In that way you establish the fine reserve we so appreciate in young people.

When the children are old enough to come to the dinner table with the elders they are taught not to speak unless they get the signal to do so. The grownups are to lead the conversation and indicate to the children their part in it. Nothing so breaks down the reserve and good manners of children as the mistaken idea that they have the first and last word in the conversation. When dessert is brought in it is pleasant to have the children join in the conversation which is then toned to their interests.

If there is no family standard of manner and manners it is a bit difficult for a child to maintain one abroad, is it not?

ALEXANDRE DUMAS

On July 24, 1802, Alexandre Dumas, the greatest French romantic novelist and the greatest storyteller of the world, was born at Villers-Cotterets.

Dumas was the grandson of the Marquis Alexandre Davy de la Pailleterie and a negress, both of Haiti.

As a writer Dumas is remarkable for creative rather than for artistic genius.

Dumas inclined at first to law and was apprenticed to a notary of Soissons where he saw a play that determined him to seek his fortune on the stage.

He was, at one time, a secretary in the household of Louis Philippe.

Although his best work was almost all done between 1843 and 1850, in one way or another Dumas is responsible for 298 closely printed novels.

At the last came four years of somewhat senile poverty, relieved by the son whose boyhood he had neglected and whose youth he had misguided.

He died on Dec. 5, 1870.
